3D TERM CLIQUE PUTS ROOSEVELT 'DRAFT' IN GEAR

Florida Following in Ohio's Footsteps.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—President Roosevelt's receptive candidacy for a third term today passed into the long expected stage of a "draft Roosevelt" movement.

Following several conferences between the President and former congressman Charles West of Ohio, one time White House lobbyist on Capitol hill, the Ohio Democratic organization announced that the Ohio delegation to the Democratic national convention will support Mr. Roosevelt for a third term—or any one he may designate as his choice for his successor.

Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] followed with a prediction that the Florida delegation will be committed solidly to the renomination of the President. Senator Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.] said that petitions of Roosevelt delegates will be placed in circulation in Pennsylvania on Feb. 3. He forecast unanimous support of the President for a third term by the delegation from that state.

Expect Lukewarm Declination.

Rumors persist that the President at an appropriate moment will announce that he is not a candidate to succeed himself, that he does not want another term, that what he wants most is to retire to private life, etc.

The third term boosters, all of whom enjoy the peculiar confidence of the President and are in constant communion with him, are not going to be discouraged or dissuaded by any such disclaimers by Mr. Roosevelt of an ambition to round out 12 years in the White House.

That is, they are not going to be discouraged or dissuaded, so long as Mr. Roosevelt does not definitely and unequivocally close the door to a renomination—so long as he leaves the door ajar, as did President Calvin Coolidge with his "I do not choose to run;" so long as he does not slam the door shut as did Gen. William T. Sherman when he said: "I will not run, if nominated; I will not serve if elected."

In Keeping with Strategy.

So long as the President leaves the way open to draft him, any gesture he may make to wave the crown aside will be entirely in keeping with the tactics of the third term boosters, whose first objective is to dispel the popular prejudice against violation of the tradition limiting the presidential tenure to eight years.

To accomplish this purpose their strategy is to depict the President as extremely reluctant to stand for another term and only to be persuaded by a great popular demand for his continuance in office—a demand so widespread as to indicate popular repeal of the unwritten law against a third term.

The Ohio third term boost was given in an announcement by Arthur L. Limbach, chairman of the Ohio Democratic state central committee, that Ohio's 52 delegates in the Democratic national convention will be committed nominally to Senator Vic Donahey [D., Ohio] as the state's favorite son, but that in the event of a first ballot stampede to Roosevelt, Ohio will fall in line.

Picks Douglas to Get the Nod.

Limbach expressed the personal opinion that the President will decline a third term and designate Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the United States Supreme court as his choice for the nomination.

The Limbach pronouncement followed several conferences between the President and West, who was unsuccessful in persuading Mr. Roosevelt to authorize in writing the use of his name as presidential candidate in the Ohio primary, as provided by the Ohio law. The President declined, according to one version, because he thought it too early to commit himself on the third term question, but, according to another version, because such acquiescence would conflict with the "draft Roosevelt" tactics.

According to the representations made to the President by the Ohio

FILES PETITION TODAY; COMISKEY HEIRS TO FIGHT

The First National Bank of Chicago, executor of the estate of the late J. Louis Comiskey, will file a petition in Cook county Probate court today asking permission to sell the Chicago White Sox baseball team. The action will be based on the executor's opinion that the operation of a major league team involves so many financial uncertainties it will be to the best interests of the estate to sell. Thomas J. Sheehan, attorney for Mrs. Grace Reidy Comiskey, the widow, said he will contest the action.

DEFENSE ADMITS BROWDER USED FAKE PASSPORT

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—Counsel for Earl Browder acknowledged late today that the American communist leader used an assumed name in obtaining a passport he carried on a European trip during which it is presumed he visited soviet officials in Moscow. Browder is on trial before Federal Judge Alfred Coxe on charges of misusing passports.

He is accused specifically of using a passport obtained thru false representation. The government claims he used the aliases George Morris and Albert Henry Richards on visas and borrowed the name of Nicholas Dozenberg, a one time communist, who now has pleaded guilty to passport misuse and is expected to testify for the government.

Prosecution Charges Deception.

"We do not deny," said George Gordon Battle of the defense counsel, "that he [Browder] obtained the Richards passport in 1931 under that name.

"It is in evidence that he is an official of the communist party, and certainly a man in his position in that party could not be blamed for traveling under an assumed name thru the countries of Europe at that time."

Battle's effort to justify Browder's use of an alias was made in answer to the prosecution statement before the jury of 11 men and one woman. The prosecution had asserted that the communist leader deceived the American government with what was called a bulk of false material while seeking the protection of its passports in travels to soviet Russia and other foreign lands.

While Federal Attorney John T. Cahill thus denounced him Browder sat slouched deep in his tilted chair, his eyes blinking slowly and his hand occasionally seeking the part in his graying hair.

Does Not Mention Party Job.

Prosecutor Cahill, in his statement of what he expected to show, said his case would rest largely on documentary and handwriting evidence. He never once mentioned Browder's position in the communist party.

"We are here to try a passport case," Cahill told the jury, "and we are going to confine ourselves to that passport case. We are here to try facts. We will show the use of false names, false birthdays, and that this bulk of false material was presented to assure the safe conduct granted American citizens abroad.

"The proof will show that on three occasions Browder obtained passports on which his picture appeared, and that he obtained them under the name of Nicholas Dozenberg, born in Russia, so the application stated; George Morris, born in Lawrence, Kas., and Albert Henry Richards, stated to have been born in Oshkosh, Wis.

Moscow Visit Mentioned.

"Dozenberg is Browder in the one, Morris is Browder in the second, Richards is Browder in the third.

"We will further show that in 1921 during the life of the Dozenberg passport Browder was visiting in Moscow, and that again in 1933 during the period of life of the Richards passport Browder was again in Moscow.

"At none of these times did he have any passport under his own name."

Cahill went on to outline the specific crime charged—that Browder in obtaining a passport in 1934 under his own name answered "none" to the question as to whether he had had such a document previously.

Defense Attacks Indictment.

Battle made unsuccessful attacks upon the indictment, directing them particularly against that phase of it mentioning Dozenberg, the recanting communist.

During selection of the jury Judge Coxe submitted a series of questions designed to disclose any bias against communism, and counsel for both sides amplified these. The defense peremptorily challenged nine veniremen, the government four.

The day's first and only witness, Charles Siegel of the state department, identified passport transactions in which Browder figured.

NAZIS JAIL INNKEEPER FOR TELLING GUESTS HE LACKED FOOD SUPPLY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The former innkeeper of the Hotel Edelweiss in Obergurgl in the Tyrolean Alps was arrested for informing prospective guests not to visit his place because food and other supplies were insufficient to care for their needs.

The arrest was disclosed today. A special Nazi commissar was appointed to operate the resort. The innkeeper's letter to prospective customers said: "Skiing is so excellent here that big appetites are certain to result. The hotel has not enough food nor do you have enough food cards to provide the minimum to make your stay a pleasant one."

DOG GOES ON TAXI RIDING SPREE AND JURY IS DELAYED

Mrs. Katherine Keeler, a handwriting expert, was tardy yesterday when she appeared to testify before the grand jury in vote fraud cases. Instead of being abashed, she was happy, and this is why:

On Tuesday her German shepherd dog Chief ran away from the maid who had him out for a walk near Mrs. Keeler's apartment at 215 East Chestnut street. Mrs. Keeler was disconsolate until yesterday morning when a taxicab stopped in front of her home. In the cab was Chief. The driver, Edward O'Hearn, explained:

"This fellow jumped in my cab when I let out a fare in North Michigan avenue. He rode with me all night, sometimes in the front seat with me, sometimes in back with the passengers. I had 33 fares during the night. This morning I noticed the dog's license and traced his owner."

REPORT BRITAIN PUTS EMBARGO ON U. S. TOBACCO

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—British tobacco manufacturers, responding to government decree, tonight were reported reliably to have stopped the importation of American tobacco.

They were reported to have enough in stock for a normal two and a half years' demand, and likely to use Turkish or Balkan tobaccos to blend with these stocks.

The embargo will be for an indefinite duration. Most of the tobacco imported by Britain is Virginia grown. She took $70,300,000 worth of American grown tobacco in 1937.

Bowen Denied New Venue in Manteno Case

The ingenuity of State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro of Kankakee county yesterday defeated a move of three officials, indicted in connection with a typhoid epidemic at the Manteno state hospital, to have their trial removed to another county. Judge James V. Bartley, sitting in the Circuit court at Kankakee, ruled against a change of venue. The trial is to start Feb. 13.

The epidemic, traced to polluted water at the institution, began last summer and caused 53 deaths. The indicted officials are A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare; Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, suspended director of the hospital, and Mrs. Lillian Williams, dietitian.

He Matches Each Signature.

To support their plea they presented a petition with 205 signatures, stating that they could not obtain a fair trial in Kankakee. Prejudice against them, it was related, pervaded the county.

But State's Attorney Shapiro combatted this by the unusual procedure of presenting another statement containing the same number of signatures. It asserted there was no prejudice against Bowen and his co-defendants.

Further, the prosecutor demonstrated that some of the Bowen affidavits had been signed by persons who hadn't read them carefully. Abe Mendelsohn, a garage man, testified that he was unable to read and that he couldn't write anything but his name. He said he had never heard of Bowen, Hinton, or Mrs. Williams. Two Kankakee housewives, Mrs. Nellie Flowers and Mrs. Margaret Toohey, also asserted they hadn't understood what they were signing.

Two Signed Each Petition.

Next Shapiro pointed to the names of two men and proved they had signed both the defendants' petition and his own. These signers of both affidavits are Roy Engleking of Grant Park and Albert Buehl of Manteno.

After these arguments had been presented Judge Bartley held there was no reason why a fair trial could not be held in Kankakee county, in which Manteno is situated. The defendants are charged with malfeasance.

A fourth defendant named in the indictments was freed by Judge Bartley on Shapiro's motion. He is Dr. D. Louis Steinberg, assistant to Hinton. He was assigned to the hospital only 12 days before the outbreak of the epidemic on July 13.

TEMPERATURE DROPS TO 4 BELOW ZERO, TYING SEASON'S LOW

Chicago's temperature dropped into the subzero levels early today, tying the season's record of 4 below on Jan. 5, and threatening to sink even lower. Forecaster H. A. Downs had promised 5 below for the city and 10 below in the suburbs.

Falling steadily all night, the mercury reached zero at midnight, and then dipped to 3 below at 1 a. m. An hour later it was 4 below, while the federal thermometer at the airport registered 10 below.

Unofficial sub-zero temperatures were reported by many north shore suburbs. Coldest was Barrington, with —12. Mundelein had —11, Libertyville and Morton Grove, —10, Lake Forest and Park Ridge —8, Highland Park and Glencoe —7, Winnetka, Wilmette, and North Chicago —6, Great Lakes —5, and Evanston —4. The southern suburbs were somewhat warmer, Chicago Heights reporting 3, Blue Island and Harvey 2, and Homewood 1. To the west, Melrose Park reported —4, Western Springs and La Grange —3, and Oak Park —2.

The weather man said he doesn't expect any more snow.

NEW JURY ROOM HAS EASY CHAIRS FOR ALL BUT ONE

The federal grand jury yesterday moved from temporary quarters on the seventh floor of the United States courthouse to its new chamber on the fourth floor.

The jurors, who for a month have been investigating the incomes of Chicago gamblers, have shiny new desks and swivel chairs upholstered in soft green leather. In the room there is one uncomfortable looking wooden chair, with no upholstery.

"That," an attendant told visitors, "is where the witnesses sit."

Sees School Being Razed; Finds Dollar Lost 20 Years

Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 17 (AP).—Vernon Howell, noticing his old schoolhouse was being torn down, recalled the silver dollar he lost 20 years ago and the fruitless hours he had spent probing for the dollar with rulers and bent wires. Howell dodged thru debris of his old classroom, fished behind the ripped up baseboard, and triumphantly exhibited his "cartwheel."

Vote to Indict Eight in Jury Fixing Scandal

Investigation of an alleged jury fixing plot in the 11th ward vote fraud trial was reported last night to have brought new true bills against the two men acquitted at the trial. New true bills also were reported to have been voted by the grand jury against five other persons originally indicted with them and another politician not previously accused.

Joseph Spizziri admits fix attempt.

Other developments in the election scandals yesterday were:

1. Confession of a third bribed juror in the jury fixing case, uncovered last Friday in an investigation of the acquittal of Sam Orlando, Democratic captain of the 52d precinct of the 11th ward, and Joseph Vinci, his assistant precinct captain.

2. Confession of a brother-in-law of one of the other 52d precinct defendants that he had tried to influence one of the jurors.

3. Detention of State Highway Policeman John Howe of Chicago at the grand jury's order after he had failed to satisfy the grand jurors with his denials of attempted jury fixing.

4. Reported voting of true bills against five officials of the 17th precinct of the 32d ward.

Expect Fix Action Today.

Meanwhile grand jury action was expected today in the jury fixing case itself.

Defendants in the new true bills involving the 52d precinct of the 11th ward, besides Orlando and Vinci, are: Harry L. Beck, 2632 Lowe avenue, Republican judge; Gladys Spizziri, 2723 Union avenue, Democratic judge; Joseph Leonardis, 2631 Lowe avenue, Democratic clerk; Ann Turrisi, 637 26th street, Democratic judge; Edward Schader, 2707 Union avenue, Republican clerk, and Joseph P. Candella Jr., 2724 Wallace avenue, Democratic precinct worker.

Turned State's Evidence.

All except Candella were indicted in the original case on charges of conspiracy to violate the election laws in the June, 1939, judicial election. They turned state's evidence against Orlando and Vinci. Altho the state believed it had an iron clad case, Orlando and Vinci were acquitted Dec. 20.

The new true bills charged only vote fraud. But Thomas Bugan and Gordon Nash, assistant state's attorneys, explained that this includes ballot box stuffing, altering ballots, and submitting false returns. The prosecutors said the maximum punishment is one to ten years in the penitentiary.

Bank Deposit Traps Juror.

The third and latest juror to confess accepting a bribe is Mrs. Martha Aumond, 36 years old, of 6234 Blackstone avenue. Marvin Olson, an ex-convict who originally told of the payments, had said she was one of those bribed, but Mrs. Aumond, the mother of two children, had steadfastly denied getting any of the money.

Nash and Bugan confronted her yesterday with records of a south side bank which showed that she had made an $80 deposit three days after the trial ended. Mrs. Aumond thereupon confessed.

She said that a small dark man came to her home after the trial. He left a carton of cigarets and $100 in $10 and $20 bills wrapped in a newspaper.

The jurors who confessed previ-

RUSSIANS FALL BACK 12 MILES IN ARCTIC ZONE

40,000 Men Reported Harassed by Skiers.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

(Picture on back page.)

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 17.—The successful operations of Finnish ski patrols and the severest winter since 1925 have brought to a halt the soviet Russian army which has been attempting to invade Finland thru the Salla tundra.

The Russians began to retreat yesterday, and today had fallen back 12 miles in the direction of their frontier. The Salla sector is above the arctic circle on Finland's eastern front.

[An Associated Press dispatch said reports to a Copenhagen newspaper from its correspondent on the Salla front stated that the Russian retreat involved 40,000 troops, closely pursued by Finnish units. Three days ago reports from Salla said the Finns had cut Russian supply lines, leaving the soviet troops without sufficient food to carry thru a winter campaign.]

Record Even for Lapland.

The Finns are being helped by the cold spell, which brought a record low even for Lapland. Today the temperature reached 55 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. The bitter cold prevails thruout the country.

Temperatures generally were so low that touching a piece of metal with a bare hand raised immediate blisters. Movement of tanks and armored cars was hazardous even if no shots were fired.

Far back in the Salla forests and tundra, flanking the Russian columns, the Finns have pitched their camouflaged white windproof tents, which even in that arctic region provide a shelter in which the men can eat and rest in comparative comfort.

Use Tents in Shifts.

The Finnish patrols use these tents in shifts. When the men of one group arrive with their beards covered with ice, tired and cold from their long trips, they find warm coffee waiting for them and foot thick beds of dry pine needles on which they can sleep. A rested patrol then heads for the Russian column, attacking every time the enemy attempts to rest, make a fire, or cook food.

The exploits of Finland's "invisible" army have aroused the wonder of the Finnish population and even the military leaders who say that these troops are writing a saga of endurance and bravery which will make them immortal for generations of Finns to come.

Composed of Picked Men.

Finland's northern army is composed entirely of the best youth of the country. But there have been many men among them, some of whom, tho past 40 years of age, have managed to pass the rigid physical examinations. The Finnish army doctors go over every recruit carefully before he is permitted to join the so-called elite troops.

While the losses of the Russian forces which struck at Finland in the north have been high, so have the Finns' losses. The many columns of death notices in Finnish newspapers are growing longer each day.

On another important front, just northeast of Lake Ladoga, Finnish patrols yesterday destroyed another Russian company, and wrecked two tanks. The Russians fled, leaving 70 dead and 100 rifles.

Finnish Airmen Active.

Altho the cold has halted large scale air raids from Russia, Finnish airmen are continuing to bomb Red army encampments and columns of troops and supplies. One soviet plane was shot down yesterday.

Foreign corespondents covering the war also have been on the casualty list. Two have pneumonia, and for the time being Finnish military officials have forbidden further trips to the front.

Finnish hospitals are treating an unprecedented number of frostbite cases. The Red Cross issued a bulletin advising that the best protection against frostbite is "unsalted hog's fat" smeared on exposed parts.

The Finnish Communique.

Today's Finnish army communique follows:

"LAND: On the isthmus [of Karelia] there was lively harassing activity on both sides during Jan. 16.

"On the eastern frontier northeast of Lake Ladoga encounters were provoked by patrol activity, in the course of which our troops routed an enemy detachment of the strength of one company and destroyed two tanks. The enemy left 70 dead and about 100 rifles behind.

"In Lapland our troops are fighting successfully in the direction [sector] of Salla. On other sections of the land front there was patrol activity and the customary artillery harassing fire.

"SEA: Nothing to report.

"AIR: Except on the Karelian isthmus and in the region of Kajaani enemy air activity was slight on Jan. 26. Our own aircraft carried out several bombing raids on enemy columns and concentration sites. One enemy plane was shot down."

Foreign Agents Seek Tanks.

HELSINGFORS, Jan. 17 (AP).—Finnish sources reported today that certain foreign governments had asked for price quotations on captured Russian tanks. Foreign general staffs were said to be interested in dissecting the soviet products to see what new developments they might contain. Military observers estimated that the Finns have captured or destroyed 500 Russian tanks since the war started.

In Helsingfors, a Swedish police chief reported that maps showing detailed routes from a Russian airfield southwest of Leningrad to points in Sweden and Norway had been found on captured soviet airmen.

Forced Down at Turku.

Police Chief Ernst Fontell of Goteborg, Sweden, who has been studying Finnish air raid precautions, said the maps had been found on airmen forced down at Turku [Abo].

"This looks like evidence that they expect to do some bombing in Norway and Sweden," Fontell said.

The Finnish minister of social welfare, K. Fagerholm, welcomed a reported plan to send labor volunteers from Scandinavian countries to Finland to reduce an acute labor shortage because of the necessity of using every available man in the armed forces.

Reds Claim 11 Planes Downed.

MOSCOW, Jan. 17 (AP).—A soviet army communique tonight said 11 Finnish planes were downed today in fights with Russian aircraft. The communique, issued by the Leningrad military headquarters and distributed by Tass, the official soviet news agency, said there were scouting activities "in all directions" and rifle and artillery exchanges in scattered sectors. The communique:

"Headquarters Leningrad military headquarters, Jan. 17. All directions [sectors] activities by scouts and some sectors rifle and artillery fire which was not intensive. Soviet aviation made reconnoitering flights and bombed several railway junctions and military objectives. Eleven enemy airplanes downed in air combat."

Deny Commander Frozen.

A communique issued by the Leningrad military headquarters denied reports, which it attributed to a subsidiary of DNB, the official German news agency, of the finding of the frozen body of the Red army's 44th division commander in Finland.

"This report does not correspond with the facts," said the communique distributed by Tass. "The commander of the division, Vinogradov, is now in the area of the 44th division."

The communique said the report concerning the commander was broadcast by the German Trans-Ocean News service.

[The Finnish high command has reported that the Red army's 44th division was trapped and destroyed southeast of Suomussalmi.]

The military headquarters also described as "not corresponding with the facts" reports which it attributed to the Laborite London Daily Herald that soviet warplanes bombed a working class district in Helsingfors.

"Red army aviation has not bombarded and does not bombard the city of Helsingfors, still less the working class districts of that city," the communique asserted.

In another communique, Tass branded as a "fabrication" a report it said was carried in a December issue of the German newspaper, Frankfurter Zeitung, to the effect that return of the Petsamo arctic region was one of the most important demands presented to Finland by the soviet government in the futile Moscow negotiations.

Cites Molotov's Speech.

"Tass is authorized to declare that the soviet government never put forward a demand for the return of the Petsamo region to the soviet union and [premier-foreign commissar] Molotov said nothing of this kind either in his speech of Oct. 31 or other speeches," the news agency declared.

[In his review of soviet-Finnish negotiations before the Russian parliament on Oct. 31 Molotov said the Finns agreed to soviet proposals for the exchange of parts of the Rybachi and Sredni peninsulas, north of the Petsamo district, but that they had objected to other proposed territorial changes.]

War Developments

North Chicago Rotarians Indorse Loan to Finland

The North Chicago Rotary club yesterday sent telegrams to Senators Scott W. Lucas and James Slattery and Congressman Ralph E. Church of Illinois calling upon them to support a substantial and unrestricted loan to Finland. The message, signed by George Biedeman, club president, said Finland is Christian civilization's first line of defense against world communism.

SENATORS DELAY ACTION A WEEK ON FINNISH LOAN

Plan Appears Headed for Burial in Pigeonhole.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17. — The President's Finnish loan proposal seemed destined for a pigeon hole, in the opinion of senate leaders today, after the banking and currency committee had heard the lukewarm testimony of Jesse H. Jones, federal loan administrator. The only action taken by the committee was to postpone the matter until next Wednesday, when Secretary of State Cordell Hull will be heard.

Jesse H. Jones.

Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to increase the revolving credit fund of the Export-Import bank, in order to finance exports of nonmilitary supplies to Finland, seemed to be something that nobody wanted—not even the Finns. In the senate it provoked a storm of opposition on the ground it would constitute an unneutral act and might serve as a precedent for loans to other belligerents.

Fear Being Dragged In.

Despite sympathy for the Finns in their struggle against the communist Russian invaders, there was an overwhelming feeling against taking any step that might lead to further involvement in the European wars.

At today's closed hearing of the banking and currency committee, members were informed that the Finns have ample food and other nonmilitary supplies, but desperately need fighting aircraft, guns, and ammunition. Individual members had received such information from Hjalmar Procope, the Finnish minister.

Senator Robert A. Taft [R., O.] told the committee that former President Hoover, head of a private Finnish relief organization, had received similar advices from his representatives in Finland. Mr. Hoover's information, according to Senator Taft, was that the Finns have ample food supplies to last until April and can get more from Norway and Sweden.

Loan Barely Touched.

The testimony of Loan Administrator Jones also indicated that the Finns have little need for agricultural and other nonmilitary products. The Finns, he said, have made commitments for purchases aggregating only $2,500,000 from the credit of $10,000,000 already made available to them by the Export-Import bank, and that only $500,000 actually has been disbursed.

This $10,000,000 credit, like the additional credit proposed by President Roosevelt, is limited to articles and materials other than implements of war.

Jones told the committee that loans were made by the Export-Import bank, under the $10,000,000 credit authorization, to the Finnish-American corporation, an organization set up in this country for that purpose, and that the loans were guaranteed by the government of Finland.

Finns Have Five Years to Pay.

These loans, maturing in five years, were described by Jones as good risks, altho he conceded that an American manufacturer probably would not make them. As to further loans, in addition to the $10,000,000 so far authorized, Jones was non-committal. He said it was his job to do what congress told him to do, and that without further authorization by congress, he would extend no more credit.

The Export-Import bank has a revolving credit authorization of $100,000,000, outstanding loans of $65,000,000 and additional commitments of $59,000,000. The total of loans and commitments exceeds the credit authorization, but Jones explained that commitments are not always used in full—that some of them can be fulfilled later as loans are repaid.

No effort was made at today's session to ascertain the division on the banking and currency committee as to the President's Finnish loan proposal, or as to the bill introduced by Senator Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.], which authorizes a direct loan of $60,000,000 by the Reconstruction Finance corporation to the Republic of Finland.

Informed members of the committee, including some administration leaders, expressed doubt, however, that a bill ever will be reported.

Feel Empires Should Act.

There is a feeling among members of the foreign relations committee that Great Britain and France have a vital stake in the preservation of the Scandinavian countries and that it is their responsibility to assist Finland, instead of appealing thru the league of nations to the United States for help. Many senators discount promises of substantial aid to Finland on the part of Britain and France.

Also there is widespread suspicion of the uses to which credit for so-called nonmilitary supplies might be put. Representative Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.], administration floor leader of the house, let the cat out of the bag yesterday when he said Finland could use credit for nonmilitary supplies in exchange for munitions from other countries. Rayburn's statement has resulted in further charges that the administration is attempting, in a devious way, to circumvent the neutrality act of 1939, which was supposed to prevent credit of any kind to belligerents.

REPORT ENGLAND SPURNS PROTEST OF MAIL SEARCH

London Makes Reply to American Note.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The British foreign office tonight sent a detailed reply to Washington, D. C., in answer to the state department's protest against British interference with American mails. It is stated authoritatively the reply amounts to a carefully qualified, polite refusal to cease searching mails for securities and other contraband destined for Germany.

The United States government, in a note to the foreign office Dec. 22, complained that the British practice of forcing neutral ships into British ports and the searching of mails amounted to an act of censorship and contravened article 1, chapter 1 of The Hague convention of 1907.

British Set Forth Argument.

The British note, which was handed to Herschel V. Johnson, American chargé d'affaires, is said to concede that The Hague convention was emphatic enough on inviolability of the mails. However, it is said, the note contends that since the British merely searched mails for contraband and did not either deface or mutilate them, this did not constitute an act of censorship.

It is understood by British officials that America has no objection to Britain's examining packages sent by parcel post to Germany and seizing those packages if they contain diamonds, money, or other contraband that might be used by the Nazis to buy material with which to carry on war. Consequently, the British maintain it is illogical to allow the British to seize diamonds and deny them the right to read enemy mail for the same sort of contraband.

Cite Articles of Accord.

Official quarters assert that The Hague convention of 1907 not only stipulates that mails should be inviolable but to a certain extent protects the rights of belligerents to search neutral ships. Two relevant articles in the convention are cited. The first one reads:

"Postal correspondence of neutrals and belligerents, whatever its official or private character may be, found on the high seas aboard neutral or enemy ships is inviolable. If the ship is detained the correspondence shall be forwarded by the captor with the least possible delay."

The British say they are not quibbling about America's right to protest when this is the basis of protest. But the second article of the same convention, they maintain, holds:

"The inviolability of postal correspondence does not exempt a neutral ship from the laws and customs of maritime war as to neutral merchant ships in general. A ship, however, may not be searched except when absolutely necessary and then only with as much consideration and expedition as possible."

The view here is that it is "absolutely necessary" for Britain to search mails, especially since Germany needs foreign exchange more than anything else to carry on the war.

Opens Mail from America.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The first instance of open censorship being applied to mail from the United States to England reached THE TRIBUNE office today in the form of a letter clipped open at one end and resealed with the stamp, "Opened by Censor 565." Hitherto there has been an informal understanding that letters arriving in England from America would not be opened. Censorship has been applied to outgoing letters.

NATURE LAVISHES HER ARTISTRY ON SNOW CRYSTALS

Delicate Traceries Exist in Infinite Variety.

The snow which fell in Chicago in the last few days sent nature lovers on their annual hunt for new forms of snowflakes—those crystals of beautiful and infinite variety of design. Many persons photograph these crystals and catalog and exchange rare specimens.

"A snowflake," write E. E. Free and Travis Hoke in their book, "Weather," "is not merely a feathery piece of ice that melts into water on the cheek; it is a miniature design as truly ruled, as symmetrically assembled, as consciously ornamented as the a skilled draftsman had worked over it for days.

Patterns Never Duplicated.

"One snowflake never duplicates another's pattern. According to the laws by which it is made, a snowflake a quarter of an inch wide may assume any one of a number of possible forms, running into billions of billions."

Snow crystals—formed by condensation of moisture in the air in temperature below freezing—are for the most part transparent. Sparkling facets give them a white appearance in the mass. Their size varies from 1-100 to ½ of an inch in diameter and they fall to earth either singly or bunched in flakes.

The crystal formations occur most frequently in mild, moist snowfalls when the ground temperature is 32 degrees or above. Their size is determinted by the temperature in which they form and the depth of the cloud thru which they float.

Smaller in Cold Clouds.

The smaller, slower growing and more solid crystals are produced in extremely cold clouds, which are relatively dry. Warmer clouds—usually those nearer to the earth—have more moisture and create the larger, faster growing and many branched crystals.

The crystals are usually in triangular [three sided] or hexagonal [six sided] arrangements. They are grouped roughly into two general classes—columnar and tabular. The first class includes hexagonal columns and slender, needlelike forms. The second includes all crystals, whether solid or branching, which form on a thin, tabular plane.

Many Forms Irregular.

Among rarer designs are four vaned crystals, twin crystals, four sided plates and compound forms. There are also many irregular forms.

Many of the accompanying photographs of snowflake designs were made by the late Wilson A. Bentley of Jericho, Vt. He was the foremost authority in America on the microphotography of snow crystals and had a collection of thousands of unduplicated designs.

CARDINAL FLAYS NAZIS' PLEA FOR ILLEGAL BABIES

BERLIN, Jan. 17 (AP).—Cardinal Adolf Bertram, archbishop of Breslau, took issue today with recent announcements of Nazi leaders concerning children born out of wedlock in wartime.

On Dec. 23 Heinrich Himmler, chief of all German police, urged the Hitler elite guard to beget children, in or out of wedlock, especially in wartime. Rudolf Hess, deputy leader of the Nazi party, announced that the party would stand sponsor for any soldiers' children born out of wedlock.

Cardinal Bertram, in a pastoral letter which is to be read to his diocese on Jan. 21 and 28 and on Feb. 4, has especially urged observance of the sixth commandment in the Catholic decalogue—"Thou shalt not commit adultery." "Do not give credence to assertions that in wartime the sixth commandment is not to be taken so seriously," the cardinal admonished.

OSLO, Norway, Jan. 17 (AP).—It's so cold in Norway they're putting clothes on cows! All Scandinavia was hit by the cold wave. Temperatures were the lowest in 25 years in some districts.

KING OF BELGIANS GETS A MESSAGE FROM ROOSEVELT

New U. S. Envoy Takes Post in Record Haste.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Jan. 17 (AP).—John Cudahy, new United States ambassador to Belgium, delivered a message from President Roosevelt to King Leopold today as Belgium maintained her precautions against possible invasion.

Cudahy, who took office with record speed, said he could not disclose the nature of the President's message, delivered in an hour's audience in which he also presented his credentials.

"After talking to a number of people it seems to me there is no cause for any immediate alarm in Belgium," the ambassador declared.

Meets Foreign Minister.

Cudahy talked with the foreign minister, Paul Henri Spaak, before presenting his credentials and said Spaak gave him the impression that the people of Belgium are calm.

The ambassador recalled that President Roosevelt met King Leopold, then crown prince, when the latter visited the United States in 1919.

Gen. Henri Denis, defense minister, said mobilization steps taken by Belgium over the week-end would be maintained for some time.

"Our information and general impressions made it necessary," Gen. Denis explained.

Encouraged by Finn Stand.

The defense minister said Belgium and other small countries found comfort in results of the Finnish-Russian war. The Finns have shown, he said, that an adequately equipped small army can cope with a stronger enemy.

The government's new defense steps came in for some criticism. The cabinet confirmed an order banning the Antwerp Nationalist Flemish newspaper Volk en Staat, which had published an article by a Flemish extremist suggesting that the week-end military moves were the prelude to a military coup within Belgium. Other newspapers questioned the need for the measures, which placed additional powers in the hands of the military.

Premier Hubert Pierlot, however, told parliament he would make no statement on the mobilization, and a majority of the chamber of deputies supported him in this.

BRITISH FREIGHTER DAMAGED BY BLAST IN IRISH SEA; SAVE CREW

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—The British freighter Gracia, 5,642-ton vessel of the Donaldson Line, was damaged in the Irish sea today by an explosion an hour after she left a northwest England port. She was beached and her crew of 60 was rescued.

Four days after leaving for Canada the liner Duchess of York docked at a northwest port today, having damaged her rudder and propeller when she ran onto a sand bank off Scotland. The passengers will be placed on another liner.

The admiralty reported that the submarines Seahorse, Starfish, and Undine, which were destroyed by Germans, had been sent to Heligoland bight on a "specially hazardous" mission.

A Belgian cargo boat, the Josephine Charlotte, 3,422 tons, was destroyed by a mine. Four of her crew of 44 are missing.

The Italian freighter Ernani, 6,619 tons, rammed the lightship Brake in a blizzard off the Kent coast last night. The lightship was severely damaged. Another Italian freighter, the Premuda, 4,427 tons, ran aground. Lifeboats took off her crew of 30.

Norwegian Ship Torpedoed.

CHARGE CANADA IS LAX IN MAKING WAR MATERIALS

But Legislators Encounter a Swift Challenge.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 17 (AP).—Charges in the Ontario provincial legislature that the Canadian government is failing to equip properly its troops or turn Canada into an effective arsenal for the British empire drew sharp debate today.

Leslie Frost, Conservative, criticizing the Liberal government at Ottawa, said: "Until we get rid of the Asquiths at Ottawa we are probably going to be short of munitions and arms."

He referred to the Asquith government of Great Britain in the world war which was in power when a shortage of shells caused a political crisis.

A Quick Challenge.

Frost was immediately challenged by Morgan Baker, a Liberal, who asked: "Does the honorable member know that Britain and France have more munitions in Britain and France than they know what to do with?"

Baker in turn was answered by the Conservative leader, Col. George Drew, who said: "The honorable member doesn't know what he is talking about" and "not only do we need munitions for the men going to the front, but we are making no munitions for the six divisions of the peacetime establishment."

Col. Fraser Hunter, a Liberal, said: "Canadians in every sphere still wonder how it is that little actual evidence in the way of equipment for our troops or serious expansion of the arms industry, which is to make us the arsenal of the empire, exists with which to reassure our people."

Charges Mothers Neglected.

Canada should not embarrass Britain by sending unarmed and unequipped divisions overseas, Hunter declared.

In Ottawa Conservative Robert J. Manion asserted that thousands of Canadian mothers whose sons have enlisted are in dire need and are not receiving assistance in the form of dependent allowances. "These mothers should not be left in their extremity a day longer than necessary," Manion said. "I appeal to the government to see that this stain on Canada's war effort is wiped out immediately."

ENGLAND CLAIMS WAR STRANGLES LIFE IN GERMANY

Commons Told Foe Suffers Gnawing Want of 1916.

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—The British government informed the nation today that its wartime stranglehold on Germany's food and commerce already had reduced the reich to the gnawing want of 1916.

Ronald H. Cross.

Sharp faced Ronald H. Cross, minister of economic warfare, before the house of commons drew a grim picture of German privation as a result of four and a half months of British economic blitzkrieg [lightning war]. Then, in matter of fact tones, he said:

"We look forward to the day when we shall so strangle Germany's economic life that she can no longer sustain her war effort."

Reports Living Space Reduced.

Cross, who is 43 years old, asserted Britain's sharp economic attack, starting with the beginning of this war rather than later, as it did in the world war, had reduced the German "lebensraum" [living space] to the area ringed by the bayonets of her own troops. Thus, in four and a half months, he said, it had placed Hitler Germany in the position occupied by the kaiser's empire after two years of the world war.

"Contraband control was easy," he said, reviewing Britain's efforts to build a financial wall between Germany's 80 millions and the world's food supplies and sinews of war.

It has been Cross' job to marshal the empire's resources in a new technique of fighting on all fronts.

"Preemption" Described.

Today he described "preemption," or the purchase of goods to prevent German purchase, as a heartening phase of the economic war.

"Conditions of life in Germany are strained," he said.

"Rationing is already in existence for clothing and soap.

"The inhabitants of Berlin are shivering for lack of coal.

"Requirements of export trade are given priority over the home market because, without export trade, Germany would blockade herself.

"The Germans are fertile in evasion, but our net is drawn very tightly."

Recall Premier's Warning.

His statement and its ominous connotation for Germans followed upon Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's recent warning that the German people must share the responsibility for a continuation of the war, altho Britain had no desire to annihilate them.

Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, in the house of lords, urged separation of Britain's efforts to improve her commercial position and her blockade operations so that neutrals would not think Britain was using belligerent rights "to build up our commercial position."

He also urged full cabinet rank for the minister directing economic aspects of the war. Cross does not have this rank, but the appointment of Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war secretary, has been talked about for such a post.

Plea Rejected

Dr. Cosmo Lang. Dr. Ernest Barnes.

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—The spiritual head of the Church of England, Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, archbishop of Canterbury, yesterday rejected a high churchman's plea, "If thine enemy hunger, feed him."

The bishop of Birmingham, Dr. Ernest William Barnes, had presented a motion in the house of bishops of the church urging that free importation of foodstuffs into Germany be permitted by the British blockade.

The archbishop sternly replied that members of the government had informed him there was no way to distinguish what raw foodstuffs would be used exclusively for feeding the hungry and what might go, at least indirectly, into the production of munitions.

He said he shared Dr. Barnes' horror of war, but: "I cannot feel that it is a greater than would have come upon the world if we had allowed the present rulers of Germany to have their way."

Dr. Barnes withdrew the motion, remarking that the house of bishops was divided by practical considerations rather than by moral fundamentals.

SWISS REOPEN MINES

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BASEL, Switzerland, Jan. 17.—With the British blockade choking off imports, the Swiss are reopening long abandoned mines in search of coal and metals to keep the country's industries alive.

In the canton of Valais, in southwestern Switzerland, anthracite mines which had not been opened since the world war are being pressed into service. In peacetime it is not profitable to work these holdings in the almost inaccessible Alpine valleys. The mining villages of Mendez and Collombey are said to be showing more life than for years.

Hold Up Swiss Imports.

Engineers from Zurich are preparing to reopen copper, nickel, and lead mines in the same canton. These also have been closed since the world war. They would have remained shut except for the British grip on imports which has been sending prices up. The British are holding up Swiss imports on the grounds that they might find their way over the border into Germany if permitted to pass the blockade.

These old mines are not expected to do much to alleviate the predicament of Swiss industry, but it is felt that everything possible should be done to preserve the national economy.

"We are like the innocent bystander who gets shot by gangsters," one Swiss industrialist said.

Meanwhile, the British are said to be increasing the pressure on Swiss business men to demand that the government prohibit the export of tires and a number of other products which Germany needs to carry on the war.

WAR MAY COME AT ANY MOMENT, ITALIANS TOLD

Be Ready for It, Fascist Secretary Warns.

ROME, Jan. 17 (AP).—The new secretary of the Fascist party, Ettore Muti, told Italians today that "Italy may face the necessity and duty at any moment of picking up arms."

Ettore Muti.

"There is no need," Muti told a conference of provincial party leaders, "to lull oneself with the illusion that Italy's present situation with regard to war may last forever."

Muti did not indicate which nation or alliance Italy might have to fight, and this left unchanged the general impression in foreign circles that she would remain out of the war as long as possible. However, one passage of his speech was interpreted as a rebuff to British and French gestures of conciliation, such as frequent press commendations of Italy's remaining on the sidelines.

Prepared in Resources, Spirit.

After stating that Italy might have to fight "at any moment," Muti continued:

"It must therefore be prepared in its resources and above all in its spirit. It is well to add that it is absurd and dangerous to derive too much satisfaction from the recent demonstrations of international sympathy which are without justification or foundation and not even in harmony with the true sentiment of the Italian people, which has learned not to forget the history which it has lived dramatically, especially in these recent times."

Muti declared there was no change in Premier Mussolini's "antidemocratic, antibolshevik, antibourgeois" policy in words which authoritative Fascists interpreted as meaning Italy would follow her own course independently of other powers.

Italy's anti-Semitic policy and drive for economic self-sufficiency will continue unchanged, Muti said. There had been rumors of a more lenient attitude toward Jews, partiqularly refugees. The bourgeois tendencies which Fascism would suppress he defined as "comfortable living, rumormongering, and pacificism."

Some attributed rejection of "international sympathy" to the Italian belief that Britain and France "would not hesitate to accept the soviets as collaborators in formation of 'a better world' if that could be made to coincide with British-French aims and dominance." This view was expressed in La Tribuna by Umberto Guglielmotti. Italy is bitterly antisoviet.

The newspaper Avvenire quoted soviet radio stations as saying Italy was "world enemy No. 1," and defying Italy to halt the march of soviet armies. The newspaper said the radio's statement was occasioned by "the success of Rome's plans" to combat bolshevism in the Balkans and "concrete aid which is being sent from Rome by land and sea to Finland."

Challenge Accepted.

"It rarely happens that a challenge has been so sympathetically accepted or a threat so joyfully heard as Italians today accept the bolshevist challenge and hear its threat," the newspaper continued.

Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist commentator, wrote in Il Giornale D'Italia of "widespread and obvious foreign attempts from several sides to tie up and obscure the Italian political conscience and to turn it in directions which are not those of Italian interests."

For that reason, Gayda said, Italy more than ever "affirms and defends the individuality of her interests and her freedom of attitude."

MADRID, Jan. 17 (AP).—Generalissimo Franco today ordered sweeping revision of Spain's civil, commercial, and penal laws and judicial procedure. FRANCE TRAINS ITS PROPAGANDA GUNS ON SOVIET Daily Broadcasts Will Be Made in Russian.

BY MAURICE ENGLISH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 17.—France prepared today to train its propaganda artillery on the soviet union. It was announced that the government controled radio will make daily news broadcasts in Russian beginning tomorrow evening.

The bulletins are expected to stress developments in the Balkans as well as the French attitude toward the Finnish war.

In itself only an incident in the radio war which France and Great Britain are waging, this announcement takes on more meaning in the light of an inspired account of France's attitude toward Russia which was set afloat today by sources close to the foreign office.

No Rupture in Relations.

This attitude, it was said, can be summed up in three points:

FIRST—Despite the vote yesterday by the chamber of deputies to oust communist members, France will not break off relations with Moscow. Such a step, it is held, would be playing the Nazi game, since it is believed that Germany would look with favor on a move isolating Russia and giving it no choice except to agree to a complete military tieup on German terms.

SECOND—The French government will continue sending what Premier Edouard Daladier has called "no insignificant aid" to Finland and will facilitate the passage across France of military supplies and volunteers from other countries—chiefly Italy and Spain.

THIRD—If Russia attacks any country whose independence is guaranteed by France—in other words, Rumania or Turkey—France will attack Russia. In that event it would hope for Italian aid.

Domestic Problems, Too.

While emphasizing developments in the diplomatic war, the government has not been able to forget the domestic problems which the war has aggravated. One of the most acute is that of agriculture.

After the hard blow dealt to them by the mobilization at harvest time, farmers now are worried about the continued shortage of farm labor. This threatens to become crucial at the spring sowing.

Henri Queuille, minister of agriculture, conferred this evening with Premier Daladier. The subject of their talk was not revealed but it was announced that a committee of deputies from the rural regions would urgently request the premier to see that enough peasant soldiers are released to relieve the labor crisis on the farms.

Abundance of Food.

Queuille also appeared before the commerce and industry committee of the chamber of deputies and gave an account of the government's plan for taking over the importation of food supplies. He assured the committee that there is no imminent danger of a shortage of meats, coffee, fats, dry vegetables, or cocoa.

DEMAND BRITAIN TELL WHY TROOPS GREETED HITLER'S SICK FRIEND

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Members of parliament disclosed today that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's government would be questioned in the house of commons next Tuesday about spectacular arrangements surrounding the arrival of Unity Mitford-Freeman from Germany Jan. 3.

The blonde British girl, who is a daughter of Lord Redesdale and a friend of Adolf Hitler, landed at Folkstone suffering from a mysterious ailment and was whisked away in an ambulance by her family.

Thomas Levy, Conservative, gave notice he would ask the government who ordered military precautions at Folkstone and how many troops were engaged. John Parker, Laborite, prepared to ask the cost of welcoming Miss Freeman-Mitford. Other members intend to ask what steps were taken to facilitate her return from Germany.

INQUEST OVER SLAIN WOMAN TODAY.

An inquest over Mrs. Sally Osburg, 44 years old, 5016 Berteau avenue, who died yesterday of a gunshot wound, will be held today. Her husband, Gustav, 47, a sheet metal worker, told police his wife shot herself. He said she had been ill.

WAR SHOWS NEED FOR 2 NEW TYPE FIGHTER PLANES

Agile Combat Ship, Fast Bomber Foe Planned.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

The United States army air corps has recognized the need for two new types of fighting airplanes as a result of lessons learned from the aerial combats between German and British-French air squadrons. Contracts that are to be signed with aircraft manufacturers in 1940 for new military planes will reflect this recognition, it was learned here yesterday.

According to reports from reliable sources, both these new types are so-called fighter airplanes. One will be a single engined plane similar in many respects to the pursuit type planes—the P-35s and P-36s already in service. The other will be a multi-motored long range fighter with a crew of three or four, extremely heavy armament, and high speed.

Intended for Combat.

The single motored plane will be intended for combat against enemy fighters that might escort bombardment planes, or might be encountered along a patroled front such as is found today in northern and western France. These planes are expected to have a top speed of about 340 miles an hour, but the greatest emphasis is to be laid upon their maneuverability.

The multimotored machines are expected to be less maneuverable, but much faster. Their speed is expected to be more than 400 miles an hour, and they are to be armed with 37 millimeter cannon as well as heavy machine guns. They are expected to be used particularly in overhauling and shooting down raiding bombers.

These two types of fighters will supersede, it is said, the heavier, moderately fast, moderately long range pursuit ships in use today. Such ships as the P-35s, P-36s, and P-40s now on order have a long range of about 1,000 miles cruising at 200 miles an hour. The P-35s and P-36s have a top speed just over 310 miles an hour. The P-40s will have 365 miles an hour.

Based on European Experience.

That both the new types are designed as a result of European lessons is conceded. The Germans already are using multiengined fighters—Messerschmitt 110s, called destroyers, are this type. The 110s are armed with 20 and 23 millimeter cannon and machine guns, have two V-12 Daimler-Benz motors, a long range of 1,500 miles, and speed of 385 miles an hour.

The American multimotored ships will be the Bell Airacuda and the Lockheed P-38s that already are on order. The Airacuda has two Allison V-12 motors mounted as pushers and two 37 millimeter cannon. The Lockheed has the same engines, mounted as tractors, and also carries cannon and heavy machine guns. Both are supposed to be 400 mile an hour planes.

Neither of these two American destroyers of the air is expected to be particularly maneuverable. They are intended rather to be fast gun platforms. They are to catch bombers and then with their superior arms shoot them down. The cannon they carry fire explosive shells. One hit is enough to destroy a wing or tail surface of the largest bomber flying.

Maneuverability Is Important.

The destroyers are intended to catch and shoot down bombers, but the new single motored fighters will be intended for combat work against enemy pursuit ships.

Experience in France has shown that conditions in the new war are similar to those in the conflict of 1914-'18 in that maneuverability is the deciding factor in a combat between two pilots of approximately equal skill. The machine that will turn inside the other will be the winner.

The Messerschmitt 109 is the German standard single seat fighter. It has a top speed of about 370 miles an hour and a wing loading of 38 pounds per square foot of wing surface. While it is an excellent airplane it has a tendency to produce what is known as a "high speed stall" when pulled into tight vertical turns such as are required in combat.

Empires Fighters Better.

This became known when the 109s came up against the French Curtiss Hawks with a 315 mile an hour top speed and the Morane 406s with a 310 mile an hour speed. Both these ships were able to down Messerschmitts by outmaneuvering them. When the British Hawker Hurricanes with 330 mile an hour speeds came up against the Messerschmitt 109s they were found to be superior for the same reason.

Engineers point to the high wing loading of the Messerschmitts and then to that of the English and French planes. The Curtiss has a loading of 24.5 pounds, the Morane a loading of 26 pounds, and the Hurricane the lightest loading of 23.5 pounds.

A Messerschmitt 109 was captured intact and was tried out by French and British pilots against all their fighters. It was found that the Hurricane was most maneuverable with the Hawk a close second. The German plane was least maneuverable of the four.

Seek 340 Mile an Hour Plane.

With this lesson in mind our own air corps, according to reports received here, is demanding that manufacturers produce a 340 mile an hour plane with a wing loading of not more than 24 pounds. This, it is believed, will give both speed and superior maneuverability, and should produce a plane that has a landing speed of not more than 60 to 65 miles an hour.

These planes will have a large motor but will carry fuel for only about two and one-half hours of flying. They will be used only for combat and probably will be based at fields close to the "front" where they will see action.

The Curtiss company has recently submitted such an airplane to the air corps for tests. It has a 1,200 horse power Cyclone motor and weighs just over 4,000 pounds. It can take off and climb out of sight—more than 7,000 feet into the air—in two minutes. Other similar combat planes are being constructed by other designers, notably Vultee, Northrop, Republic, and the Brewster companies.

Divorce of 1,356 Years Ago Dug from Ancient Writings

New York, Jan. 17 [Special].—Discovery of a divorce contract written 1,356 years ago in southern Palestine without alimony was announced today by Prof. Casper J. Kramer Jr. and Dr. Naphtali Lewis of New York university in a study of writings dug up by the Colt archeological expedition. The contract, made in 584 A. D., showed seven witnesses had attested to the verbal divorce of John, son of Wael, and his wife, Nonna, after attempts at reconciliation had failed. "You are released," said John, according to the translation. "We have no claim against each other." The only grounds for divorce were that "many griefs were stirred" between the husband and wife.

WAR GAME ZERO HOUR NEARS ON PACIFIC COAST

Maneuver to Test Attack and Defense Power.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 17 [Special].—Zero hour in the joint army-navy war games here approached tonight. "Black" troops are ready to drive upon the coast from the Pacific in an attack that will test the effectiveness of coastal defenses and the ability of the United States fleet to land an army of fighting men on a hostile shore in the face of artillery and antiaircraft fire.

Five thousand defending Blues, regular army and National Guard troops with mobile artillery and other motorized weapons, were on the alert to block the Blacks' attempt to penetrate the coast and seize control of strategical points in the western United States, in the greatest army-navy maneuvers in peacetime history.

8,000 in Attacking Force.

The Blacks, 8,000 troops of the 3d division, were aboard ships somewhere out on the Pacific, awaiting orders from Maj. Gen. Walter C. Sweeney and Admiral C. P. Snyder to try to land. The order was expected to be given late tonight or tomorrow morning.

Twenty-four Black naval planes, striking before dawn today, dropped dummy bombs on three army flying fortresses at the San Francisco airport and theoretically put them out of commission. Eighteen defending planes engaged them in a mock aerial battle and many ships on both sides were put out of action. The roar of motors above the city routed many San Franciscans from their beds and brought dozens of inquiries.

Theoretical hits were also reported scored on "Blue" forces in Oakland, Sacramento, and Reno, Nev. San Francisco bay, with its port facilities, giant bridges, military reservations, and supply depots is a focal point of the attack.

Report Theoretical Landing.

Landing of the invaders on the coast south of here was reported in the mock war's first communique. It said: "Black forces made surprise theoretical landings at Avila and succeeded in establishing shallow beach heads to defend against machine gun and rifle fire."

Planes serving as eyes for the attackers made swift stabs over the coastline and an official aircraft warning service went into action for the Blue army.

Reports are coördinated and the plane movements charted in electric lights across the face of huge maps, as a key to help the Blue army to spot its defenses. Main scene of the coast attack will be somewhere near Monterey where the fleet will attempt to put troops ashore from transports. The maneuvers will be completed Saturday.

Hits Scored

(Story in adjoining column.)

Theoretical hits were scored on these cities by attacking planes in combined army-navy maneuvers yesterday. Two forces engaged in mock aerial warfare.

57 OF COLUMBUS CREW GO HOME ON ITALIAN SHIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 17.—Fifty-seven crew members of the scuttled German steamer Columbus sailed today on the liner Rex for Genoa, where arrangements have been made to send them back to their homes in Germany.

The contingent, consisting of 9 women, 20 men, and 28 cabin boys, was taken from Ellis island by the coast guard cutter Mahoning and put aboard the Rex. They were in a gay mood over the prospect of going home.

Departure of the Rex group left seven Columbus survivors still at Ellis island. Five have started court proceedings to remain in the United States and two are ill.

Other survivors of the scuttled ship, a group of 512 officers and men of military age, left last Sunday by train for the west coast. They will take a ship to the orient and return to Germany thru Russia.

NATION'S ARMED FORCES AT PEAK FOR PEACE TIME

Nearly 600,000 Enrolled; 223,000 in Army.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—With almost 600,000 men under arms in the army, navy, marine corps, and National Guard, the nation today has a record peacetime strength in its armed forces.

The services are still about 35,000 men short of the numerical strength authorized by President Roosevelt last September in his proclamation placing the nation on a limited emergency status on the outbreak of the European war.

Army Only 4,000 Short.

Secretary of War Woodring disclosed today that the regular army strength is approximately 223,000, only 4,000 short of the limit set by the President in the emergency proclamation.

The navy's strength is 125,143, and the limit to which it is recruiting is 145,000. The marine corps is less than 1,400 short of the 25,000 limit to which it is being raised.

The National Guard, being raised to 235,000 men, now totals 224,000.

Secretary Woodring said the army expects to reach its authorized strength early in February. Other branches of the service are expected to reach the limits set in the emergency proclamation before the end of the fiscal year.

Many Original Enlistments.

Mr. Woodring disclosed that more than 92,000 enlistments in the regular army have been received since July 1, 1939, to make the authorized increase and fill the vacancies caused by the normal discharge of soldiers completing their enlistments.

Of these, he said, 63,979 were original enlistments, 24,139 were reënlistments, and 3,883 were former soldiers who had been out of service more than three months.

GERMANS DISCOVER A CHEMICAL TO CUT STRAIN OF BLACKOUT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The residents of all cities and towns in Germany are going to get some relief from the strain of blackout conditions thru a discovery of the German dye trust. The discovery is "lumogen," a chemical which is mixed with paint and which shines brightly when subjected to the weakest amounts of violet rays from darkened electric lamps. The new chemical, made out of tar, is more satisfactory than radioactive or phosphorus paints used heretofore in an attempt to lessen the dangers of street corners, curbs, and stairs.

Air raid precaution officers are satisfied after experiments that the chemical can be used to paint part of the sidewalks and entrances to houses and dangerous crossings. The reflections of the violet rays on the painted surface are not visible at a height of 1,500 feet and therefore they cannot be seen by possible air raiders.

The discoverers believe that the chemical will prove so useful and cheap that it will revolutionize street lighting in peacetime. They also say that it provides a light that is restful to the eye. Squads are at work in Berlin painting the main thorofares.

PREVIEW NOTES FROM I. H. M. (1)

By CALEB

OVER IN The Merchandise Mart, lamp manufacturers are exhibiting no less than 234 different lines. Easily the biggest illumination show in business history, this International Homefurnishings Mart display now boasts the attendance of thousands of retailers buying for their spring and summer needs. One goes wandering in a maze of 40,000 electric jewels, set in some 200,000 square feet of the Mart's twelfth-floor space!

Changes, this year, will be more than customary shifts in color scheme. I discovered that makers and designers have innovated freely: in new structural elements, new lines, new hues, new treatments of ceramics and glass. The reasons for these innovations are many.

Admitted by all makers, reluctantly or otherwise, has been the pressure of the European situation. Importers have increasingly turned to domestic sources. Costlier metals and other raw materials are emphasizing eye-appeal and originality. And in a way, the occasion is fortunate for American makers. Always blessed with talent, they are now applying it to wider possibilities of distribution—the best of stimuli to standards of finer craftsmanship.

With leading china-producing centers abroad curtailed, stocks of English, French, Dutch and Flemish wares must be supplemented, and domestic lamp designers are challenged by real opportunities in creativeness. American pottery suited to period ensembling is very active. From New Jersey and the Carolinas are coming hand-decorated florals and scenics, with individually styled shades to match; and definitely "news" in the market is glass.

American craftsmen are already turning out, at accelerated pace, all types of bubble glass, delicately tinted ware, and the heavy, severely simple glass of Scandinavia. And when you see the new lines on our second Wabash floor, you will exult in their perfection. Important 1940 trends also include bases in onyx, metals and porcelains — the latter chiefly of French or Chinese motif. Wood will appear in classic, provincial and modern spirit; pewter, bronze, copper and tole share all price ranges. Table lamp shades will be taller, wider, and more generous light-givers—fabrics also will be finer and longer wearing.

Coming floor lamps, lounge lamps, lamp-stands, are all of tomorrow's temper. "Tricky" is the word for boudoir lamps of fabric, wood, glass and metal; while desk lamps, definitely fluorescent, play the dual roles of penstand and other combinations. . . . All in all, one can foresee the nation more artistically illuminated than ever, in this change-charged year of 1940!

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25¢ and 25¢. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

2 G.O.P. LEADERS AVOID STATE'S ATTORNEY RACE

Johnson, Schnackenberg Tell Position.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Two possible Republican starters for state's attorney, George E. Q. Johnson and Elmer J. Schnackenberg, yesterday eliminated themselves from the field for the April 9 primaries.

George E. Q. Johnson.

At the same time announcement was made that the candidacies of Wayland Brooks for United States senator and of Richard J. Lyons for governor are to be united publicly today for the first time. Completion of the alliance has taken a month.

Candidates to Meet Today.

Lyons and Brooks had a talk late yesterday afternoon. Later both said they will have luncheon today in the Hotel Sherman with a few lieutenants. The object is to arrange for the opening of joint headquarters for Brooks and Lyons at the Sherman. The whole fourth floor of the hotel is expected to be taken. This was the first definite public announcement of a Brooks-Lyons alliance.

Harry S. Ditchburne's announcement Tuesday that he will run for state's attorney brought that office into the spotlight yesterday. Ditchburne reported that all day long he received messages of support.

Discuss Deneen Slate.

The Deneen group at its luncheon meeting at the Morrison hotel discussed formation of a slate. The Ditchburne candidacy and the possible entry of others was taken up. After the meeting Charles S. Deneen, former United States senator, said Johnson, a former United States district attorney, had decided not to run for state's attorney. Johnson was the prosecutor who convicted Capone.

Representative Schnackenberg, Republican house leader at Springfield, was sounded out by some of the Deneenites as a possible candidate. He has been spoken of as a possibility for governor, senator, or state's attorney. "At this time," replied Schnackenberg, "I have no intention of running for any office except the legislature."

The elimination left in the field against Ditchburne as possible candidates Edgar A. Jonas, former Municipal judge, and Judge Oscar F. Nelson of Superior court.

Green to Open Downstate.

Downstate headquarters for Dwight H. Green, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, are to be opened at Springfield next Wednesday. There will be an afternoon and night reception. On Monday, Jan. 29, Green is to start a seven week downstate tour. Emphasis is to be thrown on the need to rid the state of vote frauds as shown by the last mayoralty election in which Green was Republican nominee.

Candidacies were announced by Albert D. Lasker of Lake Forest and James S. Kemper of Winnetka for delegate to the Republican national convention from the 10th district.

A rally of 10th district Republicans is planned for next Wednesday night at the North Shore hotel, Evanston. The three announced candidates for governor, Lyons, Green and State Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, are to speak.

The 30th ward Republican organization last night indorsed Edward F. Moore, county chairman, for ward committeeman, Lyons for governor, and Brooks for senator.

OFFER EVIDENCE IN TRIAL OF 2D ACCUSED SLAYER

The state began presentation of evidence against Joseph Russano, 23 years old, former lightweight boxer who is charged with the murder of Park Policeman Harry Francois. The case is being heard by a jury of nine men and three women in the Criminal court of Judge John A. Sbarbaro.

Russano was one of three bandits who were holding up a couple in Humboldt park on Nov. 20 when Francois and his police partner approached. Jerry Mangano, who fired the shot that killed the policeman, has been convicted and his punishment fixed at death.

Julius Miner Gets $12,500 from Geo. Harding Estate

The $25,000 claim of Julius H. Miner, Republican leader, against the estate of George F. Harding, former Republican national committeeman from Illinois, was settled yesterday for $12,500, attorneys reported to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. Miner asserted he advanced the money to Harding for campaign expenses in 1936.

Admits Taking Money

3D TERM CLIQUE SETS ROOSEVELT 'DRAFT' IN MOTION

Florida Lining Up with Ohio's Strategy.

Democratic leaders, there has been such a pronounced swing back to Republican fealty in that state that they despair of carrying Ohio this year unless Mr. Roosevelt heads the ticket.

Donahey Fears Defeat.

The Ohio third term movement was interpreted at first as a maneuver in the interest of getting Senator Donahey on the ticket as Mr. Roosevelt's running mate. It now appears that Senator Donahey's concern is not so much vice presidential as it is reëlection to his senate seat next November. Extraordinary vote getter tho he is, Donahey figures his chances far from good unless Mr. Roosevelt runs.

West saw the President again today following the Limbach announcement. On leaving the White House he said with regard to the Ohio action that "there was no intimation of disappointment and no inkling of unwarranted disturbance on the President's part over it."

The challenge of Thomas E. Dewey's hold on the New York delegation to the Republican national convention by Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N. Y., publisher, whose candidacy for president was announced yesterday, attracted much attention in Washington. Gannett apparently will have considerable upstate support. Among those supporting Gannett is Representative James W. Wadsworth [R., N. Y.].

ADMITS KILLING HIS FATHER IN GROCERY STORE

Holland, Mich., Jan. 17 [Special].—Neal Koopman, 30 years old, admitted tonight in the county jail at Grand Haven, Sheriff Frank Van Etta announced, that he shot and killed his father, John Koopman, 55, yesterday noon in their grocery at the north outskirts of Holland. The son insisted the shooting was accidental. He was held for further questioning.

For 24 hours following the shooting, authorities had considered the death due to natural causes. When Coroner John K. Winter arrived at the scene, in response to the son's summons, he attributed the cause of death to a heart attack despite blood from the victim's nose and mouth and the son's statement that he thought there was "dirty work."

The body was taken to a Holland undertaking parlor, where it was not learned until this afternoon that the elder Koopman had been shot in the back with a .32 caliber bullet.

VOTE TO INDICT EIGHT IN JURY FIXING INQUIRY

Acquitted Pair Accused of Ballot Frauds.

ously are Mrs. Lillian Conners of 7833 Evans avenue and James McNamara of 5630 Wells street.

The ex-convict, Olson, has told prosecutors he entertained Mrs. Conners and Mrs. Aumond in a tavern with $20 given him there for that purpose by George Crane, defense attorney in the Orlando-Vinci trial. Mrs. Conners has asserted that Crane gave her $50 which she believed was a payment for her jury service in a previous case and that he told her there would be "a grand [$1,000] or a couple of grand for us in the next case." At Christmas time, she said, she was given $100 by a stranger.

Crane has denied the accusations.

Tells Christmas Gift Promise.

Clarence Coleman, one of the jurors questioned after it was decided to interview all who served on the jury, told Bugan and Nash a story that brought the arrest and confession of Joseph Spizzirri.

Coleman is a machinist living in the Jane Addams houses at 1327 Grenshaw street. "He said he had been approached by Spizzirri, a United States mail guard living at 3233 Union avenue. Spizzirri is a brother of Tony Spizzirri, husband of Gladys Spizzirri, one of those reported named in both the old and the new true bills.

Coleman said Spizzirri urged him to do what he could for Orlando on the promise of "a nice Christmas bonus." Coleman, who said he was one of the last two jurors to vote for acquittal, informed the prosecutors that he ordered Spizzirri to leave.

Admits Fix Try; Blames Orlando.

Spizzirri was seized yesterday. He confirmed Coleman's story, adding that his brother, Tony Spizzirri, had asked him at Orlando's behest to seek Coleman's help.

Joseph Spizzirri said he visited Orlando in Orlando's saloon at 2600 Wallace street, where Orlando told him: "See if you can get Coleman to fight for acquittal. If he does he'll get a nice Christmas bonus."

Policeman Howe was questioned by the grand jurors regarding the accusation of Miss Helen Kennealy, 21 years old, of 8244 Paulina street. Miss Kennealy, one of the jurors, said Howe offered her a $100 bribe which she refused. Howe was reported to have told the grand jurors that he merely told Miss Kennealy the defendant, Vinci, was a fine fellow, and discussed the purchase of some black earth with her. The grand jurors held him for further questioning.

Charge 32d Ward Conspiracy.

The grand jury true bills against election officials of the 17th precinct of the 32d ward were reported to charge conspiracy to make a false count in the April 4 mayoralty election. Defendants were reported to be: Mrs. Jeanne Orlowski, 1255 North Maplewood avenue, and Miss Ida Kaplan, 2136 Division street, Republican judges; Mrs. Tessie Rozner, 2505 Potomac avenue, Democratic judge; Herman Menster, 1243 North Campbell avenue, Republican clerk; and Edmund Zeleski, 1224 North Maplewood avenue, Democratic clerk.

Judge Robert J. Dunne yesterday took under advisement the suit brought by Attorney Joseph T. Harrington, as a taxpayer, in a vote fraud case against five election officials of the 53d precinct of the 11th ward. Harrington is counsel for the officials. He has asked an injunction to halt their trial in county court until the Illinois Supreme court rules whether or not ballots used in elections should be destroyed six months afterward.

BISHOP STRITCH TO TAKE CHICAGO POST ON MARCH 7

The formal installation of the Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch as archbishop of Chicago will take place March 7. This was announced last night by the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, senior auxiliary bishop and administrator of the archdiocese since the death of Cardinal George Mundelein last October.

Archbishop Stritch, who had been head of the Milwaukee see since 1930, was appointed to the post of leadership here by Pope Pius XII. on Jan. 4. The colorful ceremonies of induction, including the enthronement and a solemn pontifical high mass, will be held in Holy Name cathedral. A number of Catholic dignitaries are expected to attend.

Mayor Kelly was authorized yesterday by the city council to form a committee to plan for the city's official participation in the installation. The council also extended its good wishes to the new archbishop.

MURPHY DENIES REPORTS OF LAX LAW ENFORCING

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18 [Thursday] (AP).—Attorney General Frank Murphy, a few hours before he was to take oath as a Supreme court justice, issued a statement early today declaring the justice department had pursued a policy of firm and equal enforcement of the laws.

"As I leave the office of attorney general of the United States," Murphy's statement said, "I feel it my duty to clear up certain misstatements of fact, and insinuations and implications based upon such misstatements which have today and lately been circulated in a portion of the press.

"Such misstatements are to the effect, or insinuate, that as attorney general I have for political purposes suppressed possible proceedings against Mayor Kelly of Chicago, Mayor Hague of Jersey City, and other political leaders, and that my successor in office, Mr. Robert H. Jackson, is expected to continue the same policy of suppression and inaction, to serve alleged political purposes of the administration.

"Such stories and such statements are not true. I resent them and the implications arising from them. There has been no criminal prosecution of the persons above referred to because there is no evidence in the department to warrant such prosecution," Murphy said. "The department has no authority to investigate or prosecute the investigation of any laws other than federal laws."

Coast Guards Wade Into Icy Lake to Save Shepherd Dog

Coast guardsmen in the Jackson park station saw a German shepherd dog struggling to climb onto a bobbing piece of ice 150 yards off 60th street in Lake Michigan yesterday. Mate Carl Howell and Surfman James Lockhart donned life belts and tied themselves together. Then they waded thru the broken ice floes, rescued the dog, and took it to the station where it later was claimed by its owner, Mrs. Anna Robinson, colored, of 4638 Champlain avenue.

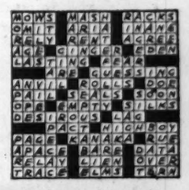
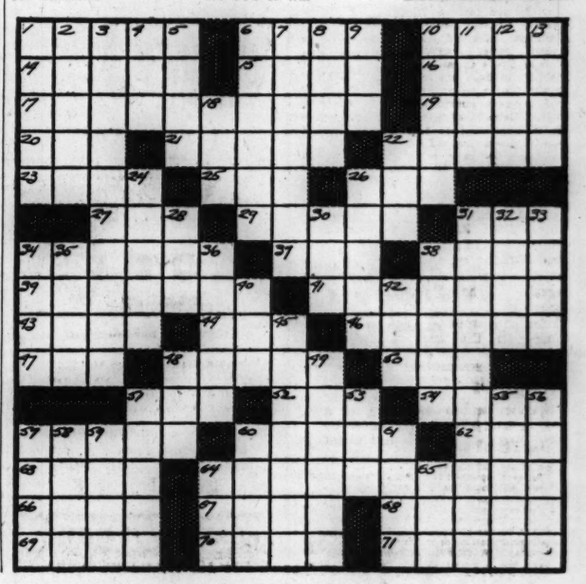
PUZZLE OF WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17, SOLVED





HOUSE ROARS NO TO SPENDERS IN ECONOMY DRIVE

Refuses 22 Million Boost for Postoffices.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—The house today roared down a Democratic attempt to add $22,000,000 of election year pork in the form of new postoffice buildings to the first regular appropriation bill of the session.

Clifton A. Woodrum.

Members went on to support the appropriations committee in every detail in its economy drive which was initiated yesterday in answer to President Roosevelt's challenge that congress could not reduce his 8½ billion dollar budget for the coming fiscal year.

The committee slashed $94,000,000 from the 1 billion, 194 million dollar bill submitted by Mr. Roosevelt to run 33 agencies and bureaus of the government.

Democrat Brings Test.

The first test of the genuineness of economy sentiment in the chamber came when Representative James F. O'Connor [D., Mont.] offered an amendment to the bill increasing from $15,000,000 to $37,000,000 the appropriation for the construction of postoffice buildings outside the District of Columbia. O'Connor protested that the postoffice building program, allowing only two new buildings every three years to a congressional district, was inadequate.

Apparently confident that the house was with him and his committee in its efforts to cut down the national budget, Chairman Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], of the subcommittee in charge of the pending measure, took only two minutes to answer O'Connor.

The federal public buildings act of 1938 financed a three year building program costing 130 million dollars, he noted, and that program was entirely sufficient for the needs of the postoffice department.

Voted Down in Chorus.

A shouted chorus of "Nos" beat down the O'Connor amendment while there were only a few scattered "Yeas."

A third New Deal agency went the way of the two White House bureaus which were eliminated yesterday by the appropriations committee on the ground that they had no authorization in law. This was the so-called council of personnel administration which President Roosevelt set up under a lame duck Democratic congressman to "study matters of government personnel."

Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] made the point of order that the council of personnel administration had no legal basis and the point was sustained by Representative Lindsay C. Warren [D., N. C.], occupying the chair. The council had been costing the taxpayers $25,040 a year.

Cost Over 2 Million.

The two bureaus wiped out yesterday were the office of government reports, which is the administration's propaganda bureau and a subsidiary of the Democratic national committee, and the national resources planning board. They had been costing $2,115,000 annually.

All other efforts to change the measure were defeated. Representative John C. Schafer [R., Wis.] sought to strike out a $125,000 item for the administrative expenses of the Export-Import Land bank. Such action would demonstrate the protest of the house against proposed loans to Finland, he argued.

Representative Woodrum, in reply, said the Schafer motion would eliminate one of the few money making agencies of the government and pointed to profits of $1,744,000 accrued by the bank in 1939. The Schafer amendment was defeated by a voice vote.

Moving smoothly under Woodrum's direction, the appropriations committee drove thru most of the measure before adjournment until tomorrow. Passage of the entire measure without change is expected then.

List of Sums Approved.

Tentatively approved today were appropriations totaling nearly 350 million dollars. Representing reductions considerably below the President's recommendations in many instances, the following sums were approved for the following offices:

Executive office of President	$ 1,334,850
Board of tax appeals	557,000
Civil Aeronautics authority	27,900,693
Civil Service commission	97,366,000
Federal Communications commission	2,118,340
Federal Power commission	2,480,500
Federal Trade commission	2,300,000
Public Buildings administration	15,865,376
Public Works administration	29,250,000
Public Roads administration	142,000,000
United States Housing authority	16,000,000
Foreign Service Pay adjustment	1,280,000
General accounting office	5,306,540
Interstate Commerce commission	9,058,750
National Advisory Commission for Aeronautics	8,000,000
National archives	920,200

In addition, the house approved a total of $46,925,000, to be made available out of funds heretofore provided for, for the administrative expenses of activities under the federal loan agency. These amounts are not charged as regular appropriations from the treasury and are not included in the total of the pending bill.

EXPLOSION KILLS 2, INJURES 5 IN DU PONT FACTORY

Gibbstown, N. J., Jan. 17 (AP).—Three tons of nitroglycerine demolished a dynamite mixing building today with a roar heard 20 miles, killing two men and injuring five at the Repauno plant of the du Pont powder works.

Map locates Gibbstown.

The possibility of sabotage drew the immediate attention of state police and the federal bureau of investigation. The plant had been heavily guarded.

So great was the shock that it was felt in Lakehurst, N. J., 65 miles away. Windows were shattered for miles and buildings were jarred in Philadelphia—12 miles north.

CHARGES WPA IS USED AS SECRET POLICE SLEUTHS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—Representative Jesse P. Wolcott [R., Mich.] told the house today that the WPA apparently has launched "a new and unusual project of snooping and reporting to headquarters on what is going on in the minds of members of congress." He said a report was made last August on Representative John Taber [R., N. Y.] by an "information service representative" of the WPA in New York.

"Hitler has his Gestapo, and Stalin has his Ogpu," Wolcott declared. "We must be cautious the New Deal does not create a secret police force."

A man who signed himself William M. Cohen, an information service representative of the WPA in New York, Wolcott said, wrote a report on Taber subsequent to Taber's questioning of Harry Hopkins, former WPA administrator, about a government project in New York.

"I don't think congress intended to create secret police," Wolcott said. "Did you know the WPA had information service representatives thruout the country?"

Irvin Schreiber, 38 years old, who operates an apartment hotel at 726 Briar place, appeared before Judge Rudolph F. Desort yesterday seeking custody of four of his children who were left with his former wife, Elsa, when he divorced her last Aug. 28. She is now Mrs. Elsa Reinke, 1321 Belmont avenue.

With Schreiber were his second wife, Bernadette, his two sons, John, 13, and Lester, 12, whose custody he had retained, and three of the other four children—Elsie, 15; Carl, 14, and Anna, 6. Paul, 8, still is with his mother.

Mrs. Schreiber, a pleasant, petite woman of 36 assured the court she would be a good stepmother to the children. The children hugged and kissed her. Judge Desort, instead of awarding custody to the father, awarded them direct to Mrs. Schreiber.

Attorney Raymond Suekoff, representing the Schreibers, asked the court to have an investigation made of the possibilities of having Paul, the sixth child, also come to live with the others.

NLRB AID ADMITS 'GIFT' TO WITNESS HELPFUL TO C. I. O.

Examiner Sees 'Nothing Wrong' in Donation.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 [Special].—A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations board admitted before a house committee today that he gave a handful of small bills to the former head of a union local who testified against an employer charged by the C. I. O. with violating the Wagner act.

At the time of the incident, the examiner, C. W. Whittemore, was working on a labor board case at Gaffney, S. C.

The evidence was brought before the Smith committee, which is investigating the NLRB, in the form of a letter Whittemore wrote to his Washington headquarters. Whittemore, called to the witness stand, said he saw nothing wrong with making the gift.

Sets Amount at $4.

Whittemore said he gave a handful of bills—he later estimated the amount at four $1 bills—to Sam Bailey, a Negro who had headed a Negro union local in 1936 and since had become a tenant farmer. The gift was made shortly before Christmas of 1938.

Whittemore's letter, which described people he met in the south as "characters right out of 'Tobacco Road,'" related that he and Warren Woods, NLRB trial attorney, walked five miles to the Negro's shack to give him the money.

"We left Sam a handful of bills," the letter said. "We gave them to his voluminous wife."

Acting on C. I. O. Complaint.

The hearing Whittemore conducted was on the complaint of the Textile Workers' Organizing committee, an affiliate of the C. I. O., charging textile mills at Gaffney with discouraging union organization.

In an intermediate report last April Whittemore recommended that the board order the mills to stop the alleged intervention, to disband a company union, and reinstate 22 discharged employés. But the case has been reopened and another hearing is to be held next Monday in Spartanburg, S. C.

FBI Traces Explosives Taken from 17 Plotters

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—Lieut. Col. Edward Bowditch, inspector general of the 27th division, New York National Guard, said today that federal agents had traced to the source the explosive cordite powder and 3,500 rounds of ammunition seized in the arrests of 17 men on charges of seditious conspiracy. Col. Bowditch implied that the powder came from a regular army base. He said the National Guard had none of the powder which is used in the manufacture of munitions.

DRIVERS' STRIKE SHRINKS GOTHAM COAL SUPPLIES

Misery Is Faced Unless Deadlock Is Broken.

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—Householders in the New York area and superintendents of office buildings, hotels, and apartment houses eyed their coal supplies anxiously tonight as the temperature dropped far below freezing and a strike of coal handlers virtually halted deliveries.

Daniel M. Rugg, chairman of the employers' negotiating committee, estimated 75 per cent of the industry was tied up. Michael J. Cashal, international vice president of the A. F. of L. Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, which called the strike for higher wages, fixed the percentage at a lower figure.

Lockout Is Charged.

Cashal said that of the 5,000 men handling coal in Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn, and Queens, men had struck in yards handling about 15 per cent of the distribution, while dealers handling about 30 per cent had locked their men out as a retaliatory measure after failure of negotiations to settle differences.

The union demanded $1.20 an hour for a 48-hour week and an extra man on each truck to reduce unemployment. The men now receive $1 an hour, and are losing $40,000 a day in wages by striking.

Mayor Fiorello La Guardia said he had assurances from the union that deliveries to schools and hospitals would not be affected.

Poor Will Suffer Most.

The poor were likely to suffer, though, for the union announced it intended curbing small dealers buying a ton or two at a time directly from the yards for peddling. There are about 1,500 of these small dealers distributing about 10,000 tons daily.

A somewhat similar strike, affecting 700 workers in Jersey City, Bayonne, North Hudson, and Hoboken, also was called by the union in Hudson county, N. J. John J. Conlin, union vice president, said the men demanded a wage boost to $1 an hour, but did not disclose the present scale. Hospitals and schools were not affected.

5 Men and Women Seized on Untaxed Alcohol Raid

Rochester, Ind., Jan. 17 [Special].—Five men and women were arrested in the San Pierre community northwest of here today for allegedly distributing untaxed alcohol. The prisoners are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Porkes on whose farm was found two five-gallon tins of untaxed alcohol; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Pearson, and Mrs. Pearson's brother, John Shrader. They were seized in a raid conducted by officers from the state excise department, state policemen, and deputy sheriffs.

22 NEW SCHOOL PRINCIPALS ARE NAMED BY BOARD

23 Others Transferred at Johnson's Request.

Twenty-two new principals of elementary schools were appointed and twenty-three others transferred yesterday by the board of education. The changes were recommended by Supt. William H. Johnson.

Only one board trustee voted against the new appointments. She was Mrs. W. F. Heineman, one of the newer members. She said she felt the list of possible candidates for appointments was not complete and that there should be a rehearing for those who failed in the oral examination for principalships. Mrs. Heineman also said she doubted whether the appointments were made solely on merit.

Walker Defends List.

In reply Irwin Walker, vice president of the board, said:

"I, for one, voted for the appointments as recommended by the superintendent because I am confident these people were named on the merit system—and on the merit system alone!"

The new appointments follow:

Irene M. Glynn, Peabody school; Elinor C. McCollom, Emerson; Monica Patricia Brown, Riverdale-Curtis; Hulda A. Ranquist, Foster park-Kellogg; Frances M. Carey, Ryder branch-Poe; Lauretta M. Anderson, Rogers; Catherine E. Conner, Thomas; Julia H. Cunnard, Webster branch; Rose A. Clark, Mary G. Hayes, Esmond; Helen M. Smith, Brainard; Daniel J. Magner, Hartigan; Catherine E. Leach, Burroughs; Mary A. Abrams, Hubbard; Augusta A. Peterson, Avondale; William G. Wilson, Plamondon-Haven; Evelyn I. Phelan, Cary; Margaret Shannon, Corkery; Alice C. McKeough, Knickerbocker; Austin E. Ryan, Scammon; Marguerite B. Gerrity, Chase, and Marie F. O'Leary, Schiller.

The appointments and transfers will go into effect Jan. 29.

Ratify $39,500,000 Warrant Sale.

The board also ratified the sale of $39,500,000 worth of 1940 tax anticipation warrants by Robert B. Upham, city controler, since passage of the budget last week. Six loop banks—Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, First National bank, the Northern Trust company, Harris Trust and Savings bank, City National Bank and Trust company, and the American National Bank and Trust company—bought $34,500,000 worth. Hickey & Co. purchased the rest.

Educational fund warrants sold at interest rates of 1¾ per cent [20 million dollars' worth] and 1⅞ per cent [$12,400,000 worth]. Building fund, free text book fund, and school playground fund warrants sold at a 2¾ per cent interest rate. In 1933, similar tax warrants went begging at the high interest rates of 6 and 5 per cent.

'A JOB'S OPEN AT AMERICAN CITY, IND.; JUST FIND IT

Oscar Sauerman, postmaster of Crown Point, Ind., was seeking a lost town last night.

In a letter from C. R. Briggs of Cincinnati, chief postal inspector of the central area, Mr. Sauerman, as postmaster of the county seat of Lake county, was asked to announce that applications for postmaster of American City would be accepted until Jan. 24.

The letter stated that American City is in Lake county, but Mr. Briggs wanted Mr. Sauerman to tell him just where American City is. Mr. Sauerman has had to admit that he doesn't know. No one at Crown Point has ever heard of it.

Mr. Sauerman says that if any one finds American City he would like to be informed, but he does not plan to offer a reward.

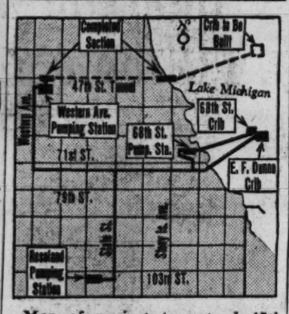
Work Stopped



Map of project to extend 47th street tunnel from the Western avenue pumping station into the lake, where it will connect with new crib to be built there. Work on the project has been stopped.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, yesterday announced that work on the new 47th street water tunnel had been discontinued because an appropriation of 5 million dollars requested for the project had not been included in the 1940 budget. A total of 350 workers have been laid off.

Construction of the tunnel, which is to cost a total of 8 million dollars and extend from the Western avenue pumping station to the lake, where it will connect with a crib yet to be built, was started a year ago. So far 6,000 feet of the entire 42,000 feet of it have been completed.

City Engineer Loran Gayton said that expenditures so far have been about $1,000,000. He added that all machinery used on the tube has been stored for the year. The city has appropriated $9,198,000 for continuing the building of a filtration plant at 79th street and the lake.

WEEK OLD BABY BOY ABANDONED IN FACTORY DOOR

A boy baby about a week old was found abandoned last evening outside a factory doorway at 1355 Washington boulevard. Joseph J. Pillar, 5536 South Richmond street, watchman who made the discovery, turned the infant over to the police, who took the baby to County hospital. The child was wrapped in a thin blanket and had on underclothing. There was no hint as to the baby's identity. Physicians expressed the opinion that he had lain in the bitter cold only a few minutes. One guess was that his mother had left him as the watchman approached. The baby will be sent to St. Vincent's orphanage today unless his parents are found.

Right-of-Way Pact Dated 1872 Recorded at Galena

Galena, Ill., Jan. 17 (AP).—A document, bearing a June 8, 1872, date and providing for a right-of-way agreement between B. W. Tuttle and the old Galena and Southern Wisconsin Railroad company, was recorded here yesterday. At one time the Galena-Wisconsin line, which later became part of the Chicago and North Western railroad, transported thousands of tons of lead and zinc ore during a mining boom here. It was recalled that Tuttle owned land on the banks of the Galena river north of here. Why the document had not been recorded before was not explained.

The senator, 75 years old and dean of the senate, was said by his physician, Dr. Worth Daniels, to be resting easily and in no danger. Borah's office said the senator would be confined to his home for several days.

COUNCIL ACCEPTS CITY HOUSING FEE IN LIEU OF TAXES

Agrees There's Little Else to Be Done About It.

The city council, after listening to several protests against the government's methods in managing its three federal housing projects in Chicago, voted 29 to 11 yesterday to accept $39,000 to cover the projects' service charges in 1938. The charges, for such services as police and fire protection and garbage collection, are in lieu of all taxes.

Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], chairman of the council's housing committee, explained in a letter to all the aldermen that the city was powerless to do anything but accept what was offered—5 per cent of the shelter rentals, or the net amount paid by tenants after utility bills are paid.

City Has No Other Choice.

The three housing projects [Jane Addams, Julia Lathrop, and Trumbull Park] are government owned, Lindell said, and are administered under regulations made by congress and the state legislature. The city has no right, he asserted, to review or nullify the legislative acts.

"All the city can do is collect reimbursements for the services after they have been furnished," he said.

It has been estimated that the projects, if privately owned, would have to pay taxes of $494,000 annually.

"The state decides that we have to take this 5 per cent," said Ald. James J. McDermott [14th]. "The plea was that this was to help the needy. People of fairly good incomes live in the houses. Certainly this settlement doesn't look good in comparison to what a brick bungalow in my ward has to pay. The owner of such a building, now paying $109.44 a year in taxes, would pay only $9.12 under the service charge principle."

Charges Relievers Are Slighted.

Ald. Edwin F. Meyer [45th] said people on relief were being pushed around to make good homes for persons in middle income groups.

"Yes," said Ald. John S. Boyle [16], "that's the objection. It's not to housing, but to the fate of the slum dwellers. They're being thrown out, and no provision is being made for them. Where will the ones who can't pay project rentals go?"

Mayor Kelly remarked that Chicago couldn't stand out as the only city opposed to housing and that the alternative was to accept the $39,000 or quit housing.

A proposal that another housing project be started on the north side was deferred to Jan. 31 for action. This project would cost $7,000,000 and accommodate tenants with incomes between $600 and $900.

APPEAL INTEREST AWARD IN STREET WIDENING CASE

The city appealed to the Illinois Supreme court yesterday from an Appellate court decision which awarded property owners $89,400 in interest on condemnation judgments in connection with a project to widen Western avenue in 1925. The judgments were paid Aug. 2, 1930. The property owners sued the city, contending they were entitled to interest for approximately three years preceding payment. The awards approved by the Appellate court were: Jacob N. Nusbaum estate, $33,175; Sarah Provus, $14,955; Cameron Can company, $13,769; Central Masonic temple, $9,415; George A. Chapman, $7,925; Carroll D. Keeler, $6,263; John F. Cella, $3,898.

Policemen Asked to Give Blood to Fellow Officer

TRAVELERS TELL OF A REVOLT IN CHINESE ARMY

Young and Old Factions Oppose Each Other.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 17 (AP).—Reuters [British] news agency said tonight that travelers from the southern part of Shansi province had reported a revolt among the troops of the Chinese general Yen Hsi-shan.

Reuters quoted the travelers as saying that Gen. Yen's so-called old army of 200,000 was at sword's points with his new army of 60,000 communist peasant volunteers. The revolt was said to be thus far localized, with Gen. Chiang Kai-shek attempting to bring about a peaceful settlement.

The trouble was said to have started when Gen. Yen gave the new army a major assignment in the winter campaign in order to get rid of it. Some professed to see danger that the Chinese 8th army of Gen. Chu-teh might intervene in behalf of the new army and Gen. Chiang in behalf of the old. Shansi province is in the north central part of China.

Travelers from Shansi province have reported a revolt among troops of the Chinese army there because of new army of communist volunteers. Japanese warships were reported to have bombarded Chenhai forts guarding Ningpo in Chekiang province.

Warships Bombard Forts.

Japanese warships off the coast of Chekiang province today were reported to have bombarded the Chenhai forts guarding the entrance to Ningpo, one of the principal treaty ports still in Chinese hands. Damage was said to be slight.

Prediction that a new central government of China would be formed by Feb. 1 under the leadership of the Japanese-favored Wang Ching-wei, former Chinese premier, was made by Wang's followers.

A conference is to be held soon in Japanese occupied Tsingtao to complete plans for formation of a new political council which will organize a new government, they said. Wang a year ago was ousted from Gen. Chiang's régime after he had fled from Chungking, the capital, and advocated peace with Japan.

Appeal to Chiang.

Announcement of the Tsingtao conference was coupled with a statement by Wang that he had addressed a new appeal to Gen. Chiang asking him to join in efforts to make peace with Japan. On Jan. 8 the Japanese government decided to support Wang for the leadership of a new Chinese central government.

At Chungking officials of the Chiang Kai-shek government said they had no information of such a telegram as Wang said he had addressed to Chiang.

Chinese newspapers at Hongkong dismissed the new peace move in a few lines as a "presumptuous and preposterous" gesture.

Chinese at Hongkong said the appeal meant that Japan was suing for peace, "Because Wang Ching-wei is merely the Japanese army's mouthpiece and his voice is Japan's."

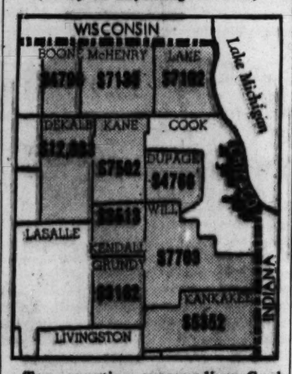
FAVORS PARKING BAN AT NIGHT TO AID SNOW CREWS

A ban on automobile parking on 65 miles of designated streets between 2 and 7 a. m. from Dec. 15 to April 1 was proposed yesterday by George Barton, chief engineer for the Chicago Motor club. He spoke at a meeting of representatives of the city, county, state, Park district, Surface lines, and the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Barton's proposal was indorsed as an experimental step which might in time be extended to 750 miles of the city's streets.

Farmers Reimbursed

(Story in adjoining column.)



Ten counties surrounding Cook county and amounts paid to farmers in each for animals slaughtered by wild dogs, wolves, and other predatory animals in the last five years.

WILD DOG RAIDS ON FARMS BRING HEAVY LOSSES

$63,785 Claims Paid for Live Stock.

In densely populated northern Illinois—within a radius of 80 miles of Chicago's loop—raids of wild dogs, foxes, and a few small wolves on farm live stock are costing thousands of dollars annually, it was disclosed by a survey completed yesterday.

The survey showed that eleven counties surrounding Chicago paid a total of $63,785 to farmers for sheep, cows, hogs, horses, and turkeys slaughtered by predatory animals during the last five years. The counties are Cook, Du Page, Will, Lake, Kane, De Kalb, McHenry, Boone, Kendall, Grundy, and Kankakee.

De Kalb County Hardest Hit.

Farmers of De Kalb county were the hardest hit during the five years. They lost 287 head of live stock in such raids, for which they were reimbursed $12,083 by the county. Wild dogs—animals which strayed from farms of the area to run in packs—are chiefly responsible for the losses. Often these packs are joined by farm dogs which, tho completely domesticated in the daytime, leave their kennels at night to take part in the raids.

Authorities of the counties said the claim payments for losses are paid from the fund built up by the collection of dog taxes in the townships.

Live stock claim payments were last made in Cook county in 1936, when a total of $651 was disbursed for losses. Guy Kelley, chief bookkeeper of the county treasurer's office, explained yesterday that most of the county townships stopped collecting dog taxes in that year, automatically cutting off the funds available for live stock loss payments.

How Claims Are Paid.

The procedure followed in collecting such claims is a simple one. The farmer who has had live stock killed is required to have two neighbors attest to his loss [the county pays them 50 cents each for their signatures on the claim forms]. The claim then is presented to the township supervisor, the value of the animal is fixed, and the claim is filed with the county treasurer for payment.

Payments vary, the county treasurers said yesterday. Maximum payments are about $75 for a cow, $15 for a sheep, $25 for a pig, and $5 for a turkey. A claim for a horse might be as high as $200.

Seth Peck, 86 years old, a farmer of Geneva, Ill., who has been in the sheep raising business for 72 years, estimated that he has shot more than a wagon load of wild dogs protecting his flocks. At one time Peck herded 2,000 sheep; now he has only 400.

87 Ewes Killed Last Week.

One of the heaviest losses of recent years was reported last week in Riley township, McHenry county. Dogs broke into a sheep pen on a farm there and killed 87 out of a flock of 100 ewes.

Payments made to farmers in the counties other than De Kalb and Cook during the last five years were: Lake, $7,102; Will, $7,703; McHenry, $7,153; Kane, $7,502; Grundy, $3,162; Du Page, $4,766; Boone, $4,798; Kendall, $3,513, and Kankakee, $5,352. [Records of payments in Kankakee county go back only three years, but officials based their estimate on what they considered average losses for each of the missing years.]

ALIMONY CLAIM CALLED A LEGAL BLACKMAIL CLUB

Fight Payments to Wife Wed Five Times.

The effort of Mrs. Ora Spies to have a $25 a week temporary maintenance order reinstated yesterday brought heated objections by the attorney for her present husband, Richard F. Spies, jewelry manufacturer.

The attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr., characterized the case as an illustration of how the separate maintenance statute can be used as a club for legalized blackmail. He said Mrs. Spies had been married five times. Because of a point of law also raised by Cantwell the hearing was continued to Jan. 31 by Judge Oscar F. Nelson.

Separate After Eight Months.

Mrs. Spies, who is 40 years old, lives at 2907 Pine Grove avenue. Spies, who is 63, is head of the Spies Bros. Jewelry Co., 1140 Cornelia avenue. He lives at 1311 Winnemac avenue. They were married Dec. 28, 1938. Exactly eight months later, on Aug. 28, 1939, they separated.

Mrs. Spies filed a suit for separate maintenance, charging desertion, and on Sept. 20 was granted the $25 a week temporary order by Judge Nelson. At the time Spies offered to return to his wife.

Yesterday Attorney Cantwell told the court that the Spieses had resumed living together shortly after the Sept. 20 hearing and had continued for three weeks.

"Then she ordered him out of their home at Crystal Lake [McHenry county] and had the locks changed on the doors," Cantwell said.

Woman Married Five Times.

He argued that since the couple had lived together after filing of Mrs. Spies suit, the suit should be dismissed on the ground of condonation.

"This suit is an example of how separate maintenance can be used as a club for legalized blackmail," declared Cantwell.

"The history of the case shows she is well able to work and that between her former marriages she made as much as $250 a month as an interior decorator."

Mrs. Spies' attorney, Leslie Salter, was instructed to have his client in court for the Jan. 31 hearing.

MRS. LORETTA RUEHL.

For the five years of his courtship, Mrs. Loretta C. Ruehl testified yesterday, Alphonse Ruehl posed as a teetotaler to whom the very thought of alcoholic beverages was abhorrent. This admirable stand put him high in her favor, for she was a church temperance worker.

They were married March 17, 1934. Shortly afterward, Mrs. Ruehl told Judge Oscar F. Nelson, she found a bottle of whisky hidden under a chair cushion. She later found others, beneath the mattress and in the corners of dark closets.

Confronted with this evidence, Alphonse, a baker, was quoted as saying "What of it?" He merely brought his drinking into the open, she said, and she left him on April 13, 1939. Judge Oscar F. Nelson granted her $10 a week temporary alimony for herself and a daughter, Alene, 4. Mrs. Ruehl, who is 26 years old, lives at 2709 Magnolia street, while Ruehl, 29, lives at 4319 North St. Louis avenue.

REPORT M'GRADY IS FIRST CHOICE TO DIRECT CCC

Former Labor Bureau Aid Now with R. C. A.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—Edward F. McGrady, former assistant secretary of labor, is being considered for the post of director of the Civilian Conservation corps, it was learned tonight.

Edward F. McGrady.

If appointed, McGrady would succeed Robert Fechner, organizer of the unit, who died last Dec. 31 after an illness of 18 months. During his illness the CCC has been headed by James J. McEntee, his assistant, who is a candidate for the directorship.

Perkins Sticks to Job.

McGrady, who was in Washington today, said that the post has not been offered to him and that he would hesitate to make the personal sacrifice in income acceptance would entail. He is receiving a salary reported to be in excess of $25,000 a year as labor relations director of the Radio Corporation of America. The CCC post pays $10,000 a year.

McGrady took the radio post in 1937 when he was secretary of labor in all except name. He resigned after it was apparent that Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins would not resign to permit him to succeed her.

For some time he has desired to return to government service, because it is reported he prefers public office to private industry.

Near 68 Years Old.

President Roosevelt discussed the appointment today with Social Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, who said that the appointment would be announced in a few days. He did not name McGrady as the choice for the post, but said that close examination of the White House calling list in the next few days would give a hint as to the identity of the appointee.

McGrady will be 68 years old Jan. 29. He appears much younger. His predecessor, Fechner, died at the age of 63. McGrady was born in Jersey City, N. J., and educated in public schools. He began earning a living as a newspaper pressman and drifted into unionism. He was legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor at the outset of the Roosevelt administration.

WIDOW OF GOON VICTIM RECALLS PHONE THREATS

Says Union Advised Deal with Garage Group.

Mrs. Dagmar Hvid, widow of the slain Marinus Hvid who owned a garage and defied a garage owners' association, told the grand jury yesterday of threats made to her and to her husband. Hvid was slugged the night of Dec. 27 by goons who used baseball bats. He died Dec. 30.

After 21 days of investigation the authorities yesterday had no clew to the identity of the murderers.

Mrs. Hvid and John Thompson, a field agent for the Affiliated Garages of Chicago, the association which expelled Hvid because of his refusal to pay a fine of $75, were the only witnesses before the jury during the day. But Assistant State's Attorney Crawford questioned four garage owners who had been fined by the Affiliated Garages.

Tells of Strike at Garage.

Mrs. Hvid's testimony included what she knew of a strike called against her husband's garage by the Auto Livery, Chauffeurs, Taxicab Drivers, and Garage Helpers' union, which paid more than $4,000 to pickets stationed in front of Hvid's garage. Crawford said all evidence so far points to the existence of a working agreement and a perfect understanding between the union and the owners' association.

"My husband told me last January or February that he was having trouble with the Affiliated Garages because he had taken a customer away from the Belmont garage, his competitor," Mrs. Hvid said before entering the grand jury room.

"Several times he told me he had received threats over the telephone. He said the union officials always advised him to get straightened out with the association.

Wife Gets Phone Threat.

"He told me all about it when the strike was called by the union last March. During the summer I was called on the telephone, and from the voice I judged the caller was a young man.

"'Tell your husband to get straightened out with the association and the union or he will get hurt,' the man said to me. I told my husband, but he said he wasn't worried. Just a short time before he was attacked he told me he expected to have his troubles with the union and the association settled before the first of the new year."

Thompson was said to have testified he was formerly a garage owner and that he was hired as an outside man for the Affiliated Garages of Chicago by Emil Mermall, its executive director. He said he was paid $50 a week and allowed expenses for the use of his automobile. He said he was an "organizer" on the south side, and he sought to settle any difficulties the members reported to him.

JURY'S GAMBLING REPORT ILLEGAL, JUDGE DECIDES

Grand juries do not have the right to report on general conditions, such as gambling, but have only the power to investigate persons and crimes with a view to returning indictments. This opinion was expressed yesterday by Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court with reference to the report of the September grand jury.

Judge George B. Weiss of the Municipal court had filed a petition seeking to expunge that part of the report which said the Municipal court and the police "passed the buck" in a "clossal sham battle" against gambling. Judge Prsystalski dismissed the petition on the ground that Weiss acted as an individual and did not show he was injured by the report.

Judge Prystalski said that originally he was in favor of allowing a grand jury to make a supplemental report, but that the overwhelming weight of precedent was against it. Because the Illinois Supreme court had never taken a position on the matter he said he would welcome an appeal.

ACCUSED SLAYER TAKES I. Q. AND SETS A RECORD

An intelligence quotient of 128, one of the highest ever found by the Criminal court behavior clinic, was reported yesterday. It is that of Carl Hubert Erickson, an accused slayer.

Erickson, a young man of 25, is in the county jail charged with the murder on Sept. 28 of Herbert Wolff, 30 years old, of 2008 Cleveland avenue. Wolff was shot and killed in a garage at 145 East Grand avenue where he worked as attendant. Erickson established an alibi at the time, but confessed to the Chicago avenue police Dec. 19.

Erickson's attorney, Samuel A. Hoffman, requested a mental examination. The results of this were given to Chief Justice John Prystalski yesterday by Dr. Harry Hoffman, director of the behavior clinic. He said Erickson not only is sane, but is of very superior intelligence, his I. Q. being the highest ever found at the clinic in a person charged with murder.

Erickson will go on trial Feb. 13.

Chiropractor Is Sentenced for Kidnaping Texas Boy

Beaumont, Tex., Jan. 17 (AP).—Dr. William C. Welch was convicted today of kidnaping Irwin Mingle, 11 years old, of Port Arthur, last Dec. 7 in a futile attempt to collect $15,000 ransom. Dr. Welch, who was a friend of the boy's parents, was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment. The boy freed himself and escaped from his attic prison. Dr. Welch is a chiropractor. The boy's father, Fred Mingle, is an automobile dealer.

'APPEALS COURT REVERSES PRESS CASE IN SOUTH

New Orleans, La., Jan. 17 (AP).—The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed and remanded the "freedom of the press" case under which five Mobile, Ala., persons were convicted of conspiracy to intimidate Henry P. Ewald, former executive of the Mobile Press-Register.

In setting aside the convictions, the Appellate court held that demurrers attacking the indictment as not alleging an offense against the United States should not have been overruled.

The demurrers asserted "the right of free speech and free press is not secured by the constitution and laws of the United States against infraction by individuals, but only against federal or state action."

The government contended that the defendants conspired to intimidate Ewald, who was conducting a campaign against gambling, by photographing and beating him at the home of a woman last Feb. 14.

RECOMMEND FINE FOR NEWSPAPER GUILD PICKETING

Master in Chancery Benjamin E. Cohen made a report to Judge John J. Lupe yesterday recommending that the Chicago Newspaper Guild be fined for violating an injunction issued last Feb. 7 by Judge Grover C. Niemeyer.

The injunction forbade coercion, boycotting, and illegal picketing of advertisers or subscribers of the two Chicago Hearst papers, now combined as the Herald-American. Cohen held hearings over a period of several months. He found the guild had deliberately and repeatedly violated the injunction, and reviewed 11 instances in which he said this was true. A strike has been in progress at the Hearst plant since Dec. 5, 1938.

Cohen made no recommendation as to the amount of the fine. Attorneys for the guild will be given ten days to file objections to his findings.

M'GARRY CASE APPEAL CALLS JUDGE LIABLE

Courtney Brief Charges Crime on Bench.

Illinois law provides that a judge may be prosecuted for crime just as any other person, State's Attorney Courtney asserted yesterday in a brief filed in Appellate court. The brief asked reversal of the decision of Judge Joseph Graber of the Criminal court in dismissing an indictment against Judge Eugene L. McGarry of the Municipal court.

McGarry was indicted on a charge of malfeasance and conspiracy to accept false bail bond acknowledgements. In dismissing the charge on Nov. 21, Judge Graber held that the acts alleged came within McGarry's discretion as a judge, and that no judge can be indicted and tried for acts committed within his judicial discretion. He held that impeachment was the proper procedure.

State Code Cited.

This view was attacked yesterday in the brief filed by First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert C. Crowley and Assistant State's Attorney John Gallagher. They cited chapter 13, paragraph 9 of the Illinois state code as follows:

"All judges and all officers of the several courts within this state shall be liable to be arrested and held to bail and shall be subject to the same legal processes and may in all respects be prosecuted and proceeded against in the same courts and in the same manner as other persons."

Argue Criminal Basis.

The state's attorney's brief asserted that the language of the law is conclusive as to the right of the people to prosecute a judge for crime. In the McGarry case, the brief continued, the indictments charged a crime, and the grounds advanced in the pleadings [thru which the indictments were quashed by Judge Graber] were not sufficient for setting aside the indictment.

As a result of the bail bond charges Judge McGarry was removed temporarily from the bench early in December by Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby. The judge's conduct also has been under scrutiny of the judiciary committee of the Chicago Bar association.

GARY POLICEMAN DANCES HIS WAY BACK ON TO FORCE

Policeman Charles P. McMahon was reinstated on the Gary force yesterday after he had convinced the city civil service commission that his injured right foot did not affect his agility.

McMahon walked, trotted, and ran around the commission's room, then did a sailor's hornpipe. Chief William J. Linn then recommended that he be put back on the force and the commission agreed.

McMahon, who is 35 years, old, lost a part of his foot in an accident when he was 6 years old. On Jan. 1 federal agents, after a survey, recommended his dismissal because of the injury.

Pays U. S. Tax Penalties and Presses Roll Again

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17 [Special].—The presses of the Purcell Publishing company in suburban Plymouth were humming again today, after Mrs. R. R. Purcell, wife of the owner, paid social security tax penalties of $10.60. Internal revenue bureau agents had sealed the presses Monday when Purcell refused to pay the penalties, after tendering $23 in payment of five months' taxes. Purcell is president of the Citizens League of Michigan, an organization protesting against the payment of old age insurance taxes. In his plant are printed protest slips, distributed free to employés to be attached to pay roll checks.

Ready for Jail

MISS NAOMI TAYLOR.

Miss Naomi Taylor, who at the age of 28 tips the scales at 210, appeared at the Irving Park police station yesterday. She had just concluded a tour of the United States, most of it by plane. Now, she said, she wants to go to jail to learn a trade.

Naomi formerly worked as cashier for a meat market at 5914 Irving Park road. On Nov. 4 she was told her services would not be needed after Thanksgiving. Later that day, when on the way to a bank to deposit $447 for the market, she decided to have one glorious fling with the money.

As she told her story yesterday, she did. She took a plane to New York and stayed there a week, seeing six Broadway shows. Then she flew to Washington. Then she flew to San Francisco and later to Los Angeles. Her money was almost gone, so she boarded a bus, came back to Chicago, spent her last 25 cents for a movie, and went to the police.

LEAPS TO DEATH HALF AN HOUR BEFORE TRIAL

New York, Jan. 17 [Special].—Half an hour before he was to have gone on trial charged with swindling Harry Revel, British born popular song writer, Benjamin Lawrence committed suicide today by leaping from an eighth floor Manhattan hotel room.

Lawrence and Edward Friedlander were charged with obtaining $8,000 to $10,000 from Revel in a fake citizenship scheme. Revel said they promised to fix records to show that he was born in the United States to prevent his being compelled to return to England. He had come here in 1929 on a visitor's visé, which several times was extended. Finding later that the record still showed him a Briton, Revel took the matter to police.

Lawrence had been free in $7,500 bail since last Nov. 9. Friedlander pleaded guilty on Nov. 22. Lawrence, 47 years old, left a note for his sister, Mrs. Morris Katz of Boston, asking that he be buried in Chicago and that pawned jewelry be given to his wife, from whom he was separated.

Aged Man and Sister Found Dead in Burned Farm Home

Tulia, Tex., Jan. 17 (AP). — The bodies of L. B. Hand, 72 years old, and his sister, Mrs. Lula Widegreen, 76, were found last night in the ruins of their burned farm home. Swisher county officers found Hand's false teeth near a pool of blood 50 yards from the destroyed house.

TWO MORE BARE JOLIET COERCION FOR SLUSH FUND

Tell of 2 Pct. Levies for Democratic Expenses.

Two more former guards of the prisons at Joliet told investigators for State's Attorney James E. Burke of Will county yesterday that they had been coerced into making payments of 2 per cent of their monthly wages for the Democratic campaign chest.

Prosecutor Burke.

The former guards who added to the evidence regarding political payments by civil service employés are Arthur Nelson, 52 years old, and Nelson E. Berve, 42, both of Joliet. Two other ex-guards had told their stories Tuesday. Prosecutor Burke said he will decide next week whether the grand jury should be asked to act in the matter.

Nelson was a civil service guard at the old Joliet prison from 1932 until last July 21, when he was dismissed on a charge that he had taken prisoners thru a forbidden tunnel. He charged that he was entrapped by not being told of a new rule because he was a Republican.

Like Henderson Gibson, a former guard, who was the first witness of the investigation on Tuesday, Nelson said he was ordered to give up 2 per cent of his wages in July, 1938. The payments were made to Capt. James McGuire of the guards, he said, naming the same man described by Gibson.

In addition, Nelson said that on one occasion he was met in the guard hall by Warden George Sehring, former mayor of Joliet, and told by him: "You kick in with that 2 per cent or it will be too bad."

Sehring said last night that Nelson "is a liar by the clock."

The other former guard, Berve, was suspended Dec. 6 on what he contends was a pretext after he quit paying the 2 per cent levy. He said he was dunned for the payments by Capt. William Ryan of the Stateville prison and Chief Clerk H. W. Luthin.

Meanwhile, John L. Clarkson, president of the Union League club, which last week denounced the alleged practice of shaking down civil service workers, praised State's Attorney Burke for making an inquiry.

Dies of Skull Fracture; Police Open Investigation

Lawrence Philbin, 37 years old, 209 North Lamon avenue, a subscription solicitor for the Herald-American, died last night in the county hospital of a skull fracture incurred Jan. 2. Fillmore street police began an immediate investigation. They were told that Philbin was assaulted after being involved in a quarrel with several strangers in a tavern at 3945 Madison street.

FOUR ACQUITTED IN MYSTERIOUS DETROIT HOLDUP

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17 (AP).—The four defendants in the puzzling Dr. Martin B. Robinson robbery case were acquitted today after a trial which presiding Judge Thomas M. Cotter said contained perjury and in many respects reeked. The men were rearrested immediately and Detective Inspector Edward Graff said they would be charged with carrying concealed weapons.

The case resulted in a big police shakeup. Last July it was a routine robbery case. The defendants, Lewis Jacobs, Irving Feldman, Sidney Cooper, and Joseph Holt, said the holdup was faked so Dr. Robinson could pay them a gambling debt and at the same time recover insurance. A recorder's court jury acquitted the four after deliberating less than three hours.

When the four were arrested, more than $1,000 in new bills and several guns were confiscated. Where most of the money went is a subject of conflicting claims and charges. The new police commissioner, Frank D. Eaman, made it plain he believed several policemen were bribed.

2 BEAT 'GUNSHOT' CASE; IT'S JUST A SNAP FOR THEM

Miss Loula Crowley had an explanation for how she was injured last Saturday, but it looked like a gunshot wound. The police therefore entered a disorderly conduct charge against Miss Crowley and Frank Harris, owner of a tavern at 110 East 14th street, who took her to the County hospital for treatment. Yesterday Miss Crowley, who lives at 1308 South Wabash avenue, and Harris were arraigned in Women's court. Judge Jay A. Schiller dismissed the charges, because X-ray photographs upheld her story—she was injured when her garter buckle snapped.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities."—From the Farewell Address.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN DOESN'T EXPLAIN.

Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Hore-Belisha, the discharged war minister, have discussed the ministerial changes before parliament and the British are not much wiser than they were before. The best of parliamentary traditions of reticence and understatement were observed. The public knows that Mr. Hore-Belisha is out for no reason sufficient to put him out, unless it might be found in his very ability to do the work intrusted to him as minister of war.

Mr. Chamberlain's most illuminating remark was that Hore-Belisha's driving ability made it seem advisable that he be transferred to another post which, when offered, he declined to accept. In this it would appear that the young minister endeavored to hustle the army and the high command refused to be hustled. The generals may have been restless under the pressure of civilian energy and have complained that things couldn't be done that way.

The particulars are lacking, but it would be a fair guess that in the end the things Hore-Belisha wanted done will be done, but only after some serious experiences have proved that they must be done. The slow breaking down of bureocratic stubbornness and opposition gives a nation at war an anxious or a dangerous period in which it suffers and sacrifices more than should be required to attain the objectives sought. This always has been so and probably always will be.

In almost any other activity a country can draw upon all the people to procure its great men. The direction of the military activities—army and navy—will be restricted to a few whose qualifications will be determined by their ability to get into a military academy by political pull, prestige, or family influence and who, then, will be able to graduate and who will remain in the service. Great pains are taken to protect the less competent among these few from the competition of any brilliant men, even among the few themselves.

Our own civil war could not have been won for the Union by the generals who rose up thru the regular army. Grant, returning to the army, obtained his commission as colonel from the governor of Illinois; Sheridan his as colonel from the governor of Michigan, and Sherman came back into the service thru his brother, the senator. In the late war, Summerall was the only real outstanding American soldier who was able to shoulder his way thru the press of incompetent seniors.

IN THE SLUSH.

State's Attorney James E. Burke of Will county is making an investigation of the collection of 2 per cent political assessments levied on state employés. Employés in the classified civil service are protected by law from forced political contributions, from solicitation, and such political abuse. In each county in which solicitors for the Democratic state campaign fund have worked on the employés of a state institution there located, the state's attorney has the duty to make inquiry to see if the law has been violated. It's a good law if it is enforced and no good if it isn't.

The violators can't defend themselves by saying that it is the usual thing in politics. The present is not the first instance of it in Illinois, nor is Illinois alone among the states in such practices. These 2 per cent and 5 per cent clubs are common enough in nearly every state, but the fact that the abuse is general and has a long history is the reason for the law prohibiting it.

The politicians who are not in the classified service owe their jobs to their political activity and their success in delivering votes to the men who appointed them. It has been assumed that a percentage of what the state pays them in the job they get as a political reward will go into the campaign fund of the man who gave them the job in order that he may keep his and they keep theirs. Politics works that way and men are active in it to get its perquisites.

The employés in the classified system are supposed to have obtained their positions in competitive examinations and to hold them on merit in the interests of the state. They are supposed to be earning their money and to be giving value received. They are supposed to remain while political administrations change. The law is supposed to protect them and give them immunity from political exactions and from the ups and downs of personal political fortunes.

If the people of Illinois want better state administration they cannot afford to say that these slush funds have always been collected and that, therefore, they always will be. A few successful prosecutions of politicians who have acted as if the law were a dead letter might do a great deal of good in stopping the perennial abuse.

THE JOKER IN THE RAILROAD BILL.

The house and senate conferees have fixed Feb. 1 as the day on which they will begin work on adjusting the differences between the house and senate versions of a transportation regulatory bill. The American Farm Bureau federation has asked that a reasonable time for study and appraisal of the bill agreed upon by the conferees should be allowed before congress votes on it. That is a sane and reasonable request. Hasty action should be avoided because every man, woman, and child in the country has a vital interest in transportation and the efforts being made to increase its cost thru the enactment of additional governmental red tape and restrictive legislation.

There are many things wrong with both bills, but the most serious is a joker that was inserted in the house bill at the close of the hearings before the committee on interstate and foreign commerce at the suggestion of Jesse Jones, chairman of the board of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Section 331 [a] of that bill amends the finance corporation act. The law as it stands at present provides, in substance, that, with the approval of the Interstate Commerce commission, the corporation may lend money to railroads when funds are not available on reasonable terms thru private channels, provided that in connection with such loans the commission shall also certify that the road may reasonably be expected to meet its fixed charges. The total amount of such loans shall not at any time exceed 350 million dollars.

The proposed amendment wipes out all these limitations and gives the RFC authority to make loans to railroads unlimited in the aggregate, regardless of whether or not they are involved in receivership or reorganization proceedings, at such rates of interest and at such maturities as the finance corporation may approve. All that the commission is required to do in the matter is to find that the prospective earning power, together with the character of the security, affords "reasonable protection to the corporation."

Subsection [b] of the same section creates a legal preference for RFC loans in all railroad reorganizations, which might put the RFC in practical control of the reorganization, and remove the claims on notes originating in an RFC transaction from the ordinary processes of bankruptcy. Under many circumstances the amendment would effectively destroy the rights of general, or even preferred, creditors as they now exist.

That the matter of cost to the public is of little concern to New Dealers is well brought out by the answer of Chairman Jones when asked if the underwriting by the RFC of consolidations of railroads would not require a large amount of money. Said Mr. Jones, "That depends upon the definition of 'large.' We have learned that what used to be large is no longer large when talking about dollars. I do not believe we will need additional borrowing authority. I do not know just what we have available now, but we always have enough to last another year; that is, from one session of congress to the next; and if we should need any more we can come to congress and you can give it to us."

The extreme pleasure New Deal burocrats find in playing with billions of public money is, of course, a serious matter. It is not nearly so serious, however, as the fact that the RFC amendments referred to would eliminate any opportunity for private financing of railroad obligations and pave a straight road to socialistic government ownership thru the sure acquisition by the government of title to the railroad properties of the United States.

The great majority of American citizens, it may safely be assumed, and the railroad brotherhoods in particular, disapprove of government ownership. If our government is going into the railroad business the decision surely should be made deliberately, and not thru a legislative joker.

AMERICA IN THE FAR EAST.

Japan has a new cabinet headed by Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai. The veteran Arita is foreign minister. He and the premier are advocates of friendly relations with the United States. The new government has been selected and pointed for the trade treaty issue with America. In Washington Mr. Hull said that a new treaty was being discussed with the foreign office in Tokio.

Japan apparently realizes how serious an embargo might prove to be. Americans who want to use it as a punitive measure may not have considered that it will hit back. Self-interest will prompt Japan to be reasonable if it can do so without a loss of face. America might obtain a satisfactory adjustment of its difficulties with the Japanese in China if its purpose is to protect its own rights. If its purpose is to protect occidental imperialism in China it will have more trouble and gain fewer advantages.

The question to be soon determined is whether American policy is based on Hawaii or on Singapore.

Editorial of the Day

THEY CAN BE "FIXED."

[Detroit Free Press.]

An election year is usually fruitful of "polls" or "surveys" of public opinion respecting both issues and candidates.

There is no reason to assume that this year will be an exception to the rule.

And for that reason the public should always be on guard against taking too seriously a device that easily lends itself to manipulation if those running it are so disposed.

The value of a poll as an accurate indication of public sentiment depends on its "coverage" and also on the way in which its questions are framed.

An interesting study of this subject recently was sponsored by the Psychological corporation.

A candidate for a doctor's degree at Columbia university, working with the corporation, selected for his experiment 3,000 men and women in Irvington, N. J., and for his topic the question of legalized horse racing and pari-mutuel betting in that state.

The men and women whose opinions were to be obtained were divided into five representative groups.

The same question was put to all five groups, but with slight variations in the phrasing of it.

And five different results were obtained.

The conclusion seems unescapable that by clever wording of questions a poll can be made to show just what those who take it wish it to show.

NEWSPAPER ZOOLOGY.

We are fishing for the origin of "bulldog" as used in newspaper terminology. Plausible explanations will be welcomed, and the research should be easy enough, for the expression, we believe, is hardly more than 40 years old. It is fairly familiar to laymen, but if it means nothing to you, read these definitions:

Bulldog: The first edition of morning and Sunday papers which is often thrown together without the careful planning which goes to make up the later editions. Often but little local news is carried in the "bulldog." [Porter and Luxon, "Reporter and the News," p. 543.]

Name given an early mail edition of Sunday newspapers. [Bastian and Case, "Editing the Day's News," p. 266.]

The first morning edition of an evening newspaper; the first night edition of a morning newspaper. [Weseen, "Dictionary of American Slang," p. 314.]

Bullpup: Name given first mail edition of Sunday newspapers. [Bastian and Case, "Editing the Day's News," p. 266.]

There are other animals in the newspaper vocabulary that might be placed on exhibition to compete with "bulldog." For example, "the lobster trick," which is:

The earliest shift of work on an afternoon newspaper, running from midnight to 8 a. m. Its duties consist in the preparation of editorial matter for the first edition by revamping or rewriting "stories" from the morning papers, and performing other chores, usually dull. It is a lonesome, undesirable job, and the term originated, no doubt, in the fact that the men assigned to it were spoken of as "poor lobsters" by their sympathetic, slightly scornful colleagues. "Lobster" was common slang 40 years ago, and meant "guy," with a shading toward clumsiness and ineffectuality.

"Dog watch" is the term for the same shift of work on morning newspapers. Its duties are much more important than those of the "lobster trick." Its origin may be found in nautical terminology.

WINTER GOLF.

Father finds his golf bag
In the closet corner;
Fishes out a driver,
Much like Jacky Horner.

Next, the stance, the backswing—
Something tells him that,
Somewhere near his middle,
Winter put on fat.

Hands go back and upward,
Round behind his ear;
Mother prays God silently
For the chandelier.

Father is envisioning
Fairways firm and sweet—
Licking hell right out of Joe and Dick and Pete.

Mother, who knows everything,
This she does not know:
Now is his one chance to lick
Dick and Pete and Joe.

First Prize for Mixed Metaphors.

See "The Classic Books of America," by W. Somerset Maugham in the Saturday Evening Post of Jan. 6, 1940. In speaking of the novels of Henry James Mr. Maugham, normally a lucid writer who never trips over his own figures of speech, says:

"No one ever plumbed the surface of things with a keener scrutiny."

This is a three base error in style. "To plumb" means, primarily, to measure liquid depth by sounding, and, secondarily, to test for perpendicularity. It is concerned with concepts of depth and mass, and cannot be used in relation to surfaces. Moreover, one does not plumb with "keen scrutiny," but with a plumb line.

Make Way for the Big Boss!

"Thirty" brings to mind another abbreviation, the navy's sign for "priority," which grants the message so prefixed right of way over everything but an "S O S." One story is that when Wilson was en route to France the crashing spark transmitters and the few whistling tube outfits suddenly ceased their chattering in code when the commander in chief's ship sent out a "Priority." The whole Atlantic was still while the operators listened for the secrets of empire. Soon it came, and on being decoded, it read that the President had forgotten his bathrobe, and would some one please forward it on the next boat. Quizzicuss.

SKY WALKER.

(For Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.)

Whence came the noble, the ambrosial food
That nourished your serene, star-lighted soul?
Assuredly no vulgar earthen bowl
Contained such viands, and no table rude
Could hold a banquet of such magnitude.
Angelic ministers set forth a dole
Of beauty, and your heart engulfed the whole,
Translating it for our beatitude.

The fragrant lotus, rooted in the slime
Of fecund earth, draws out its hidden store
Of richness, which its petals purify.
Your shining spirit, from life's care and grime,
Contrived such harmonies as gods adore—
Your boon companions where you walk the sky.

Biography of a Scuttled Liner.

To give you a bit of information concerning the Columbus that has not been mentioned in the news dispatches about her scuttling:

Before she was transferred to German registry she was a British ship. She flew the Union Jack as the S. S. Belgianland and as flagship of the Red Star Line was in the Atlantic service under the command of Capt. John Bradshaw, known as "The Iron Man of the Sea."

She was one of the first ships built with expansion deck seams to prevent vibration.

She was completed early in the world war and her maiden voyages were made as a troop ship. She was the largest ship to make a world's cruise. In order to pass thru the Suez canal without scraping bottom Capt. Bradshaw landed his passengers, and transported them on land from one end of the canal to the other, thus lightening the ship and making the passage possible.

THE HANDICAP OF OVERWEIGHT.

ONE reason why obesity is so important is because the condition appears to be on the increase.

Furthermore, it is responsible for a goodly share of ill health. Of course the victim may function fairly well for a time, but after a while—many years perhaps—the overload will begin to take its toll on vital organs such as the kidneys or the heart.

No fat person ever overeats—at least, that is the plump one's statement. "I am a poor eater" is the routine assertion. True enough, he may stint himself at mealtime, but consume a bar or two of chocolate—or its equivalent—at hourly intervals. Thus he may ingest a total quantity of nourishment far in excess of the demands of his frame. Only a few will possess a clear conception of food values and sometimes a midmorning or afternoon snack will total in fuel calories far more than a square meal.

There is scarcely an overweight person who cannot reduce if he will. He is not forced to do so—so far as Cupid is concerned—because the old adage, "Nobody loves a fat man," just is not so. However, if every one so burdened would preserve his physical powers to the optimum—avoiding many of the disturbances that are likely to come later—such as arthritis, weakening of the heart muscle, susceptibility to bronchitis, and a tendency to infection—reducing is in order. The keys to relief other than less food are exercise, physical therapy, and—to a minor extent—drugs.

One who is active requires approximately 2,500 calories a day, but the same individual lying in bed at rest will need only half this amount. We can't expect to lower poundage unless we decrease the source thereof. It is rarely wise to attempt complete starvation even for a few days. But one can adopt a daily schedule of 500 or 600 units without discomfort and include such articles as orange juice, milk, raw fruits, lettuce, celery, tomatoes, raw or baked [unsweetened] apples, etc. There is sufficient "filling" with this program to counteract the pangs of hunger and yet the storable nutriment is so slight that the body will begin to use its own reserve—fat.

An 800 calorie régime is approximately one-third the normal requirement and—in addition to the above—we may include three ounces of lean roast beef, steamed cauliflower, carrots, salmon, and some nonoily fish such as haddock, cod, or whitefish. Sometimes diet No. 1 can be alternated with No. 2. But on neither menu will the subject feel hungry. The longing for sweets and starches will seldom prove bothersome if the stomach is well filled at each meal.

The loss of a pound a week is ample, and the only requisite after the first 10 days is to make certain that the balance between starches, proteins, and minerals is maintained. Butter, cream, etc., may be forgotten for the time being. Rarely will a vitamin deficiency develop because green vegetables are employed to excess. Drugs, if used at all, must be prescribed with care. I have observed excellent results following small doses of thyroid gland substance, but this may prove harmful unless the patient is observed routinely by a skilful physician. Potassium salts are helpful and one may omit common salt and replace this condiment with potassium chloride.

The most essential element after all is determination, and all members of the family must be willing to coöperate. Moreover, the confirmed "sitter" must be made to indulge in setting up exercises, walking in the open air, etc. But whatever is done, activity must not be strenuous. The same is true of massage. About all that Turkish baths do is to eliminate water—which is replaced promptly when thirst is satisfied. If success does not come, it is because the dose of "stick-to-it-ness" is not adequate.

[A diet list will be furnished upon receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.]

OIL AND PEPTIC ULCER.

P. O. F. writes: I have been taking liquid cod liver oil for the last three winters as a builder-upper. Would this affect a peptic ulcer unfavorably?

REPLY.

Not at all. An excellent source of vitamin D.

UNLIKE TWINS.

Mrs. G. writes: Is it unusual for twins to have eyes of different colors? Both were blue at birth, but one child now has brown eyes.

REPLY.

No. Fraternal twins may have different characteristics.

TIRED AND BLUE.

L. M. K. writes: Could a hemoglobin of 70 be responsible for feeling tired all the time with periods of melancholy?

REPLY.

A lowered hemoglobin is an important factor in chronic fatigue. Other causes, however, may be operating in producing the "blues." Your family physician can aid you.

VANISHING TONSILS.

H. H. writes: I have been told that the tonsils just naturally disappear in old people. Is that true? I am 64 years old. In the morning my throat seems full of mucus, or it may be pus. I think it is from the tonsils.

REPLY.

While they may shrink somewhat with advancing years, they do not disappear. Your discharge is probably due to an infection in the sinuses or the nasal passages.

NEGATIVE BLOOD.

F. H. writes: When a Kahn test is negative does that mean that it is not very good?

REPLY.

Just the opposite. A negative test means that syphilis is not present.

SAMSON'S CURLS.

E. W. J. writes: My 5 year old daughter has very long curls. She is subject to repeated colds and I have been told that we should have her hair cut because all her strength is going to her hair. Anything to this?

REPLY.

Nothing. Samson was the only one whose strength lay in the hair.

HORMONES FOR CATARRH.

M. L. writes: I am a victim of a chronic infection in the nasal passages. Would hormones help?

REPLY.

Hormones have been used to advantage in cases of ozena, atrophic rhinitis, or deafness associated with a nasal catarrh. The use of the estrogenic hormone has brought favorable results. We have a leaflet on this subject that may be obtained by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope.

NARROWED VALVES.

M. T. writes: What is mitral stenosis?

REPLY.

A narrowing of the valve opening between the upper and lower chambers on the left side of the heart. The deformity is due usually to an infection suffered in childhood.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY HAROLD TATAM.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler's lineup with the soviets has jolted the small minority of Argentinians who professed sympathy with the Nazi creed. It appears also to have disgruntled the communists, as well as those extreme leftists who had ceased to look upon Russia any longer as a communist nation, and has given a laugh to those who have long contended that at bottom there is little difference between Nazism and the soviet brand of communism.

With the exception of a condemnation of "soviet treachery," the leading Argentine newspapers have made little or no comment upon the German invasion of Poland. The reaction of the Argentine public, however, is easily learned from the comments of the man in the street. He looks upon the Nazi-communist alignment as a "dirty piece of work," and lets it go at that. In the main, he was pro-empires, anyway, and so this new situation does not make much difference in his attitude.

But to that hitherto vociferous minority that supported Nazi ideals, Hitler's lineup with Russia has struck a staggering blow. That minority was composed of wealthy young bloods, long haired students, and others who looked upon Nazism as an effective method of "keeping the lower classes in their places." This group never tired of quoting Hitler's contemptuous references to "the common herd" in his book "Mein Kampf," as well as to the bolshevik "scum." Hitler's about face rendered them speechless.

To that section of the Argentine police charged with keeping a close watch on communist, Nazi, and other foreign propaganda, Hitler has presumably rendered a service, as indications point to such activities subsiding or ceasing altogether due to lack of response.

No section of the Argentine people criticizes Berlin and Moscow more than do the workers, and at present it would be a bold propagandist who supported, or even offered apologies, for either.

This does not mean that the European democracies escape the workers' criticisms, but as the empires are credited with fighting in the better cause, criticism is at present largely drowned in sympathy.

How Our States Got Their Names

10. IDAHO.

This name was given to the Idaho territory in 1863. It derives from the Shoshoni Indian "Ee-dah-how," meaning "It is sun up." The poetic interpretation of this, which alludes to the gemlike glitter of snowy mountain peaks in the sun's rays, has led to Idaho's being called the "gem of the mountains" and nicknamed the Gem state. Idaho was admitted to statehood on July 3, 1890.

Idaho state seal. It includes woman with spear, liberty cap, and scales; miner with pick and shovel; horns of plenty; a sheaf of wheat; shield surmounted by elk's head and bearing scene of mountains, stream, and sun, and a scroll engraved "Esta Perpetua." The star in outer edge signifies "a new light in the galaxy of states."

Idaho also is nicknamed "Little Ida" because it is smaller than most of the western states. The state motto is "Esta Perpetua" ["Mayest Thou Endure Forever"]. The state song is "Here We Have Idaho." The state flower is the syringa, and the state bird, the mountain bluebird. Idaho was first settled in 1834.

WATER LEAK.

Chicago, Jan. 11 [Friend of the People].—The fire plug on our lawn is broken and water spouting out ruining our lawn and being a general nuisance, as all the children in the neighborhood paddle around in the water on the lawn. This matter has been called to the attention of the water department several times, as the condition has existed for two months. If there is anything you can do to get the new fire hydrant installed, which the inspector said is the only remedy, I would appreciate it very much. The lawn is now ruined almost beyond repair. A. S.

Please be advised that under date of Dec. 19 the water pipe extension division of the bureau of engineering made necessary repairs to fire hydrant at the location complained of. We thank you for calling this matter to our attention. O. B. HEWITT, Commissioner of Public Works.

OUR MERCHANT SHIPS.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Eighteen years ago at the Washington naval conference we agreed with England to destroy the newly built and building American battleships, which, when completed, would have made our navy superior to that of Great Britain.

It appears that we are now witnessing another great demarche, this time in favor of disbanding and breaking up the American merchant marine which might otherwise take over the commerce in Pacific and South American waters previously controled by England, France, and Germany. The false excuse given for selling American merchant ships to Norway and others, and now the proposed sale of six ships to England, is that the ships would otherwise be idle. Nothing is further from the truth. Due to the destruction of ships in the war and the increased requirements of warring nations, there is a crying demand all over the world for boat bottoms in every ocean. Our own Philippines have been pleading for months, without avail, for assignment of American ships to carry their commerce.

FREDERICK J. BERTRAM.

THE PRICE OF PARTY REGULARITY.

Bridgeport, Wis., Jan. 11.—Now comes a howl from Florida, a bitter complaint that Mr. Roosevelt has denied their people the privilege of manufacturing cane sugar to the extent they would wish and for which they are well adapted. He has been liberal with Cuba first and secondly with the beet growers of the west and middle west. Why? Because he knows he doesn't have to buy the vote of the solid south, while the vote of the beet growers is not so sure.

I want to say to the Florida voters: That's what you get for being solid. Better loosen up a bit and do a little independent thinking and voting.

As an American I can't understand what right the government has to tell any of our people what, where, or how much they should plant, provided they own the land and comply with the civil laws. I wish the Florida people were in a position to ignore such unreasonable laws and go ahead and produce all the sugar they wish to produce.

H. LATHROP.

QUESTION FOR MR. DIES.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Part of a news item in today's TRIBUNE: An English inspector came aboard an Italian ship at the control point Gibraltar and asked the captain if he had 1,250 sacks of mail from the United States. When the captain replied "Yes," the inspector said, "We would like to have sack 350. It contains a registered package of diamonds consigned to Germany." Sack 350 yielded the package of diamonds, which was confiscated.

To be honest, Mr. Dies, don't those agents of his majesty's intelligence service make our American Nazi and communist spies look like pikers?

WILLIAM L. SCHNELLE.

ALONE IN THE BIG CITY.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—I have in mind the young people, perhaps also the not so young, who have limited means of making acquaintances in the city: Girls and young men who spend lonely evenings and lonelier Sundays, because they are too well bred and too self-respecting to strike up acquaintances in hotel lobbies, restaurants, and other public places.

Living in a girl's club I know any number of fine, intelligent, good looking girls who live in girls' clubs, apartments, and even girls who live at home who would give anything to meet equally nice men in the right way; and I am told by men who are in the know, that there is an equal number of men who have the same desire.

The so-called society girls have their Junior league, which extends into every city. One of them alights into a perfectly strange city, visits the local Junior League club and presto, she knows every one she wishes to know.

Why not such an organization for the less favored American youth? We are all just as worthwhile I am sure, and it seems to me it would be a nice worthy cause for the Federation of Women's Clubs to take up.

A WOULD-BE MEMBER.

HATS FOR THE FREE.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Bettina Bedwell's article in Sunday's TRIBUNE, revealing the menace the "unhatted craze" is becoming to the millinery industry, was a portent and timely.

Why is this once lively and lucrative industry failing? Some say because women have become disgusted with freakishly-styled hats. This is doubtful, since those styles were created in a frantic attempt to stimulate business.

If the American woman were to wear a new hat as the symbol of her American freedom, instead of going around head-scarfed in the manner of peasants of down-trodden and dictator-ridden countries, she would be nobly doing her bit in putting the millinery business back among the strong ranks where it belongs.

MARGARET HEILMAN.

OPPRESSION IN IRELAND.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—May I inform Cautious of Dubuque, Ia., that his Irish history is sorely neglected? What does he mean by saying if the Free State should succeed in taking over and oppressing Ulster? I was born and raised there and I know who did the oppressing. May I ask Cautious what right England has to Ireland any more than Russia has to Finland?

VICTIM.

QUESTION FOR REPUBLICANS.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—What are the Republican powers that be in Chicago doing toward formation of new and strong ward and precinct organization for the November elections? One that will not sell out for a few pieces of silver. Is it not a fact that many Republican voters have, in effect, been disfranchised in some Chicago precincts? C. H. H.

[Kansas City Star.]

LONG IS FORCED INTO A RUN-OFF PRIMARY FEB. 20

Louisiana Attorney Will Be Opponent.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 17 (AP).—Jubilant over results of yesterday's Democratic primary, Louisiana reform forces looked today to a runoff test to wrest the governorship from Earl Long and break the 12 year rule of Huey Long and his political heirs.

The brother of the slain Kingfish held a plurality of more than 50,000 with nearly two-thirds of the votes counted, altho on the basis of votes counted he is 28,000 short of the clear majority necessary to win the nomination, which is tantamount to election in one-party Louisiana. Yesterday was the first time since 1928 that the Long machine had not swept its objectives easily in the first vote.

Long refused to admit tonight that he would be forced into a runover, but Sam Jones, Lake Charles attorney, leading the field of four antimachine candidates, announced he would take the stump this week in preparation for the second primary Feb. 20.

Half of Precincts Report.

With 1,060 of 1,703 precincts reported Long had 140,920 votes; Jones, 99,743; State Senator James A. Noe of Monroe, 77,867; James H. Morrison of Hammond, 24,152; Vincent Moseley, Opelousas, 5,442.

Those predicting a runoff counted heavily on the fact that this total included virtually complete returns from New Orleans where Long ran strongly with the support of Mayor Robert Maestri.

Maintenance of these ratios would leave the balance of power in the hands of those who voted today for Noe, Morrison, and Moseley.

Jones' backers insisted Long drew his maximum strength yesterday and their man would get the votes of three eliminated candidates regardless of what these three might say. The governor said he would get 80 per cent of the Noe vote and was a cinch for eventual election.

Noe Still Confident.

Noe, stormy former governor and as ardent an admirer of Huey Long as he was a critic of Earl Long, refused to count himself out of the race and therefore would not say he would throw his influence in a Long-Jones test. He believed the crossroads' vote would sweep him into second place at least.

While returns from outstate still dribbled in, a federal grand jury began an investigation into widespread irregularities in yesterday's turbulent balloting.

Long's ticket appeared to be riddled by the ballot, with his candidates for attorney general, state treasurer, and state superintendent of education either apparently defeated or facing a runoff.

Eugene Stanley, New Orleans district attorney who battled Huey Long for years, appeared to have won the post of attorney general on his campaign promise he would stop graft and corruption and reform the courts.

Lawyer for 17 Years.

Jones was born in a two room farm house near Merryville, Beauregard parish, July 15, 1897, one of a large family. His parents moved in a few years to DeRidder where he attended public schools until he was old enough to enter Louisiana State university where he waited on tables to help pay expenses.

In 1917 he was enlisted, but did not get overseas. He returned to DeRidder to read law privately in the office of his father, then court clerk. He was admitted to the bar in 1922, and later was named to fill an unexpired term as city judge.

Jones moved to Lake Charles in 1924 and became assistant district attorney. He was elected state commander of the American Legion. Nine years ago he retired from office and became a partner in the Lake Charles firm of McCoy, King & Jones. He resigned from the firm when he announced his candidacy.

Mrs. Jones is a childhood acquaintance whom he married in 1934, the former Louise Gambrell Boyer, daughter of a Tucson, Ariz., city councilman. She had two children by a former marriage and two more have been born since her marriage to Jones.

BUSINESS MAN'S GIFT TO LOVERS: HONEYMOON ISLE

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—A 43 year old business man who has always loved islands decided today to turn over a wooded isle he owns in the Gulf of Mexico to honeymooning couples—on the theory that a honeymoon should be the happiest, most carefree time in one's life.

From now until September, honeymooners can go and live for two weeks on Clinton M. Washburn's island—henceforth to be Honeymoon Isle—25 miles off Tampa, Fla. Palm thatched roofs will be their shelter, built by the owner. There's a sandy white beach. Washburn also will provide a radio or so, so they can dance.

The only things the honeymooners have to bring: Clothes, cooking equipment, wherewithal to buy groceries on the mainland, and whatever they wish in the way of sleeping bags.

CREWS OF BOTH I. C. TRAINS GET BLAME IN CRASH

F. R. Mays, vice president and general manager of the Illinois Central railroad, said yesterday that mistakes by both train crews were responsible for the New Year's day wreck of two of the railroad's Chicago bound flyers at Arcola, 156 miles south of Chicago in Douglas county.

One person was killed and 54 others were injured when the Panama Limited crashed into the rear of the Louisiane, which was leaving Arcola after an unscheduled stop.

Mays, returning here from Champaign, where on Tuesday the Illinois and Interstate Commerce commissions held a joint inquiry into the accident, said the safety control system of the Panama Limited, which warns the engineer when the train is within a half mile of another on the same track, had failed. The flagman of the Louisiane was also blamed for not sending out warning signals quickly enough and far enough behind that train.

LEADERS CLING TO POSITIONS IN MOVIE CONTEST

New York, Jan. 17 [Special].—The 10 leaders in the elections to choose the king and queen of the movies for 1940 held their relative positions in today's voting except that Spencer Tracy forced Nelson Eddy out of eighth place. Richard Greene and Bette Davis continued to hold their top honors.

The third day's voting gave the first five candidates for king the following points: Greene, 11,321; Tyrone Power, 9,852; James Stewart, 9,250; Mickey Rooney, 8,628, and Errol Flynn, 7,982. The five leaders for queen were: Davis, 19,452; Sonja Henie, 10,402; Priscilla Lane, 10,126; Alice Faye, 7,256, and Judy Garland, 7,013.

The contest is sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the New York Daily News, and 53 other newspapers in key cities, choices being listed by readers among the 22 million reached by the participating newspapers. A vote for first place yields 3 points; second place, 2 points, and third place, 1 point.

TRACY LEADS MEN HERE.

In the Chicago voting Spencer Tracy and Bette Davis were leading the balloting. Leaders in Chicago were: For king: Tracy, 2,836 points; Mickey Rooney, 2,516; Errol Flynn, 1,817; Tyrone Power, 1,765, and Clark Gable, 1,437. For queen: Miss Davis, 6,314; Judy Garland, 3,844; Myrna Loy, 3,353; Sonja Henie, 3,049, and Deanna Durbin, 2,867.

MIAMIS EXPECT MILLION WINTER SEASON GUESTS

Island City and Her Older Brother Jammed.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 17.—The resort season is swinging into its peak in record volume, indicating that this island city and its big brother on the mainland will entertain a million visitors this winter. The streets are jammed and the parking lots are filled with cars from every state in the union, impressively dramatizing the glowing announcements from official press agents.

Joe Copps, who heads a tax supported publicity staff of 14 men and women for Miami Beach, produced garbage collection records to substantiate his estimate that the number of persons on these 17 acres of man-made land is 30 per cent greater than for the same date a year ago. These collection figures are considered a better gauge than water consumption, since weather influences the quantity of sprinkling. Similar statistics given Miami's resort business a corresponding gain this year.

Build 47 Hotels in Year.

Accommodations have been expanded in approximately the same proportion as the swelling of patronage. In 1939, 47 hotels were completed at a cost of $4,371,000. More than a fourth of the resort's hotels are less than a year old. In the last five years accommodations have been doubled. The city built by sunshine, by publicity, and by hydraulic pumps filling a mangrove islet, is only 25 years old.

A hasty survey of prices indicates there is no general trend from a year ago. The new places did a bit of cutting to establish a clientele. Some of the older places well booked have been able to get a little more than last winter. The $20 a day hotels have held steady. Food prices, insofar as is apparent, have not been raised.

Towns Spreading Out.

In the 68 mile drive here in The Tribune road car from Palm Beach, there was much evidence of a growing popularity thruout America of winter vacations, travel, and residence in the south. On U. S. 1, close to the Atlantic shore, cabin camps and roadside stands, landscaped with palms and brilliant flowers, border the highway. Towns have spread noticeably during the last two years.

Fort Lauderdale, 24 miles north of here, is advertising itself as the fastest growing city in America. The chamber of commerce lists its year around population as follows: 1910, 143; 1920, 2,065; 1930, 8,666; 1935, 9,222; 1938, 16,227, and 1939, 20,000. With its winter visitors, there are an estimated 40,000 persons in the city today.

Building Permits Soar.

Houses are springing up on almost every Fort Lauderdale street, many of them becoming modern treatments of Moorish or Bahaman architecture, richly buried in tropical gardening. Building permits totaled $4,000,000 in 1939 as compared with $2,700,000 in the previous year, 1938.

But it's the Miami and Miami Beach area, with its night clubs and its horse and dog racing, that still draws the big crowds, especially from New York City. The mainland town, with a 1935 census of 127,000, has a capacity to accommodate 125,000 visitors simultaneously and will have a total of 750,000 visitors this season. Miami Beach, with a summer population of 20,000, has accommodations for 55,000 visitors and will entertain 200,000 during the season.

REVEAL 66 LOOP PROPERTIES OWE $6,891,802 TAX

Identity of Delinquents on 1928-'38 Levies Told.

Sixty-six properties in the loop owe a total of $6,891,802 in delinquent real estate taxes, a study by the Citizens' Committee on Tax Collections showed yesterday.

The study was made in coöperation with the county treasurer's bureau of delinquent tax collections, which released the locations of the delinquent properties. Included in the survey were all of the 840 parcels in the area bounded by the Chicago river on the north, Van Buren street on the south, Lake Michigan on the east and Wells street on the west. Taxes overdue for the years 1928-'38 were included.

Represent 5 Per Cent of Total.

The committee found that the total back taxes of nearly 7 millions on the 66 delinquent properties was equal to nearly 5 per cent of the total, $142,700,000, of tax delinquency that has accumulated in Cook county since 1928. The remaining 95 per cent is distributed among more than 250,000 properties.

Arthur Sullivan, attorney for the county treasurer, said most of the 66 loop properties are available for tax foreclosure sales, but that a scarcity of tax buyers has prevented sales.

The properties and their delinquent realty taxes for the years 1928-'38, as shown on the treasurer's records, follow:

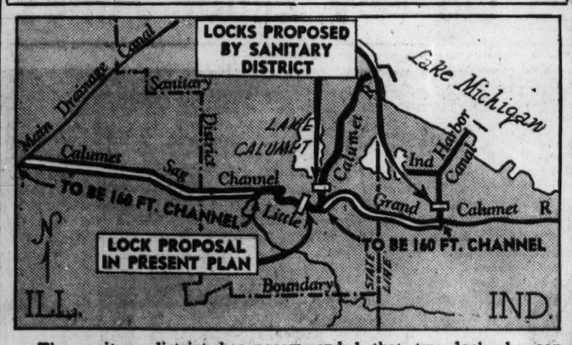
Ask Change in Channel Plans



The sanitary district has recommended that two locks be constructed in the Calumet-Sag channel instead of one in report to be submitted to congress. Plans now also call for widening of the Calumet-Sag canal to 160 feet to allow two way traffic and dredging of a 160 foot channel from the existing channel of the Grand Calumet river from the Little Calumet river to its junction with the Indiana Harbor canal.

2 LOCKS URGED IN CALUMET SAG CHANNEL PLANS

Drainage Board Fears Lake Pollution.

A recommendation of the sanitary district that two locks be constructed in the Calumet-Sag channel, instead of the one lock called for in the present plan for improvement of the waterway, will be included in a report to be submitted to congress early this spring, members of the United States engineers' office said yesterday.

Representatives of the sanitary district proposed the change in locks and several other modifications of the original plan at a public hearing Tuesday in the new postoffice building.

Asks Review of Project.

The hearing was ordered after the committee on rivers and harbors of the house of representatives, which last March approved plans for the improvement of the channel, had returned them with a request for a review of the project. The Calumet-Sag channel, when completed, will give the Indiana Harbor district two-way barge traffic to the Illinois waterway. Cost of the project will be $25,900,000.

Plans now call for one control lock in the Little Calumet river, widening of the Calumet-Sag channel to 160 feet to allow two way traffic, and dredging of a 160 foot channel from the existing channel of the Grand Calumet river from the Little Calumet river to its junction with the Indiana Harbor canal.

The sanitary district argued that, unless the control lock is moved from the Little Calumet river to the Calumet river proper and another lock or flood gate is built in the Calumet river branch of the Indiana Harbor canal the cities of East Chicago, Gary, Hammond, and Whiting "will be frozen to a situation where the citizens are indefinitely condemned to drink their own sewage and the industrial wastes from the territory tributary." The district also asserted that, under the one lock system, the water supply of Chicago will be subject to contamination because the Calumet-Sag channel will flow back into Lake Michigan.

City Backs Proposal.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works of Chicago, presented a written statement supporting the sanitary district's proposals.

The sanitary district proposals were opposed by representatives of the East Chicago Chamber of Commerce, the Illinois Steel corporation, the Hammond Chamber of Commerce and the Indiana state department of commerce and industry.

RIDGEVIEW BLOC TOPS NILES CENTERITES IN NAME CHANGE BATTLE

The village to the northwest, which for a hundred years has been known as Niles Center, is expected to change its name to Ridgeview.

Despite the position of 1,760 old-timers that not a letter should be changed in the time honored name, a petition was presented last night bearing 2,647 names in favor of Ridgeview. William Schnur, a former village trustee, is the leader of the conservatives, and Martin Ward, assistant United State's attorney, represents the younger set who favor the change in name. The town has a population of 5,500.

A public hearing will be held Feb. 20 to make the formal decision, but the village board has announced that popular opinion will rule.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 17 (AP).—Laura Ingalls, widely known American flyer, was stranded tonight at the little town of Banamachi, Sonora, Mexico, about 120 miles south of the United States border, after a forced landing. Mexican customs officials understood her plane ran out of gasoline. She took off from the Douglas municipal field yesterday for Los Angeles, expecting to stop at Phoenix en route. Airport officials could not explain how she got so far off her course.

DEMOCRAT ASKS HOUSE INQUIRY ON SEAWAY TREATY

Demands That Hull Delay Negotiations.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—Representative Martin J. Kennedy [D., N. Y.] today introduced a resolution in the house calling for an investigation of the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence navigation and power development project.

In forwarding his resolution to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Kennedy urged that all negotiations toward concluding a treaty to authorize the seaway project be suspended until the house has acted on its provisions.

The administration now is seeking to negotiate a treaty for development of the waterway and power scheme. An American delegation visited Canada for treaty discussions recently, and a Canadian delegation is to return the visit next week.

Calls Attention to War.

It is expected that the proposed treaty will be made public during the visit of the Canadian group, and that the document will be submitted to the senate next month.

In the resolution Kennedy called attention to the fact that Canada is now at war. "This government," the resolution asserted, "must carefully and fully consider taking any step that might result in involving this country in the existing war among world powers."

The senate in 1934 killed a previous waterway treaty which had not been ratified by the Canadian government.

In his resolution Kennedy suggested that the house committee investigation include the following:

1. A comprehensive study of the cost of the project which would determine what proportions are to be borne by the United States of America and Canada.

2. Determination of the probable amount of traffic on the waterway.

Would Study Employment.

3. Comprehensive revision of previous studies of the project with relation to the present state of world affairs and present internal industrial economics and policies.

4. A detailed study of the problems of international and domestic law arising from the present neutrality policy.

5. The effect on employment, trade and industry of development of a project almost wholly within the Dominion of Canada.

6. The effects of the project on existing transportation facilities.

7. Effect of the treaty on this nation's national defense.

8. The treaty's effect on the limitation of Lake Michigan water to 1,500 cubic feet per second for the lakes to Gulf of Mexico waterway.

Good Morning!

Not alone, the prisoner at the bar, wrongly accused, convicted of and sentenced to die for a crime he didn't commit. On the world's battlefields his companions in misery are legion—innocent victims of hate and fear, going willy-nilly to unmerited and futile slaughter. . . .

Now you know the meaning of the title.

As you're aware, James Hilton's novels—"Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "Lost Horizon"—bear the mark of the thinker. "We Are Not Alone" is no exception. The story has both power and delicacy, and one senses behind its telling the singing of a mighty faith, muted sometimes perhaps, but never drowned out by the surging winds of fell circumstance. . . .

No one, of course, could better understand or portray a Hilton hero than Paul Muni, and he brings to the rôle of gentle, humane, comprehending Dr. Newcome, with his intense impatience over life's senseless brutalities and artificialities the warm and brilliant genius for characterization which made Pasteur and Zola come alive again.

Dr. Newcome is a small town English physician, going efficiently and cheerily about his business in the year of 1914. He has a dour, strict, and poisonously suspicious wife and a sensitive and imaginative little son kept actively unhappy by the mother's influence. The family is served by a skinny troublemaker of a maid.

The doctor's kindness to an Austrian girl, who comes into the home to be the boy's governess, sets tongues wagging. . . . The small boy's fear of his mother causes him to keep silent about an accident with medicine bottles—which results in a death, laid at the door of the doctor and the gentle Leni. Circumstantial evidence does the rest. See the film if you're interested in learning what happens from here on.

Mr. Muni is perfect. Jane Bryan handles her most difficult rôle of the Austrian girl with an intuition and deftness that places her in the front rank of emotional actresses. You'll hate Flora Robson as the wife—and realize the swell job she's doing to MAKE you hate her so. . . . You'll want to applaud the excellent performances of everybody else in the cast—most intelligently chosen for type.

Direction, staging, photography, scenery are all tops. And never was more skilfully—or more unostentatiously—pointed.

See you soon.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Take the Stand, Marlene Dietrich.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 17.—You can get odds of 100 to 1 that a performer who stays out of pictures for two solid years is a dead pigeon in this town. . . . Marlene Dietrich was kept out of pictures for two solid years, but at the present moment "Destry Rides Again" is breaking records all over the country.

At 118 pounds Miss Dietrich is really something to look at, either on screen or off. . . . She has the racy lines of a cup defending yacht at a Newport anchorage. . . . Yet when she started with the Max Reinhardt players in Berlin they gave her nothing but old crones to impersonate. . . . In one of those early plays Director William Dieterle ["Hunchback of Notre Dame," "Juarez"] played her son.

American publicity methods startled her immediately. . . . Paramount, determined to build her into a glamorous mystery woman, gave out stories that she was not married. . . . Interviewer Marcella Burke asked Marlene about this. . . . "I'm married and I have a child," said Miss Dietrich. . . . "You will get into trouble with the company if I write this," suggested Miss Burke, "because glamor girls aren't supposed to be mothers."

"Write it," said the wearied Miss Dietrich. "I am a mother." . . . As a result of this unheard of statement, which did not injure Miss Dietrich at the box office, Hollywood became child conscious.

The wave of Hollywood adoptions started right then as the records of orphanage homes will attest. . . . The story gave Miss Burke a scoop, and later a screen play; her "Mad About

Black Coffee Brown Is New Pet of Fashion

BY REA SEEGER.

Black coffee brown, in luscious thick satins, in smart dull woolens, in taffetas as crisp as lettuce, and in clinging crêpes, makes the most exciting color fashion of the new season.

This stunning deep shade is an ardent flatterer for any skin. It's simply a knockout as a basic wardrobe color with which to play the ever engrossing game of costume accessories. It goes with the golden glint of copper, with dusky gold; is surprisingly effective with polished silver and such colors as coral and turquoise jade.

Black coffee brown is a heart breaker in smooth or coarse linen weaves as the perfect contrast for golden sun tans, so this new color goes down south as well as stays at home for the winter pickup models in wool, heavy silks, or wool mixtures.

This shade is dark enough to take the place of either navy or black as a background color. It's different; it has punch and snap compared with lighter and more listless brown tones. No wonder it's the rage of the hour. Hats, footgear, bags, wools, silks, and cottons are ready now.

Silks that feature this fascinating rich shade are luxurious duchess satin, satin crêpes, and dull crêpes. The duchess satin has a lovely glint of bronzy gold in the shadows that gives the stuff life and snap; it combines perfectly with wool and makes just as smart daytime clothes as it drapes into sophisticated evening gowns.

If you're weary of navy, black, or that nondescript brown, try this brand new black coffee shade . . . it's guaranteed to keep you and the rest of the fashion audience awake for weeks to come!

Club Federation to Seek Jubilee Fund of Million

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 [Special].—Half a century of organization and achievement in many fields of public welfare will be celebrated by the 15,000 units of the General Federation of Women's Clubs thru a foundation fund of $1,000,000 to be completed by May, 1941. Announcement of the opening of the drive featured today's sessions of the group's national board of directors. Interest on the foundation fund will be used to maintain headquarters in Washington and for operating expenses of the federation.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

One of the great beauty specialists has devised a feather-light foundation cream that we think has tremendous possibilities. She created it originally for the youthful skin but we have a theory that many a mother will be dipping into her young daughter's jar.

The preference seems to be for light foundations. The rather heavy ones, women tell us, require some deftness to apply for the best results. And many women are made a little nervous by them; they say the skin feels coated, which makes them feel fidgety.

This foundation cream is very thin and light weight. It films the skin ever so lightly, just enough to protect it and serve as a flattering and more lasting base for makeup. The reason it's so popular with the young girls is that when it's used the face never has the slightest "made up" look. The skin looks dewy and natural. We think a great many mature women who are conservative about their makeup and whose skins are normal enough to require nothing heavier will like it for the same reasons.

It comes in three shades, a natural rachel, which is a creamy shade; a rose rachel, which has rosy undertones, and a bronze. This last isn't a deep shade, however. It would be a natural tint for many brunettes.

The lovely skin is made lovelier by artful makeup, and one of the most important features of the good makeup is the foundation. Every woman should try to find a foundation that serves her best, not only as a protective but as a glorifier of her complexion.

Graduates of Old Seminary Hold Reunion

BY JUDITH CASS.

ONE of the coldest days of the winter and a flu bug that is hopping busily about the city kept a number of older members and officers away from the Dearborn Seminary Alumnæ association's annual meeting and luncheon yesterday at the Fortnightly.

About half a hundred [one-third of the membership] turned out to hear the annual reports and to reëlect Mrs. Lincoln Coy [Alice Wood] president.

The three vice presidents were reelected, too, but none was present. Mrs. Frederic Woodward [Harriet Walton] is in California; Mrs. Robert E. Peacock [Josephine McClain] and Mrs. John Leeming [Margaret Sibley] are flu victims. Mrs. George D. Richards [Margaret Haass], who is the new recording secretary, also was absent because of illness. The retiring recording secretary, Mrs. Alexander Hodgart [Marion Sturtevant] is away on a cruise.

Mrs. John G. McDonald [Camille Henry] was the heroine of the business meeting, for she read the reports of all of the absentees. She is to be the group's new corresponding secretary. Mrs. Leonora Temple Hoyne was reëlected treasurer.

Mrs. Elisha Chandler, Class of 1876, Attends.

Mrs. Ferdinand Peck, a member of the class of 1866 of the school, which was dissolved in 1906, missed her first luncheon in several years. She and Mrs. Cornelia W. McLaury are the oldest alumnæ. Mrs. McLaury, too, was absent yesterday. Mrs. Elisha Chandler, a graduate of 1876, was there, and so were Mrs. Charles H. ReQua and Mrs. George C. Gibbs, who went to the school for a few months in the early 1880s.

"Don't mention what class I was in," cautioned Mrs. William G. Sage, who has not yet reached an age to be included among the oldest of the alumnæ. Mrs. Walter E. Faithorn came all the way from Oconomowoc, motoring over icy roads.

The alumnæ meet every year on the birthday of the founder of the first female seminary in Chicago, Zuinglius Grover.

Mrs. Eleanor Winterbotham Arrives from East Today.

Mrs. Eleanor Hall Winterbotham is arriving from the east today to spend two weeks with Mrs. George T. Langhorne. A number of small parties for Mrs. Winterbotham have been planned by her Chicago friends.

Among those who have made reservations for luncheon following the musical program at the Woman's Athletic club this morning are Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mrs. George J. Jaeger, Mrs. Arthur Bentley, and Miss Nettie Baumann. Vera Gillette and Vincent Micari will give a two-piano recital at 11:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Ralph James has planned a musical afternoon for members of the Alliance Française. The program is to be given at 3 o'clock today by Mme. Josephine Porto, soprano, and Emma Marzullo, pianist.

Chicago Needlework on Display in New York.

Chicagoans who are in New York during the next few days will visit the fifth annual exhibition of Amateur Needlework of Today, which opened yesterday, at W. and J. Sloane's.

Chicagoans represented in the exhibit include Mrs. T. Philip Swift, Mrs. Charles Garfield King, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey Sr. and Jr., and Mrs. Robert J. Thorne.

The proceeds of the exhibit, which will continue thru Jan. 27, will go to the New York Association for the Blind, Lighthouse No. 1.

The Saddle and Cycle club is starting a series of duplicate bridge evenings on Thursdays, commencing this week. Play starts promptly at 8:30, with dinner at 7 o'clock.

There are no strings attached to the invitations Mrs. John P. Hooker has sent out to an opera tea at her Winnetka home next Monday afternoon. Her guests are invited to hear about the Chicago City Opera company from Mrs. John Alden Carpenter and Joseph Nate. They will not be asked either to contribute to the Opera Foundation fund, for which the speakers are working, or to work for the fund.

Mrs. Hooker, however, hopes that her friends will share her interest in grand opera and boost the company by talking it up, in turn, among their friends.

The Illinois Opera guild will hold a business meeting next Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock at the Arts club. The president's report will be followed by tea. Mrs. James G. McMillan is the president.

On Hats in the Theater.

The battered gray felt hat that was last seen by Chicagoans some 18 years ago, when Frank Bacon wore it in Lightnin', will again appear on the boards of a local theater when Harry Cansdale wears it in Overnight at the Chicago Woman's club theater Jan. 31. The hat was made especially for Bacon by a New York costume company when he came to Chicago with Lightnin'. He always considered it lucky, and just before he died gave it to Cansdale, who had appeared in Lightnin' with him.

Raymond Massey, star of Robert Sherwood's Abe Lincoln in Illinois, has what is probably the largest collection of top hats in existence. Admirers of his portrayal of the Lincoln rôle are always sending silk hats of various vintages. Offstage, Mr. Massey is not a high hat fancier.

The stovepipe hat he wears in the play is a replica of the one Lincoln was wearing the night he was assassinated. The original is in the Chicago Historical society. It is 22 inches tall.

January Night.

Gone is the peace and quiet of early winter as the north wind howls mournfully over the ice-incrusted fields and thru the barren trees. Gone, too, is the slim sliver of the moon as scudding black clouds shut off the silver and midnight blue sky. Far away the moan of a heavily laden truck pulling up a steep grade vies with the wind for my attention, and a distant train whistle jeers its defiance to the blasts of winter. The city lights throw a golden fan on the low hanging sky, and a deep melancholy strikes my heart as the bitter cold bites into the very marrow of my bones. Who can deny the existence of a grim, avenging deity on such a January night?

New Flagstad Is Revealed in Beautiful Songs

BY CECIL SMITH.

Kirsten Flagstad's only song recital of the season, given in the Civic Opera house last night, proved that those who have heard her only as a Wagnerian heroine know only a part of her artistry. Wisely excluding Wagner altogether from last night's list, Mme. Flagstad allowed herself opportunities to explore a number of refreshing musical avenues.

She began the evening with the immensely taxing Beethoven scene and aria, "Ah, perfido," and continued thru groups of Brahms and two Norwegian composers, Grieg and the contemporary Sverre Jordan. The second half of the program consisted of a selection of American songs and a Richard Strauss group.

The Strauss songs, coming at the end of the recital when her voice had warmed up to its maximum beauty, were memorably impressive. In "Befreit" she was able to communicate the tenderly elegiac music in long, unbroken phrases supported by seemingly inexhaustible breath. At the same time her voice responded to the sentiment of the text with an exquisite color that reflected Strauss' touching mood of resignation.

In many songs thruout the recital Mme. Flagstad discovered a new and delightful quality of light, smiling graciousness. She made extensive use of the half voice, retaining more warmth of tone in her soft singing than she used to. Among the Brahms songs both "O wüsst' ich doch den weg zurück" and "An ein Veilchen" developed a lyric fluency and a luminous transparency of tone which we have not yet learned to associate with Mme. Flagstad. These and other light and delicate songs did much to break down the assumption that she is only effective as a statuesque declamatory goddess.

The one weak spot in the program was the American group. All the songs sounded alike in the plushy lushness of their decadent chromatic harmony and the strained sentiment of their alleged poetry. Mme. Flagstad, because of her lofty station, can do American music a great service by seeking out a more discriminating list of native songs.

The Girl in the Shadows

By Roy Vickers

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

On the eve of her marriage, Cynthia Brentiford, fashion artist, is sentenced to 18 months in prison under the name of Clara Brown—unknowingly an accomplice in crime with Rory Clarke. Unaware of the disaster, her fiancé, Michael Alloway, is on his way from Malta for the wedding. At Honebyker, Cynthia's childhood playmate, Bessie Stockley, is a prison wardress. Bessie manages to take Cynthia's place and let Cynthia slip out in the guise of a wardress on a two weeks' leave. Cynthia marries Michael. After a stolen fortnight of happiness, Cynthia persuades Michael to go back to Malta alone, pretending she has to have an operation and will join him later. Rory Clarke blackmails her. Back in prison, Cynthia discovers she is going to have a baby, but determines not to have it born in prison. Rory Clarke, pretending to be her solicitor, gains an interview. Cynthia accepts his help in planning a break. Worried by her silence, Michael's sister, Marion, starts investigating.

INSTALMENT X.

PRISON BREAK.

After the amazing interview with Rory Clarke, posing as her solicitor, Cynthia lay awake most of the night. This time her excitement had its roots in reality. Clarke might be a conscienceless scoundrel, but he was the right kind of a man for a daredevil enterprise. Five o'clock, a couple of rope ladders and a motor car. No anxious questioning as to whether she could do her part. He would be there—or he would drive off. Her only worry was the rope ladder itself.

After a short sleep she awoke thoroly refreshed. Before she went to duty she slipped into her stocking top a pound note which she had kept hidden in her cubicle for emergencies.

The morning dragged and then came afternoon. Half-past two already, with the relief at three. In an hour and a half she would slip out in one of the big wheeled baskets which were pushed into the yard containing laundered goods for the men's side.

And at a quarter to three almost exactly common sense flashed up again and told her that the whole plan was ridiculous. Clarke was a criminal playboy with harebrained schemes created by his own blind conceit.

She began to despise his abilities. He had said they were both clever, and here was she a convict and he in perpetual dread of the hangman's rope. Clever, indeed! There was no need for cleverness. She knew now exactly what she must do—just as if she had planned it in minute detail.

At twelve minutes to three, choosing her moment, she slipped into the wardresses' changing room. At her first escape she had observed that each wardress was provided with an outdoor uniform, used, she supposed, when prisoners were escorted to and from Honebyker. These uniforms hung on labeled pegs. She lifted down one marked "Walters," took it to a lavatory, and locked the door. In three minutes she had put it on.

She waited until she heard voices, then emerged. The coat was a long plain one of dark blue serge and a round cap with an upturned brim, and knitted gloves went with it. A wardress glanced at her.

"Outside duty?" she asked.

Cynthia nodded, muttered something about the day's work never being done and, mixing with the others as before, got as far as the porter.

The first move was to succeed in being checked out. Boarding the tram could hardly be called a move, for it was too simple, as was the getting off at the first taxi rank. No, the second move was when she alighted from the taxi three blocks away from Cotswold Mansions, and faced the problem of slipping into her own flat in her own clothes without being seen to enter the building. For she had foreseen that on the following day the papers would describe how a woman prisoner had escaped in the uniform of a Honebyker wardress and every one would be asked to remember whether they had noticed such a uniform in the streets—itself a sufficiently uncommon sight.

The entrance to the Mansions would be too risky. The fire escape was her one chance and she took it.

No one saw her slip in by the little door at the back of the flats thru the coal yard. No one looked out of a window as she made the ascent. She could not enter by the little back door of her flat, as it was bolted on the inside. So she forced the window of the kitchenet and wriggled in, head first. She picked herself up from the floor, opened the kitchen door, then saw that there was a light in the hall.

A moment later the door of the sitting room was opened and in her wardress' cap and coat she stood face to face with Michael's sister Marion.

"Cynthia! So you're all right, after all!" gasped Marion. "But, my dear—what on earth are you doing in those extraordinary clothes? It's—it's a uniform of some kind, isn't it? You look more like a police woman than anything!"

The stark surprise of seeing Michael's sister in the flat had robbed Cynthia of full awareness of her position, so that she gave way to natural impulse—which, as usual, turned out to be the best thing she could do.

"Marion darling! How lovely to see you!" she cried, and kissed the other with warm affection. For warm affection she felt towards the dear, free people who were part of Michael's background.

"I've been worrying myself silly," said Marion. "I must cable Michael at once, because he's worried, too. Why didn't you write to any of us, Cynthia, and ——?"

Her voice tailed off but her eyes repeated her question about the preposterous uniform.

It was a question which was really quite unanswerable except by the truth. Yet Cynthia knew she must find some other answer or her bold bid for her unborn child, for her own respectability and happiness, would be defeated.

"These clothes!" she echoed. She was standing now by the doorway of the sitting room and she leaned her head on the lintel behind her. "They're not mine." She dropped her voice to a murmuring half-tone. "I don't remember much. I only began to remember properly this morning when they told me I was going to have a child. O, Marion, isn't it marvelous that I'm going to have Michael's child!"

"O, I'm so glad! And won't Michael be up in the air! But, Cynthia, what do you mean about remembering?"

And Marion's eyes came back to that inexplicable uniform.

"I had a sort of cloud of the memory," said Cynthia mysteriously. "Everything is quite clear up to the point where the cloud started, then it begins to get blurred. And then this morning it all came back and—and I got frightened. I was able to work out that the cloud, or lapse of memory or whatever you call it, must have lasted about three weeks."

"Do you mean you suddenly forgot who you were and wandered away?"

"More or less."

"When I inquired at Camden Town this morning that rather unpleasant looking woman didn't mention that there was anything out of the way in your leaving her."

That was a danger point. But Cynthia was able to cover it easily enough.

"I remember being in a sort of haze in which I could hear myself telling her quite calmly that I was going away, giving some imaginary reason. I know I wanted to go away. I can remember that. The place wasn't clean. I must have made some kind of arrangements to go somewhere else. Then this morning, while the doctor was examining me, my brain gave a sort of jump. I couldn't remember who the doctor was nor how I had come there, but he said: 'I don't think the appendix will be any more trouble. All your strength can be given to the happy event.' He was rather a silly old man."

"He sounds like Dr. Treadgrove. I rang him up this morning to see if he knew where you were. And when he didn't, I went to Scotland Yard."

"O!" said Cynthia, and added breathlessly: "And they're looking for me?"

"Yes. I must tell them I've found you. But this is an amazing thing to happen to any one, Cynthia. Don't you remember how you came to be wearing that uniform?"

Marlene was born Dec. 27, under the sign of Capricorn. . . . To her the two most important things in life are duty and responsibility. . . . She dislikes stupid people. . . . She abhors people who don't look her in the eyes when they talk. . . . Insofar as she alone is concerned, she never worries about the tomorrows, or even the next hour.

There is nothing she values so highly as personal freedom, and she shies away from long term contracts for that reason.

When she attended school she hated mathematics, enjoyed languages. . . Her mother saves all of her press clippings, but is proudest of a schoolday souvenir. . . . Marlene's class had been assigned to do a paper on memory and hope. . . . Young Dietrich emphasized the cheering value of memory, and the teacher scrawled across the paper in red ink: "Very unusual reasoning for a child."

Marlene's mother is very proud of that and has it hidden away in the cache that every mother prepares. . . . Marlene's sister is a doctor of philosophy and Marlene's eyes sparkle when she talks of her sister's brilliance.

I asked her to tell me who, to her, were the greatest personalities of the movies. . . . She answered quickly, "Gable and Garbo." . . . Her favorite composer, Cole Porter. . . . She likes best one of his old songs, "You Do Something to Me." . . . Bands were playing it when she arrived in America. . . . Her favorite cities, Paris and Vienna.

The greatest compliment ever paid to her, a friend's remark, "You spoil your daughter." . . . She does not believe that a child with the right makeup is hurt by "spoiling."

She regrets that she rarely has "been myself" in this country. . . . "I used to rush up to people and make a fuss over them," she said wryly, "but I stopped that." . . . One reason was that at a Richard Tauber concert she was so deeply thrilled by his Grenadier song that, as he concluded, she jumped to her feet and started applauding. . . . The next day a columnist noted acidly that Miss Dietrich had tried to steal the spotlight from Tauber.

The true sponge cake has no other leavening than eggs. No baking powder, no soda. And no shortening, either. The pan in which it is baked is not greased, for oil on the baking pan would hinder the batter in its climb up the sides to a high fluffiness.

There are pseudo sponge cakes which achieve a similar texture, but which depend partly upon baking powder for lightness. These are economical to make, for they don't require as many eggs. The recipes are a bit more foolproof, even if the cake itself is somewhat less fine.

This five, egg sponge cake is the real thing. Bake it in a tube pan and sprinkle the finished cake with confectioners' sugar, or spread with a very thin lemon icing. It may be served with a sauce—preferably lemon if unfrosted. A good sponge cake doesn't really need any adornment of frosting.

Lemon Sponge Cake.

[Five eggs.]
1 cup sifted cake flour
¼ teaspoon salt
Grated rind and juice of half a lemon
5 eggs, beaten separately
1 cup sifted sugar

Measure the flour after sifting. Resift with salt four times. Add lemon rind and juice to the egg yolks and beat until very light. Beat whites with a wire whisk until stiff enough to stand in peaks, but not until dry. Fold in sugar, a small amount at a time. Then fold in egg yolks. Finally fold in flour, sifting it over the batter in rather small amounts. Pour batter into ungreased tube pan and bake at 325 degrees for an hour, or until done. Invert pan on a cake rack and cool for an hour before removing the cake. Use a cake breaker to cut cake.

The most usual trouble, when there is trouble in sponge cake making, is in underbeating the egg yolks. They should be whipped almost mercilessly. Egg whites should not be *over*beaten. The time to stop is while there still is a gloss on them, just after they have begun to peak. An egg whisk is the surest instrument to use. Overbeating is more likely with a rotary or electric beater, altho these are fine for the yolks.

Here's the pseudo sponge. Only two eggs are required. This is a very good cake, too.

Hot Water Sponge Cake.

[Eight inch square pan.]
1 cup sifted cake flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten separately
Grated rind of half a lemon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup sugar
½ cup hot water

Measure flour after sifting. Resift with baking powder and salt, three or four times. Beat egg yolks until thick and light colored. Add lemon rind and juice. Add sugar gradually and beat it in thoroly. Add hot water, stirring constantly. Sift in flour mixture and fold it in carefully. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites last. Bake in ungreased pan for half an hour at 350 degrees. Invert pan on wire rack to cool completely before removing cake from pan.

"First" Frock for Spring

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

For the youthful in spirit and figure this dress is the perfect spring beginner. Princess lines are dramatized with a belt, if you wish one. The neckline, if high and round, may have a contrasting scalloped collar to match the cuffs on the short, puffed sleeves. Or the neckline may be V with a soft, rolled collar. This latter may terminate in a bow and lacings, if you wish.

If you particularly like boleros, this is the ideal dress with which to wear one. The model suggested reaches only to the waist.

Printed and plain silks, and the southern favorites at this time of year, the cottons, linens, and wash silks, are good for this model. The hat, made with pattern No. 2801, available for 10 cents extra, is a pillbox affair with a fetching bow and streamers.

Style No. 2774 is designed for sizes 12, 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 39 inch material for short sleeved dress, with ½ yard of contrasting. Dress and bolero combination requires 4 yards of material.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the winter Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

Analyst Puts Jealousy to a Careful Test

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Few persons are able to stand by with equanimity and see a preferred person grant to another favors that have formerly been theirs without showing resentment and jealousy."

So says Dr. Oliver M. Butterfield in his treatise, "Love Problems of Adolescence" [Emerson] in answer to queries about jealousy put to him by young people.

Jealousy, like love, he explains, is a composite sentiment, and is made up of elements such as fear, anger, envy, and the desire for possession and dominance. One authority holds it to be "inseparable from real love. It's the heart's guardianship." Another psychologist identifies it with inferiority reactions and is often a matter of training and expectancy carried over from childhood. A third student of human emotions insists that jealousy follows the law of habit formation, often appearing as a symptom of personality fears.

But in actual life, Butterfield finds, not every person is equally jealous under comparable circumstances.

Butterfield suggests that one who would rid himself of the antisocial aspects of jealousy must learn to check his imagination and not let himself make unfair references from wholly inadequate facts.

"If jealousy is a habit," the psychologist-author continues, "then one may retrain himself, first by refusing to resort to unsportsmanlike tactics when his affections are challenged, and, second, by granting to his beloved the same freedom that he himself desires, or even more. Sportsmanship, plus an understanding of self and a trust in one's partner is essential to effective control of jealousy."

Children Are Not Born with Stubbornness

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Many people believe that children are born with an instinct to do the very opposite of what they are asked to do, and that we have to train it out of them. I do not believe this myself. In fact, I think that their natural instinct is with us, not against us, and that we are the ones who arouse the contrary spirit. Contrariness and stubbornness are the result of conditions or managemnt. I have seen children grow from babyhood to adolescence without showing these traits, because there were no serious frustrations in the air, nothing in the handling to arouse that particular type of resistance.

When a small cherub of a rebel, a fifth or so of your weight, declares "I won't!", when starry eyes look at you expectantly as a chubby finger deliberately dips into the cake batter, when tightly pursed lips repel each spoonful of delicious food, then it's almost surely because you've provided too much of an exciting and unnecessary attention to small misdemeanors, or because you've been unreasonable, or in some other way mismanaged or frustrated your child.

Stubbornness is a symptom which may have many causes, but there is one very deep one which is usually not realized. That deeper cause is the intensity of desire of which a child is capable.

Link such a passionate desire to do something with a strong will and you have a force which is tremendous.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

I cannot repeat too often that doubles of slams voluntarily bid by good players are extremely unwise in 95 cases out of 100. Of course, when a defender holds two trump tricks, and can be sure that they will make even if the doubled contract is rescued with another suit or no trump, he may with safety interject a penalty double. But side suit strength alone usually is insufficient. The information unavoidably given declarer as to its location often defeats the doubler's purpose.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
4 hearts	Pass	6 hearts	Double
Redouble	Pass	Pass	Pass

North's slam bid over South's preempt was pretty much of a "stab." He knew it was simply a question of how the hands would fit and realized that there were not enough rounds of bidding left to discover this scientifically. As a matter of fact, it should be observed that the hands fit very badly. South's ace of spades was completely worthless, and the diamond queen doubleton instead of the club queen would have made twelve tricks a laydown.

South's preemptive bid was so sound that he felt justified in redoubling the slam to which his partner had taken him.

As it happened, West's opening lead, altho normal and not open to criticism, acted as compensation for the bad fit of the North-South hands. He selected the queen of spades. Since no discard in dummy was valuable, dummy ruffed the lead and led a trump. Declarer's entire eight card trump suit was run off and the spade ace was cashed, leaving three cards in each hand. Dummy's were the blank king of diamonds, and the ace and small club. Declarer's were the diamond, and queen and small club. East was "hooked." He had to blank the diamond ace in order to protect his club king, whereupon he was thrown on lead with the ace and had to lead away from his king to the combined tenace held by declarer and dummy.

Without East's double to indicate the ace of diamonds, declarer might well have played West for that vital card, leading up to the king at an early stage to establish a discarding opportunity for his losing club. Of course, had West been able to guess a better opening lead, the contract would have been defeated one trick.

Bandbox Look Demands Only a Little Time

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Snappy grooming technique is an art every busy woman should master if she wants to uphold the finest traditions of feminine daintiness. Too few women have that habitual "bandbox" look about them. Their many activities and tasks take up so much of their time that they have to snatch time off, occasionally, for a general "overhauling," which, alas! must last them until they can "grab" another hour or so to give themselves a good going over.

Faults we advise correcting are not taking that stitch in a broken dress seam, not stopping in regularly at the shoemaker's for the straightening of a run down heel or a much needed shoe shine, not frequent cleaning out of accumulated trash in an overloaded purse, not taking a moment to brush off lint and dust from hats, dresses, and coats, not keeping that weekly manicure in good trim.

All of these simple grooming tasks take little time, but they make the difference between a thrown together look and a neat, unflustered look.

I see no reason why the bright lights of holiday feasting should be followed by a culinary blackout. The recipes I am suggesting this week are particularly easy on your time budget and pocketbook. Yet if you are sure to use the Wilson products called for, and a dash of imagination in your seasoning, you will find they make mighty good eating.

Hidden Treasure

A rummage through the refrigerator at almost any time is sure to reveal a few precious oddments. If your search reveals the end of a Wilson Certified Smoked Ham, consider yourself in luck. Because there you have the makings of a neat little entree for tonight's meal.

And since this is a topsy-turvy world at best right now, let's make it . . .

HAM UPSIDE DOWN LOAF

Put through the meat chopper sufficient ham to make 4 cupfuls. Combine with 1½ cups soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 2 beaten Clear Brook Eggs.

Next melt 2 tablespoons of Clear Brook Butter and 4 tablespoons of brown sugar in a heavy iron skillet. Cover bottom of skillet with half-inch rings of cooking apples, cored but not peeled. Cook until apples are slightly browned. Then spread ham mixture carefully over the apples, smoothing the top with a palate knife.

Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 40 minutes. Unmold onto garnished platter.

CORNED BEEF HASH, CREOLE

Peel 4 medium-size Bermuda onions and cook uncovered in boiling salted water for 10 minutes. Cut off a slice from the top of each and scoop out centers. Fill with Wilson's Certified Corned Beef Hash heated, and top with buttered bread crumbs.

Place in a casserole and surround with a Creole sauce as follows:

Blend 1 tablespoon flour with 2 tablespoons melted Clear Brook Butter. Add 1½ cups canned tomatoes, 1 green pepper sliced thin, and centers and tops of onions, sliced. Cook 5 minutes. Add ½ cup Brown Sauce. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce to taste. Pour over stuffed onions and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 25 minutes or until onions are quite tender. Serves 4.

100% IRISH

Credit for this overseas version of a New England Boiled dinner must be chalked up to the O'Tooles and the Finnigans.

Place a one-pound slab of Wilson's Certified Bacon in a large deep kettle and cover it well with water. Simmer for 1 hour. Then add 4 medium-sized onions and 4 turnips and continue cooking. Half an hour later add 4 potatoes, 4 carrots and a small head of cabbage, cut in eighths. Season to taste. Cook for 20-30 minutes longer.

Place the whole piece of Certified Bacon in the center of a large platter, with the vegetables draped around it. Serves 4.

Save the pot liquor for soup stock.

CITY HEARS PLEA FOR A SUPERROAD ON AVONDALE AV.

Council Agrees to Consider Elevation Plans.

The city council yesterday approved a motion by Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st] that the council committee on traffic and public safety give consideration to the requests of northwest side civic groups that an elevated superhighway be built along the route of Avondale avenue.

Under a plan approved by the county's highway engineering staff, the proposed northwest side superhighway would be depressed and built along a route paralleling Clybourn and Elston avenues from the central business district to Harlem and Bryn Mawr avenues.

Urges Revision of Plans.

Ald. Cowhey suggested that the committee take such action as might be necessary to abandon the county recommendations and substitute those of the civic organizations. He said that Avondale avenue is virtually a superhighway now and needs only to be elevated to meet the needs of the northwest side.

The matter was referred to the traffic committee without specific instructions other than to listen to the northwest siders. A week ago the representatives of 75 of the organizations gathered in the Irving Park district and voted unanimously their preference for elevation along Avondale avenue, which parallels a railroad embankment.

Yesterday morning, at a meeting of the superhighway joint committee headed by Ald. George Kells [28th], protests were registered against suggestions for extending the outer drive only to Bryn Mawr avenue.

Outer Drive Extension Asked.

A delegation from north side organizations headed by Aldermen Frank Keenan [49th] and James R. Quinn [50th] said the drive should be extended at once to the city limits. They said that persons living between Sheridan road and the lake in Rogers Park were unable to cross Sheridan in the rush hours.

It has been estimated that the cost of extension to Bryn Mawr avenue will be $3,000,000, and that the additional cost to reach the city limits will be $14,000,000. Ald. Kells said the proposal for the extension would be considered.

Ald. Joseph S. Gillespie [29th] called the committee's attention to letters sent out by an engineering concern requesting property owners' permission to represent them in any condemnation proceedings instituted in connection with the proposed Congress street superhighway.

"The public," said Ald. Kells, "should be informed that no representatives, especially on a contingent fee basis, are needed. The city will deal fairly with all property owners."

Naval Reserve Pilot Dies When Plane Falls in Sea

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—Ensign Malcolm C. Kirby, 27 years old, of Sayre, Okla., naval reserve flyer attached to the aircraft carrier Ranger, was killed when his plane fell into the sea yesterday afternoon. The navy announced the death today. In conformity with a policy of withholding information about the Ranger and other craft in the Atlantic coast neutrality patrol, it did not say where the accident happened. The flyer's body was not recovered.

One of Pope's Feathered Dinner Companions Dies

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 17 (AP).—Pope Pius has lost a dinner companion. Vatican protocol requires that the pope eat alone, and for his only company he has had three canaries. One died today.

Dragged by Train

MARION OLSON.

After being wedged under a loop-bound Illinois Central train and dragged ten feet over snow covered tracks, Miss Marion Olson, a secretary at the Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation, last night insisted she was feeling fine. At South Shore hospital, where she was taken by Grand Crossing police, physicians said she apparently was suffering only minor bruises and shock.

Miss Olson, who is 20 years old and lives at 8044 Escanaba avenue, said she did not see the train which struck her because she was watching an approaching northbound train at the Cheltenham station, 79th street and Exchange avenue. She had slipped under the crossing gate, she said, and had started to cross the tracks when the train's cowcatcher hit her. She was trapped for 10 minutes until firemen of the 14th battalion jacked up the front of the train to remove her.

RUFUS C. DAWES LEAVES WIDOW ENTIRE ESTATE

The will of Rufus C. Dawes, president of A Century of Progress Exposition and business and civic leader, was filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, clerk of the Probate court. Dawes left his entire estate in trust to his widow, Mrs. Helen Palmer Dawes. He named as trustees his son, Charles C. Dawes, his son-in-law, Robert T. Sherman, and the City National Bank and Trust company. Sherman said he could make no estimate of the value of the estate until later. Rufus Dawes died Jan. 8 in his home at 1448 Lake Shore drive. He was 72 years old.

Bequests to seven charitable institutions were contained in the will of Isidor Baumgartl, pioneer industrialist, which was admitted to probate yesterday. Baumgartl was chairman of the United Jewelers company and the Brasco Manufacturing company. He died Nov. 16 at the age of 79. His philanthropic bequests were: Michael Reese hospital and Jewish Children's Bureau of Chicago, $5,000 each; Jewish Charities of Chicago, $2,000; Chicago Home for the Friendless, Home for Destitute and Crippled Children, Home for Aged Jews, and a newspaper fresh air fund, each $500.

After bequests to two servants, the rest of the $165,000 estate was left to 4 children, 10 grandchildren, and 7 great-grandchildren.

1939 License Users Face Disadvantage in Court

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17 (AP).—State auto license officials warned today that Illinois motorists who are continuing to drive with 1939 license plates on their cars would be at a disadvantage in court if they became involved in accidents. Applications for 1940 plates have been unusually slow in coming in, Don Forsythe, head of the auto license division, said. The possibility of difficulty in court, officials said, for motorists operating with old licenses, lies in the fact that it is illegal to operate a motor vehicle with last year's plates.

CHURCH SCHOOL TEACHER DIES, VICTIM OF AUTO

August Schumann, 72 years old, 2329 35th street, a religious school teacher for more than half a century, died last night in the county hospital of injuries suffered Jan. 8, when he was struck by an automobile at Archer avenue and Blake street.

Schumann was returning at the time from St. Andrew's Evangelical Lutheran school, 37th and Honore streets, where he had taught for 19 years. He had been a teacher for 53 years in schools of the Evangelical Lutheran church, Missouri synod, serving as principal in Pittsburgh, Pa., and Cleveland, O. Surviving are his widow, Anna; a son, the Rev. Frederick Schumann of Salt Lake City, Utah, and two daughters, Elsa and Ria.

Robert Zeigler, 6323 South Kedzie avenue, driver of the car that struck Schumann, was charged with reckless driving after the accident.

William Polley, 72 years old, 10357 South Campbell avenue, retired, died last night in the Little Company of Mary hospital of injuries received Friday when he was struck by an automobile in front of 10351 Western avenue. The driver was Christian Hill, 56, of 3745 West 147th place, Midlothian.

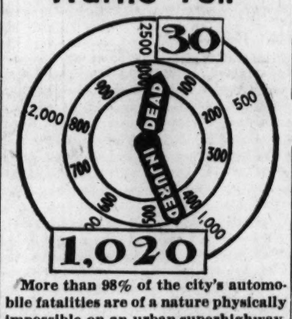
A coroner's jury urged police yesterday to press their search for a purse snatcher who struck and fatally injured an elderly woman victim with a stolen auto, and recommended that, when captured, he be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder.

The victim was Mrs. Ricka Thompson, 64 years old, of 1654 North Lawndale avenue. On the night of Dec. 12 the thief took the purse. Then, attempting to flee in the car, he ran her down.

Detective Walter Till of the Shakespeare avenue police testified that he and his partner, Detective James Lynch, have been working constantly in an effort to find the fugitive. Till was the only witness at yesterday's inquest, which had been continued from Dec. 13.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 42 persons had been killed in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 30 were killed in Chicago, where 1,020 were injured in the same period.

THE MASSACRE
Chicago's 1940 Traffic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an urban superhighway.

KILLED BY FUMES FROM AUTO.

William Olson, 40 years old, an electrician, was found dead yesterday, overcome by exhaust fumes in his automobile in the garage behind his home at 1824 North Albany avenue.

INDIANA YOUTH IS MISSING FROM COLLEGE IN WEST

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 17 [Special].—Word was received here today by Mrs. Myrtle Guard that her son, Keith, 18 years old, has been missing for 10 days from Las Cruces, N. M., where he was a freshman at the New Mexico State college.

According to dispatches from Las Cruces, the youth told his roommate he was going to spend the week-end of Jan. 6 with friends at Deming, N. M. The next day a Deming man said he saw Keith about 20 miles east of El Paso, Tex. New Mexico authorities suggested he might be hitch-hiking his way home, altho he took neither extra clothing nor a check that was due him when he left the campus.

Mrs. Guard, a widow, said that in a letter to her on Dec. 30 and one to his sister here on Jan. 3 Keith gave no hint that he planned to leave school. She said she was completely mystified over his disappearance.

DIES IN HIS HOME.

Christopher Zierke, 62 years old, died of a heart attack yesterday in his home at 2332 North Keystone avenue.

COUNTY HOSPITAL PLAN TO BORROW RADIUM IS O. K.'D

A plan whereby the County hospital's stock of radium for treatment of cancer would be increased from 80 to 680 milligrams was held legal in an opinion given to the county board yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney William J. Tuohy.

It is proposed to borrow 600 milligrams of radium, worth $6,979, from the National Cancer institute of the United States Public Health service for an indefinite time.

Dr. Robert F. McMattin, therapeutic radiologist at the hospital, said the present supply of radium is inadequate. He said last year the hospital gave 31,145 X-ray treatments to 2,170 patients. Of these treatments, 90 per cent were for cancer and were given to 1,800 cancer patients.

BANK FILES PETITION TODAY TO SELL SOX

U. OF CHICAGO ALUMNI DEMAND RETURN OF FOOTBALL

ASK TRUSTEES TO RECONSIDER BAN ON SPORT

Seek Representation on Board.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The immediate reinstatement of football at the University of Chicago was asked yesterday in a resolution adopted by the university's alumni club in a special luncheon meeting in the La Salle hotel. After it is properly drawn up, officers of the club will present the resolution to the board of trustees, who announced abandonment of the game by Chicago as an intercollegiate sport on Dec. 21.

An additional resolution whereby Maroon alumni will be represented on the board of trustees by an elected representative was approved and will be presented to the board also.

More than 300 alumni, about one-third of them former football players, attended yesterday's meeting, called for the purpose of permitting them to express opinions on the board of trustees' action in dropping the game.

Numerous speeches were made from the floor during the meeting, which lasted two and one-half hours. All were unanimous on two points. One voiced a demand as to why the board abandoned football with the known prospect of a good 1939 freshman team. The second intimated that the vote of the board of trustees is dropping the game was not unanimous, but that it was much closer.

Divided on Abandonment.

Prior to the meeting the alumni club had sent out a questionnaire to its membership, with a view to polling their reactions to the board's action and also to the question of allowing the alumni to elect one of their number as a regular member of the board. Secretary John W. Chapman announced the results of this poll during yesterday's meeting. Of those who replied to the questionnaire, 246 were opposed to the board's action in abolishing football on the Midway, while the surprising number of 236 approved of its move.

The resolution to ask for reinstatement of the game now will really be an amended one. Elliodor Libonati, a "C" man in baseball before the war, first proposed the motion that the alumni club deputize three of its members to meet with the board of trustees and urge eventual reconsideration of its abandonment of the game.

Points to Iowa's Success.

Following Libonati's motion, Charles E. (Chuck) McGuire, all-American tackle on the 1921 Maroon eleven, arose.

"I don't favor that motion," McGuire said. "It seems to me that the board of trustees and the university administration are guilty of two things in this matter—either indifference or stubbornness. Much of Chicago's poor record in recent years can be traced to the spirit of the team and the administration. Look at Iowa last season. It proved what spirit can do for a team.

"I don't think that the question is to ask the board of trustees for reconsideration of their action as a matter for the future. I think it is a case of asking for immediate reinstatement now."

President John Schommer then called for a rising vote on Libonati's motion, with McGuire's sentiments as an amendment. Fully two-thirds of those present rose in favor of immediate reinstatement of the game, altho a number of the dissenters contended that a count would have deadlocked the issue.

Nuveen Explains Ban.

Leading the pro-football bloc in the meeting were President Schommer, Secretary Chapman, McGuire, Libonati, and Fred Walker, veteran Maroon athlete and now coach and athletic director of Wheaton college. On the other side stood only John Nuveen Jr., chairman of the alumni council and a member of the board of trustees.

Nuveen said it was his own unqualified conviction that the board of trustees had acted right, but that he was prepared to answer questions from the floor. He said that the program limited his time, but that to explain properly the reason for the board's move would require an hour and a half. He then went on to read a number of congratulatory letters from various educators thruout the country on Chicago's abolition of football. From the floor came a number of demands for letters in favor of football, but Nuveen merely answered that while there were such letters none of them came from educators.

Biggest laugh of the meeting was produced by Chapman's quotation from a letter sent by a doctor-alumnus who favored the board of trustees' action in dropping football. He said:

"Football is gang action. Gang action produces hoodlums and criminals."

Nagurski, Marshall—Well, Tug and Pull for 60 Minutes

BY HOWARD BARRY.

We'll bet you think we're going to come right out and tell you who won the wrestling match between Bronko Nagurski and Everett Marshall last night in the Coliseum. You'll say that any news story should let you know what happened right smack dab in the first paragraph. But we have you there. You see there's no such thing as a news story about wrestling because wrestling isn't news—it's drama.

Now the essence of good drama is conflict seasoned with suspense. So you can see that if we told you the winner right now we'd be cheating you. We'd be depriving you of the thrill of conflict and the agonizing experience of suspense.

You'll probably sneak a glance at the headline now, thinking that the editor will give everything away. But it won't tell you a thing because a headline on a wrestling story doesn't profess to give you the news in one big smash—it's like the title of a play.

There Was Shakespeare.

Speaking of titles of plays—a fellow named Shakespeare knew a thing or two about them. And what kind of titles did he pick for his smash hits? He called them Hamlet, MacBeth, Othello, King Lear—just the names of a lot of guys—without giving you a hint of whether they won or lost.

Of course, those plays were tragedies, so it was a pretty safe bet that fellow who got his in the title had two strikes on him to begin with. Wrestling, however, isn't tragedy—it's comedy.

At a few minutes past 10 o'clock Nagurski and Marshall stepped into opposite corners of the ring looking quite natty, giving no indication that within a few minutes they would start a struggle for existence, recognizing only the laws of the jungle.

Oh Yes, They're Polite.

In the melee, each wrestler in turn was thrown thru the ropes, Marshall landing in a tangle of telegraph apparatus. Tho he was badly pressed for time to get back into the ring before the count of 10, Marshall paused politely to pick up the telegraph key and hand it back to the operator.

Then as referee Lou Gordon struggled to separate them from an illegal hold they shoved him out of the ring to the concrete floor. With an air of outraged dignity Gordon scrambled back and pitched both of the wrestlers into the laps of the spectators.

Ah, This Is It.

They were picking up each other and whopping one another down when the bell suddenly clanged and Pep Kerwin climbed in to announce that the bout had gone 60 minutes to—guess what? No decision.

Preliminaries follow:

Ede Virag threw Seelie Samara, in 16:05; Cliff Gustafson pinned Herb Freeman in 7:16; Ray Steele and Ruffy Silverstein, wrestled 30 minutes to no contest; Lou Thez threw Hans Schnabel in 19:16.

ULLAND, WILSON AND FLAK ARRIVE FOR NORGE MEET

Olaf Ulland, former world's record holder, headed a delegation of ski jumpers arriving yesterday to compete in the Norge Ski club's 34th annual tournament Sunday in Fox River Grove. Ulland came from Seattle, Wash., with Lief Flak.

They bring with them a one-two record rivaling that of the race horses Johnstown and Challedon, for that is the way they have finished in the last three tournaments, with Ulland winning each time.

Wilson in Shape.

Along with them came Eugene Wilson of Auburn, Cal. He has been training in White Hall, Wis., and feels he is better prepared to challenge for the Norge title this year than in any previous appearance. Wilson holds the California state title and formerly was national Class B champion.

Order for Snow Stands.

The Norge club, which will give 10 per cent of next Sunday's gate to the Finnish relief fund, did not cancel its order for eight carloads of snow from Beloit, Wis., despite the heavy fall yesterday. Predictions of colder weather are welcomed with a smile, for the lower temperature will assure a fast skiing surface.

Straw will be spread about the hill to furnish warmer footing for the spectators and larger shelter houses will be opened should the weather be too extreme.

STAN HACK JOINS CUBS' GROWING HOLDOUT RANKS

Third Baseman Rejects Club's First Offer.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The little crowd of Cubs who had been on record as not exactly pleased with the 1940 salary offered by the club was enlarged by one member yesterday. Stan Hack, third baseman of long standing, automatically joined the moaners when his contract, unsigned, came back from his winter retreat in California.

Being a man of few words, Hack garnished the objectionable document only with a penned declaration that he thought he was worth more money.

On the other hand the club made some progress in getting the sheep into the fold. Al Todd, the catcher obtained in the recent deal from Brooklyn, dropped into headquarters and inked his name on the papers sent to him a few weeks ago.

Five Now Holding Out.

Hack's lining up with the strikers means a total of five aches Owner P. K. Wrigley and his assistants must doctor in the near future. Dizzy Dean furnished the first shock altho the shock wasn't half as severe as he suffered when he discovered the proferred contract called for only an approximate $10,000. Dean returned the contract and it was promptly returned to him with a request he give a few reasons why he should be offered better wages. He hasn't been heard from.

Clay Bryant, who almost crowded Dean off the cripple bench last season, had no sooner admitted he wasn't going to sign at the club's figure than Hank Leiber's contract came back to its starting point. Hank didn't even write a note explaining his thoughts in the matter. But the contract was sent back unchanged.

Todd to Report Late.

Then Augie Galan informed the front office he wanted the offer boosted. Next was Hack and there still is a possibility of a sixth member for the select Holdout club. Glen Russell, freshman first baseman last season, hasn't been heard from altho he has had his contract for several weeks.

While here Todd also completed arrangements for missing the first few days of the training grind at Catalina Island. The two hundred pound plus backstop serves as a basketball official in eastern collegiate circles and is booked solid up to the last day of February. He was scheduled to leave with the first squad Feb. 19, but told President Wrigley he would like to work on the courts at least until Feb. 24, whereupon he'll hop a transcontinental plane for California.

THORNTON LEE ASKS MORE

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 17 (AP).—Thornton Lee, Chicago White Sox pitcher, altho denying he is a holdout, admitted tonight he had returned his 1940 contract unsigned.

"There's not much difference in what I asked and what the club offered me," he said, "and I am sure we'll come to terms."

Lee feels he was entitled to a salary increase over 1939 because "I won 16 games and placed fifth in the league in both innings pitched and complete games."

HARTNETT PICKS CARDS

Hot Springs, Ark., Jan. 17 (AP).—From the preseason perch now occupied by Manager Gabby Hartnett of Chicago, those St. Louis Cardinals look like the 1940 National league winner but—

"Just take away those bad breaks we had last year and watch us sail up there."

Hartnett is here to take the baths and work off a few surplus pounds. He said he intended to divide 1940 catching duties with Al Todd. Gabby caught 88 games last year.

CONTENDS SALE BEST SERVES HEIRS' INTEREST

Mrs. Comiskey to Fight Action.

The First National Bank of Chicago, executor of the estate of J. Louis Comiskey, will ask permission to sell the Chicago White Sox baseball club in a petition to be filed before Probate Judge John F. O'Connell today.

The petition will set forth that it is believed the best interests of the estate will be served by selling the club. An unofficial spokesman for the bank indicated the operation of a big league baseball enterprise involved too much financial uncertainty. The court also will be asked to order the sale of the stock in one block.

The estate owns 7,450 shares of stock. The remaining 50 shares are owned by Harry Grabiner, secretary of the White Sox. They have a par value of $100 each.

Will Ask for Continuance.

Thomas J. Sheehan, attorney for Mrs. Grace Reidy Comiskey, widow of Comiskey, declared last night that the bank's move would be contested and that he will ask for a continuance to provide time to answer the petition.

Mrs. Grace Reidy Comiskey and son, Charles, two of four heirs who will fight sale of White Sox.

Comiskey, who died July 18, 1939, left his estate in trust for Mrs. Comiskey and their three children, Dorothy, 22 years old; Gracie Lou, 18, and Charles II., 13. Half of the estate was willed to Mrs. Comiskey and the other half divided equally among the children. The First National bank was named trustee of the trusts.

Property Is Clear.

According to Sheehan, the White Sox property is clear, and "not a dollar is owed on anything." During the last 10 years, when the fortunes of the team reached a low ebb there were periodical reports that the property would be sold. Last season, however, the White Sox played to 592,000 fans in Comiskey park, the attendance being boosted by installation of a $150,000 lighting plant and the playing of eight night games.

In his will, admitted to probate on July 29, 1939, Comiskey expressed a desire that the baseball club remain in the family. The will said, in part:

"It is my present opinion and my desire that the trustee shall not sell said shares of the capital stock of the American league baseball club of Chicago prior to the time when my youngest surviving child attains the age of 35 years, but if circumstances should arise after my death, which, in the opinion of my trustee would render a sale of said shares prudent and desirable, then it shall have power to sell all or any part of such shares of stock held by it as trustee."

Heirs Prepared to Fight.

When the will was filed for probate on July 25, 1939, John C. Meachem of the First National bank, and one of the trustees, said that no change in management or policy of the club was contemplated.

Sale of a controling interest in the club would be subject to the approval of the American league, which, under its constitution, reserves the right to pass on the eligibility of would-be purchasers.

WRIGHT HORSES WIN 4 RACES AT HIALEAH PARK

Even Temulac Scores, but Star Blink Fails.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 17 [Special].—Warren Wright of Chicago saw his horses score four victories in succession at Hialeah Park today for what is believed to be the most decisive single day sweep in the track's history. The four winners raised Wright's triumphs to nine since the meeting began.

Trainer Ben Jones cracked down with a triple for Wright's Calumet Farm on opening day, and today one of his charges, Easy Mon, thrust itself forward as a formidable candidate for the $50,000 Widener Challenge cup. Easy Mon raced six furlongs in 1:10, within a fifth of a second of the record, and the fastest of the meeting.

Temulac Is Disappointment.

The other winners were Taxes, Talked About, and Temulac. Wright paid the record price at the Saratoga yearlings sales in 1937—$26,000—for Temulac. This was to be the colt that would win the Futurity of 1938 and the Derby of 1939, but Temulac was a repeated disappointment and was dropped farther and farther down the equine social scale until he wound up today in a $2,000 claiming race.

It was the first day of the graded handicaps at Hialeah and Wright and Jones won all of these classes, A, B, and C.

Taxes returned $7.10, Talked About paid $4.20, Easy Mon $8.80, and Temulac, $16.70.

One Runs Third.

Easy Mon won by three lengths under 113 pounds with Leon [Buddy] Haas riding. Haas also was up on Talked About, but Mike Caffarella rode Temulac and F. A. Smith was aboard Taxes.

Trainer Jones greeted all the congratulations with a big grin and said: "Tut, tut, what's all the shootin' for? We ran five horses and only won with four of them. The best Star Blink could do in the first race was get third."

10 Days Left for Novices to File Entries

examined Jan. 26 in Trafton's gymnasium between 6 and 8 p. m.

Two hundred and fifty letters will be mailed in the next day or so by Tom O'Connell of the Catholic Youth organization to the C. Y. O. boxers asking them to report for examination Jan. 29. Novice boxers first examined will be permitted to choose the sectional tournament in which they wish to compete. The west side tournament starts Feb. 5, the south side tournament on the following night, and the north side tournament will open Feb. 12.

Prizes for Winners.

Two novice boxers in each weight in each section will receive gold medals. The tournaments are open to boys who have had no experience or who have not won more than two Golden Gloves or C. Y. O. tournament bouts. There will be no city championship tournament for the novices as in other years.

For the first time since before the start of the Tournament of Champions, the Chicago boys will continue eliminations to determine city champions. In the Coliseum tournament, starting Feb. 20, eight city champions will be crowned and these boxers then will compete against the title holders from 44 cities in the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium, Feb. 26, 27, and 28. The Chicago winners will receive a Golden Glove, the runner-up will be awarded a silver glove, and the champions also will be uniformed for the Tournament of Champions.

DAMAGED GOODS was kept well out in the middle of the track all the way, closed with a rush in the stretch, and just got to win. BOSS HOSS was hustled along from the start and made a game effort. DODGER displayed keen speed, forced a fast pace, and held on well. HIGHLAND, well up from the start, had no mishap. DIXIE-MAN quit badly.

TRANSMITTER, also showing improvement, followed the pace closely and finished fast. SHAMBLES was kept out in the middle of the track and had no mishap. BRUINS TROUNCE EAGLES, 36-28, AS KAUTZ STARS

Wilson, Bears' End, Plays First Game.

The Chicago Bruins last night celebrated George Wilson night by handing the high scoring Detroit Eagles a 36 to 28 licking in a National Basketball league game in the 132d armory.

Of course, the George Wilson in question was not a guest of honor. He was the same George Wilson whom you see playing end for the Chicago Bears. George hasn't played basketball since his prep days at St. John's Military academy, so the Bruins welcomed him to their lineup with their best performance in four games.

In the box score, Wilson made only two free throws and was charged with three fouls, but his presence was a definite psychological contribution to the Bruin cause, for the rest of the boys caught the idea of aggressiveness and had the usually fancy Eagles dizzy by the end of the game.

Kautz Gets 15 Points.

The defeat dropped Detroit to second place in the eastern division, while the Bruins came out of it with a .500 rating in the western section.

In the first half of last night's double header Wright Junior college defeated Wilson Junior, 27 to 26. The losers made a brave if futile rally after trailing, 20 to 9, at half time.

Wibs Kautz, who had been cooled off considerably during the Bruin slump, was all ablaze again last evening, making seven field goals and a free throw to lead all scorers. Mike Novak, his ever dependable associate, delivered 11 points.

Eagles Are Shackled.

The newly alert Bruin defense did a fine job of handcuffing the Eagles' fast forwards. Fourteen of Detroit's point total accrued from 18 free throw attempts. Irv Torgoff made six of them. The Eagles were permitted only one basket from within the free throw line, Bernie Opper making this in the 36th minute of play. The other six Detroit baskets were made from well out on the floor.

The Bruins even got around to adjusting their recent free throwing deficiency, connecting on 12 of 22 tries.

WALLER SENIORS SCORE 74 POINTS FOR NEW MARK

The Waller seniors won their third straight game in the north section of the Chicago Public High school basketball league yesterday by defeating Von Steuben 74 to 37.

In the south division, John Jorgenson, playing his last game before graduation, chalked up 33 points to lead the Parker seniors to a 52 to 22 victory. It was the second victory in four starts for the Parker team. The Waller score was the highest this season in league competition.

Harper remained in the running for the south section crown by turning back Fenger, 28 to 18, on the latter's court.

LA PORTE BEATS RILEY.

La Porte, Ind., Jan. 17 [Special].—La Porte defeated Riley High of South Bend in a Northern Indiana conference basketball game tonight, 39 to 30. Bob Yelton and Earl Parker led La Porte's attack with 10 points each, and Chuck Keiter was high for Riley with 11 points.

The New Rolfe Hollers Before He Is Bitten

Penacook, N. H., Jan. 17 (AP).—Robert [Red] Rolfe, New York Yankee third baseman, paused long enough at his new gasoline filling station today to aver he was not a holdout, but that unless his pay check was increased materially there "might be a little trouble."

Once a peaceful listener in baseball's business discussions, Rolfe has decided to speak up. He tilted once at the Yankee wildmills and came out second best, but this year it's going to be different. He is reported to have received $15,000 last year.

"I'm entitled to a boost, and a good one at that," Rolfe said. "Last season I led the league in three departments and I had the best year in my whole career. If they're paying off as usual on past performances, I want mine."

It's Different This Year.

He grinned as he recalled his efforts to do some individual bargaining last year and admitted he "got nowhere."

"But I've got something this year," he continued. "They haven't sent me a contract yet, so I don't know what the story is. But I certainly earned a boost, and a big one. Life in baseball is too short to fool around and there might be trouble if things aren't right."

He certainly has a talking point, for he led the American league with 213 hits, scored 139 runs to top that department, and hit 46 doubles, more than any other player.

He was sixth in the race for batting honors with a respectable .329, and his fielding was good enough to compile a .958 average. He drove in 80 runs, with the handicap of batting in the second spot, and hit 14 home runs.

Expects Contract Soon.

Rolfe said he expected to receive his contract from the Yankee management by mail within the next two weeks. And lest there be any doubt, he's in great shape and ready to go on to an even better season.

He didn't do his usual basketball coaching this winter. The school where he tutored dropped the sport. So he's kept himself in shape by hiking, skating, and outdoor work.

Morton Junior College Defeats Joliet, 47 to 42

Morton Junior college defeated Joliet, 47 to 42, in an Illinois Junior College conference game last night on the latter's court. It was the eighth victory in nine starts for Morton. Joliet led, 27 to 20, at half time. The victors' attack was led by Guard Elmer Venclik, who scored four baskets and nine free throws.

DUQUESNE HALTS BRADLEY RALLY TO WIN, 40 TO 35

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 17 [Special].—Duquesne university gained revenge for an overtime defeat here last year by whipping Bradley's basketball team, 40 to 35, tonight. The Dukes held a 24 to 17 lead at the half. The second half saw Bradley rally and come up to 30 to 27 before falling back. O'Brien led Bradley with 12 points while Rudy Debnar scored 11 for the visitors. It was Bradley's fourth defeat and Duquesne's tenth victory in eleven games.

Sign for Two Title Battles in New York

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—Contracts for two championship fights in Madison Square Garden were signed today. Henry Armstrong and Pedro Montanez will meet Jan. 24 for Armstrong's welterweight title, and Joe Louis and Arturo Godoy of Chile will box for the heavyweight title on Feb. 9.

The commission again deferred action on Joe Jacobs' application for a license, thus leaving the proposed bout between Tony Galento and Max Baer for the Finnish relief up in the air. Jacobs is manager of Galento.

The boxing solons indicated they refused to act on the application because the district attorney's office had not turned in a report on the charges that the Max Schmeling-Harry Thomas 1937 fight was fixed. A letter from the district attorney's office said it had come to no definite decision.

Four lightweights, Tippy Larkin of Garfield, Johnny Bellus of New Haven, Dave Castilloux of Toronto and Davey Day of Chicago, the latter represented by Barney Ross, were advised to fight among themselves to develop the outstanding challenger for Lou Ambers' title.

Tony Willman to Try Midget Racing Again

Tony Willman of Milwaukee will reenter the midget auto race competition Sunday night in the 124th Field Artillery armory in an effort to increase his quota of championship points. Willman is behind Duke Nalon of Chicago and Harry MacQuinn of Indianapolis. Tony hopes to have his new car ready by Sunday night.

Pressure Led Conzelman to Quit, He Says

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 17 (AP).—Jimmy Conzelman refused to kiss and make up today as he disclosed for the first time that he was fired as head football coach at Washington university.

Conzelman, who produced two Missouri Valley conference championship elevens in eight years, tried to bow out gracefully by resigning last week. But there was such a howl by loyal followers that he was asked to reconsider.

He appeared unexpectedly today at an alumni luncheon, read his carefully worded final answer and ducked out before the surprised audience—mostly Conzelman boosters—had a chance to question him.

Tells of Pressure.

"My resignation was announced last Saturday after it had been requested," Conzelman said.

He referred to the efforts of those who had sought to oust him, then added:

"I feel that situations of this kind create factional differences not easily adjusted. So, in an effort to bring together these factions and to organize a united alumni spirit, I feel it is better for me not to withdraw my resignation."

Immediately George R. Throop, chancellor of the university, announced Conzelman had accepted a place on the athletic council and membership on a committee to present recommendations on the successor coach.

Revive Drive for Sutherland.

These developments again threw open the gate for the downtown group seeking to have Conzelman replaced by Dr. John [Jock] Sutherland, former coach at the University of Pittsburgh. This crowd wants a team of national reputation and believes Sutherland is the man to give it to them. They have been carrying on negotiations with Sutherland and he was scheduled to come here yesterday for a conference with members of the university athletic board, but the meeting was canceled until the storm caused by Conzelman's action blows over.

Conzelman's attitude toward hiring Sutherland could not be learned. They are friends.

MILLIKIN STRIKE FIZZLES

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 17 [Special].—Signs calling for a general student strike over the athletic situation appeared on trees and posts on the James Millikin university campus this morning, but the strike did not materialize.

The action apparently was directed at an attempt to get a change in coaches at the university, whose athletic fortunes have been at a low ebb for three years after several years of powerful teams.

Bushnell Denies Dictator Charge Hurled by Yale

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—Executive Director Asa S. Bushnell today said the central office for eastern intercollegiate athletics fills the rôle of "servant of the leagues and their member college," rather than of "dictator," in replying to criticism voiced by Dr. Clarence W. Mendell, new director of athletics at Yale.

Dr. Mendell complained yesterday that Yale and other eastern colleges now have no say in scheduling opponents, but "are told by the central office in New York whom we will play and when."

"It happens," said Bushnell, "that Prof. Mendell is today attending his first meetings of our organization, and so his contacts with our operation are just beginning. When he has had opportunity to observe the central office's rôle, not as dictator but as servant of the leagues and their member colleges, I trust that he will again make appraisal; I will be surprised if he then has the same criticisms to offer."

PAN-AMERICAN SWIMMING MEET WILL OPEN TODAY

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Jan. 17 (AP).—Swimming stars of six countries will open the second annual Pan-American meet tomorrow.

Competition, bringing together the stars of the United States, Brazil, Chile, Peru, Canal Zone, and Argentina, will continue Sunday and Tuesday, with a special program scheduled for Jan. 31. Exhibition meets also are scheduled at La Plata Jan. 21, Mar del Plata Jan. 25, and Parana Jan. 27.

United States entrants are Helene Rains, New York; Helen Perry, Cleveland; Helen Crienkovich, San Francisco; Waldemar Tomski, Tom Haynie, Taylor Drysdale, and Jack Cullimore, all of Detroit, and Al Green, Chicago.

Six Olympic Skaters Enter Elgin Meet

Six members of the United States' 1940 Olympic speed skating team, chosen last winter, will compete for Tri-State championships Sunday afternoon in Elgin.

Four are Chicagoans—Leo Freisinger, Al Kucera, Ed Schroeder and Bob Heckenbach. The other two are George Shimek of Cedar Rapids, Ia., who won THE TRIBUNE senior Silver Skates title last Sunday, and Delbert Lamb of Milwaukee.

This sextet will furnish the competition for Vic Ronchetti, defending champion. Ronchetti, defending the title last winter, scored a grand slam, winning the 440, half, mile, and 2 miles.

Elaine Bogda, defending women's champion, will find her title menaced by equally dangerous opposition. She will face America's fastest girl skater, Maddy Horn of Beaver Dam, Wis. Miss Horn has lowered most of the national records and last Sunday broke her own half mile mark by covering the distance in 1:25.9 in Escanaba, Mich. Shirley Jameson and Genevieve Sweirkos of the C. Y. O., who won THE TRIBUNE's senior girls' Silver Skates last Sunday, also will oppose Miss Bogda.

LITTLE, KRUEGER, STAHL TIE FOR $5,000 GOLF LEAD

Each Posts 70 in First Round at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 17 (AP).—Par proved tough today in the opening round of the 36 hole qualifying trials of the $5,000 San Francisco match play open golf tournament. Of the 175 shotmakers assembled, only 10 were able to tour the par 72 Lake Merced course under standard figures.

Tied for first place were three professionals, Lawson Little of Bretton Woods, N. H.; Marvin Stahl, Lansing, Mich., and Alvin Krueger, Beloit, Wis., all with 70s.

Krueger Falters on Second Nine.

Little, winner of the Los Angeles open two weeks ago, rapped out a pair of 35s, against the par 36-36 of the layout. Stahl, Michigan open champion, put together a 36 and 34. Krueger started with a three under par 33 for the first nine, but slipped on the second nine for a 37.

Seven were grouped at 71, including Dick Metz, Oak Park, Ill., who won the San Francisco open last year, and Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex., who walked off with top money in the Oakland open last week.

35 Fail to Finish.

Clayton Heafner, tree shot expert from Linville, N. C., tied with eight others in the par 72 class. Just as he did in the Los Angeles and Oakland opens, Heafner provided the tournament highlight by losing his ball on the sixth fairway. Instead of finding it in a tree, as he did in Oakland, he discovered it in the pocket of a loiterer. The ball was dropped without penalty.

Darkness prevented 35 players from finishing. They'll complete the opening round before the start of the second half of the qualifying tomorrow. Low 32 scores after tomorrow's play will compete in match play rounds, beginning Friday.

MIDDLE WEST.

I have some common stock of the Middle West Utilities company. Are the shares any good? What is the present condition of the company?—T. H.

Answer: The Middle West Utilities company went into receivership in 1932 at the time of the breakup of the Insull utility empire. It was succeeded in 1935 by the Middle West corporation, a holding company, as a result of reorganization under the national bankruptcy law.

Owners of the common stock in the old company were entitled to exchange each 100 shares for one share of capital stock and one stock purchase warrant of the new company. The exchange offer expired more than a year ago and the old stock is now deemed worthless.

Operating subsidiaries of the new company serve about 2,300 communities in the north central, middle west and southwestern states and in the province of Ontario, Canada. Electricity sales account for about four-fifths of gross revenues. The companies also furnish gas, water and ice.

The main subsidiary groups are headed by the following intermediate holding companies: Central and South West Utilities company, North West Utilities company, American Public Service company, Kentucky Utilities company, United Public Service corporation, and Middle West Utilities company of Canada, Ltd.

The parent company has outstanding 3,308,35 shares of $5 par capital stock. This issue is in effect junior to $200,639,370 of subsidiary funded debt and $100,999,627 of subsidiary preferred stocks. No dividend has been paid on the parent company's capital stock.

Middle West is hampered by the heavy accumulation of dividend arrears on the subsidiary preferred stocks. The arrears amounted to about 18½ million dollars at the end of 1938. The company's income is derived mainly from dividends on its stock holdings. With the preferred dividend arrears blocking payments, a large part of the common stock owned by Middle West does not produce income.

Cash payments or recapitalization would reduce or wipe out the arrears and pave the way for increased income for the parent company.

Consolidated operating revenues, net income, earnings per share of capital stock after excluding two partly controled companies were as follows:

	Operating revenues.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1938	$55,280,000	$1,633,000	$ .49
1937	59,780,000	1,896,000	.57
1936	61,095,000	2,678,000	.81

Net income in the first 9 months of 1939 climbed to $3,014,879, equal to 91 cents a share, from $1,897,271 or 56 cents a share in the corresponding 1938 period.

ICC DISCLOSES PLAN FOR 'MOP' ROAD'S REVISION

Capital and Charges Cut Drastically.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—The Interstate Commerce commission made public today its reorganization plan for the Missouri Pacific railroad system, which went into bankruptcy seven years ago. It included these major items:

Properties of all 26 debtor railroads in the system, along with three non-railroad properties, would be consolidated into a new company. The Missouri-Illinois railroad company would be omitted.

Total capitalization of the new company would be $560,900,000, a reduction of nearly $111,000,000 from the system's present figure.

Preferred and common stock would be declared valueless.

Equipment obligations totaling $13,715,000 would be left undisturbed.

Now Goes to Federal Court.

The plan now must be submitted to the federal district court at St. Louis and if approved there, must be endorsed by two-thirds of those voting in each class of creditors. The ICC fixed Jan. 1, 1940, as the effective date of the plan, even tho a long time may yet elapse before its completion.

Nine commissioners joined in the approval. Commissioner Carroll Miller concurred in the conclusions but disagreed with "certain principles" expressed by the majority. Commissioners Splawn and Patterson did not participate.

"The record is persuasive," the commission said, "that the proposed consolidation will result in benefit to the public, to the creditors of the debtors, and to such of their stockholders as may have an interest in the new company."

Roads Are Non-competitive.

The commission noted that the railroads marked for inclusion in the new company were not parallel or competitive and would not figure in any changes which might later be made under the ICC's vast rail consolidation program.

Capitalization after reorganization under the ICC plan would include: $13,715,000 of equipment obligations; $711,500 of Plaza-Olive building 15-year first mortgage bonds; $31,779,500 of series A first mortgage bonds; $126,921,000 of series B first mortgage bonds; $22,727,000 of series A general mortgage bonds; $97,934,000 of series B general mortgage bonds; $39,189,500 of prior preferred stock; $76,311,500 of second preferred stock and $136,756,400 of common stock.

The reorganization plan calls for total charges of $15,920,449 prior to dividends on stock. Charges for preferred dividends would total $5,775,050. Under the present system total charges prior to dividends are $25,598,514 and dividends on preferred stock are $3,509,505.

Excludes Missouri-Illinois Line.

The ICC said that the record did not warrant inclusion of the Missouri-Illinois railroad and that there was no evidence upon which it could base a plan for its separate reorganization. The commissioin said "It would be inadvisable at this time to include in any proposed consolidation the property of the Texas & Pacific railway company," in which the Missouri Pacific owns 75 per cent of the outstanding voting stock.

The commission declared that "certain economy may reasonably be expected to be effected," and that better service probably would result from continued operation as a system. Consolidation of the various companies will permit a simplified capital structure, the report said.

COPPER OFFICIAL URGES REVISION OF TRUST LAWS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—Cornelius F. Kelley, president of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, proposed today modification of the antitrust laws to permit industries to coöperate on matters of price and production under the eyes of the government and the consumer.

Offering this suggestion, Kelley told the monopoly investigating committee that some machinery for industry coöperation was needed to stabilize production and employment and eliminate excessive competition. The major purpose of such a system, Kelley said, would not be agreement on prices so much as "regulating the supply to the demand."

Kelley told the committee that American copper producers held prices at a "fictitious and artificial" level for several months after the stock market crash of 1929 because of the urgings of federal officials.

South Shore National to Observe First Birthday

The South Shore National bank on Saturday will celebrate its first anniversary by holding an open house. The South Shore reported deposits totaling $2,172,391 as of Dec. 31. Walter J. Riley, president, said that no public funds were included in this total. In November and December, he said, the bank made a net profit after setting up the necessary reserves.

U.S. Steel May Build Big Mill in Brazil Soon

New York, Jan. 17 [Special].—Plans for the construction of a $35,000,000 fully integrated steel plant in Brazil were reported today to have reached a stage where formal agreements are all that is required to carry the proposal into the construction stage. The United States Steel corporation and the Import-Export bank are the agencies described as participating in the venture.

In November a group of United States Steel engineers returned from a five month visit in Brazil, where they studied the accessibility of raw materials, availability of personnel, and markets. Their recommendations have not been revealed.

So far as the Import-Export bank is concerned, it was said in Washington today that no request for financing the project has yet been made.

Large Commitments Made.

The bank on Dec. 15 had an undisbursed commitment of $1,100,000 for United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel, and one of $7,000,000 for American Locomotive in Brazil, against which no drafts have thus far been made.

The program of the Brazilian and American interests interested in the development is to strengthen the Central Railroad of Brazil between the iron and manganese ore districts, which supply considerable tonnages of ore to American steel companies. They also seek to arrange for adequate imports of coking coal, not available in Brazil, and to create a steel center a few miles inland from Rio de Janeiro that will produce the first important steel tonnage in Latin America.

Ownership of the new mill, it is understood, would be vested in United States Steel, with Brizilian participation.

Ambassador Hopeful on Plan.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—Brazilian Ambassador Carlos Martins expressed hope tonight that negotiations with the United States Steel corporation might result in development of steel projects in his country. The corporation has been reported considering a $35,000,000 to $150,000,000 steel enterprise in Brazil.

Brazil has been reported to have about three-fifths of the world's iron ore deposits and is supposed to contain large sources of manganese. Until engineering experts made a survey recently, however, the supply of coal was considered doubtful. They were understood at the embassy to have found sufficient coal of good quality to make a steel foundry project feasible.

DEALERS' STOCKS OF USED CARS ARE CLOSE TO RECORD

Used car inventories of Cook county dealers on Jan. 1 stood at the highest level on record, with one exception, reports from 234 dealers to the Chicago Automobile Trade association disclosed yesterday.

Inventories were equal to 50.7 days' supply, which was exceeded only on March 1, 1939, when inventories equaled 52 days' supply. Inventories have been climbing steadily since last July 1, when only 28 days' supply of used cars was on hand.

Sales of used cars by the 234 dealers in December amounted to 6,523 units, and inventories totaled 10,995 units. Automobiles of 1938 vintage crowded showrooms, which reported a 75 days' supply on hand. The breakdown disclosed a 55 days' supply of 1939 models, a 57 days' supply of 1937 models, and a 56 days' supply of 1936 models.

ESTIMATE 11 PCT. FREIGHT GAIN IN ATLANTIC AREA

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 17 (AP).—An increase of 11 per cent in shipments for the first quarter of 1940 was forecast today by the Atlantic States Shippers' advisory board. Shipments were placed at 555,848 carloads, compared with 502,863 actual carloads in the first quarter of 1939.

The forecast included increases of 38 per cent in iron and steel shipments, 47 per cent in machinery and boilers, 25 per cent in flour and other mill products, and 10 per cent in coal and coke shipments.

Iron and steel shipments were estimated at 46,107 cars, compared with 33,421 actually loaded in the board's territory in the first three months of 1939.

Volini Elected Chairman of Banco di Napoli Trust

Italo F. Volini yesterday was elected chairman of the board of the Banco di Napoli Trust company. Volini, a director for the last eight years, succeeds Filippo Sgro as chairman. Sgro is president of the bank. Joshua D'Esposito, a director of the Terminal National bank, was elected to membership on the board of Banco di Napoli. All officers and directors of the Uptown State bank were re-elected at the annual meetings of stockholders and directors.

Federal Chiefs Meet on War Plane Problem

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 [Special].—Progress of army and navy air plane orders to date was reported to have been discussed at a conference today between President Roosevelt, Secretary Morgenthau, and officials of the army, navy, and other departments. Proposals of Britain and France to increase their present orders was also said to have been given consideration.

Any substantial increase in purchases would call for a further expansionof an aircraft industry already working overtime on army, navy, and foreign contracts, and would raise numerous problems of taxation, coördination, and financing.

Welcomed If Orderly.

Officials have indicated strongly, however, that a further expansion of manufacturing facilities, if orderly, would be welcomed as an aid to the national defense. Provided difficulties already evident can be ironed out, some manufacturers have expressed confidence that the vastly increased orders could be completed in 18 months or less without delaying requirements of the expanding army and navy air services.

Supplying the engines was reported to be the "bottleneck" of the problem. They take longer to make than the planes themselves, and material expansion of existing plants promises to involve foreign financing, which in turn would raise tax complexities with the treasury.

Report Empires Trail Germany.

Despite a substantial expansion of their own output, Britain and France are understood by official experts to trail Germany materially in air strength. The Germans have stepped up their production to more than 2,000 planes a month, according to reports accepted as reliable in official circles. This compares with possibly 1,500 monthly for the empires combined.

To overcome the margin the two governments together have ordered some 4,000 military planes in this country in the last 18 months, of which a fourth or more has been completed. Aircraft shipments to England and France were valued at $29,000,000 in December alone, helping to swell the total for all American exports to $358,000,000, the largest export total in nearly 10 years.

Franklin Life Insurance Reports 2½ Million Gain

Charles E. Becker, president of the Franklin Life Insurance company, Springfield, Ill., said yesterday that the company's insurance in force increased approximately 2½ million dollars in 1939. This brought total insurance in force to $177,579,145. Admitted assets increased $2,063,211 to $39,566,707. The company announced the appointment of A. V. Mozingo as manager of agencies in the south.

REPORTS BOTH CASH AND FUTURES PRICES FLUCTUATE IN UNISON

Futures trading does not cause a dislocation of agricultural price trends as compared with price movements in commodities for which futures contracts are unavailable, Deane W. Malott, chancellor of the University of Kansas, told members of the Association of Grain Commission Merchants at their annual meeting last night.

Deane W. Malott.

Malott stated that a two year study of wheat, cotton, and corn compared with beef, rice, wool, and peanuts, showed the same general rate and extent of price change. Prices paid to farmers followed market quotations in extent and duration of movement, he said. Malott found no correlation between price changes and the volume of futures transactions.

There seems little to fear from speculative excesses, he declared, because of the rigid rules of commodity exchanges and the government. Such crazes as the Dutch tulip fiasco of 1630 are not likely to return, he assured.

AIR CONDITIONING SALES INCREASE 5 PCT. FOR YEAR

Installations of air conditioning apparatus in Chicago during 1939 were 5 per cent above those of 1938, the Commonwealth Edison company reported yesterday. Temperature control contracts numbered 332 with a combined capacity of 4,720 horsepower, compared with 315 contracts and 4,902 horsepower reported in 1938.

Restaurants led all classifications with 92 installations during last year. General offices were second with 61 contracts. There were 39 drug store installations.

The company announced sales of room coolers in 1939 numbered 854, a new record, against 368 in 1938.

The highest saturation to date has been reached in the theater field, where 69 per cent have air conditioning. Shoe stores rank second with 16 per cent. Restaurants are third with 13 per cent.

State Employment Office Places More Workers

The Illinois employment service found 1,239 more jobs for workers during December than a year earlier, Martin P. Durkin, state labor director, announced yesterday. He said 13,058 were employed thru the service during the month. Chicago and suburban area offices found jobs for 5,548.

VISION AND SUPERVISION

Few individuals can honestly claim to perceive all that is happening in the world today. Fewer still can claim ability to foresee the effect of each day's events on the future of investment values.

Moody's believes that in the present confused situation a mature organization has advantages denied to any one man working alone. Having adequate time, manpower, experience and group judgment such an organization will inevitably make fewer mistakes and achieve better results than an individual working alone.

If you find the formulation and supervision of a sound investment program to be a difficult problem today, we should like to discuss with you how Moody's Services can be of help and benefit to you.

WHEAT PRICES ARE LIFTED BY FOREIGN BUYING

Gain 1½ to 1⅞ Cents; Corn Higher.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the May delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday:

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$1.01⅛	$ .99¼	$ .69⅝
Corn	.58⅛	.58	.52⅛
Oats	.39¾	.39¾	.29⅛
Rye	.69¼	.68½	.47½
Soy beans	1.12	1.14¼	.83½

Importing countries of Europe and the orient yesterday showed much more interest in supplies of grain for forward shipment, which had some effect on American markets. Wheat prices on the Chicago Board of Trade advanced more than 2 cents at one time and closed at gains of 1½ to 1⅞ cents. Corn finished ¼ cent higher.

Japan was reported to have purchased a large amount of Australian wheat in the last few days, and Russia was said to have taken about 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat for shipment to Vladivostok. Norway, it was understood, was inquiring for about 400,000 bushels of American corn following purchases of a like amount earlier in the week.

Recent Buying Heavy.

Since Jan. 1, it was estimated, importing countries purchased about 125,000,000 bushels of wheat, corn, barley, and other grains from surplus producing countries. Part of the grain, however, will not be shipped for a number of months due to scarcity of ocean freight room and the necessity of arranging for naval convoys to England.

Unconfirmed reports that the department of agriculture was considering resuming the payment of an export subsidy on wheat and flour from the Pacific coast had to do with the late strength in the market. Houses with eastern connections were fairly active buyers. Extremely cold weather over part of the winter wheat belt helped the upturn.

England bought cash lard from Chicago packers yesterday, but the amounts were not disclosed. This is said to be the first time that country has been in the market for liberal supplies in several weeks.

Corn Range Narrow.

Corn prices held within narrow limits with scattered commission house selling checking the advance. South Africa was reported to have prohibited additional export sales of corn until March 31 as the result of drouth. Harvesting in that country normally starts in May, or about a month after the new Argentine crop is available for shipment abroad.

Buenos Aires corn futures were ⅛ cent lower in the early trading yesterday, but rallied later. The May delivery of corn on the Buenos Aires exchange is selling near 40 cents a bushel, or about 18 cents under the same future on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Soy bean futures dropped to their lowest point since early last month, May contracts falling to $1.10¼ and July to $1.07¼ a bushel. At those levels, from which they recovered about 2 cents, soy beans were down 6½ cents from their best prices Monday and about 22 cents under peaks on Dec. 19.

FOUNDATION PLAN PLEADS GUILTY ON FRAUD CHARGE

New York, Jan. 17 [Special]. — A plea of guilty to charges of fraud in the sale of investments by Foundation Plan, Inc., was entered for that corporation in federal court today by Robert Deans, vice president and treasurer. The organization was enjoined from practices similar to those alleged in the indictment, in an order issued Dec. 20 by Judge Vincent L. Leibell.

Three former officials of the company also changed previous pleas, and admitted their guilt today before Judge Leibell. They were Harry C. Williams, former president; Kirk C. Tuttle, secretary, and Benjamin Blumenthal, who was sales manager in Massachusetts.

Joseph L. Delaney, assistant United States attorney, said the soundness of the company has not been questioned. The fraud, however, arose from methods used in selling certificates, Delaney said. Purchasers were not informed of service charges that ate up 80 per cent of the money they paid during the first year, Delaney said. And when they had paid in enough money to cover the charges levied against their first investment, they were "reloaded," it was charged.

Sentence was deferred.

Stock Exchange Takes Peep in Mirror and Gets a Shock

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—Taking a peep in the mirror of public opinion, the New York Stock exchange discovered some persons believe it's a live stock market.

The mirror was held up to the nation's leading marketplace for stocks and bonds in a survey of the beliefs of 5,000 persons in all walks of life, conducted for the exchange by an outside agency.

Flashes of popular impressions from the survey made public today included:

About 78 per cent of those interviewed knew it was a market for stocks and bonds, but 8.7 thought live stock could be bought and sold there, and 24.2 believed grain was handled, too.

See "All One Big Control."

Forty-two and four-tenths per cent believed the exchange was controled by the same people who controled "practically all big business in America."

Only 25 per cent believed the small buyer received the same treatment as the large buyer.

Some 60 per cent opined anybody buying stocks and bonds was speculating and 52.1 per cent said "speculation" and "gambling" were the "same thing."

Forty-four and six-tenths per cent thought only "insiders" [corporate officials, directors, and others "in the know"] earned money in the stock market over a period of time.

Nearly 40 per cent thought the exchange profited when the public lost in the market.

Only 18.4 per cent were certain the exchange, on its own account, neither bought nor sold.

Some Believe Prices Are Fixed.

Some 23.5 per cent said it was "true" stock prices were fixed by the rulers of the exchange.

The magazine said the "survey helps to indicate the kind and extent of the misconceptions that prevail about the stock exchange and the brokerage business." Nevertheless, a predominantly understanding attitude was reported. Interviewers classified 3,062 as "not at all critical," 1,617 as "somewhat critical," and 360 as "extremely critical."

Feminine views carried weight in the survey for nearly 41 per cent of those queried were described as housekeepers.

The exchange's organ said the extent of popular misinformation about the big market at Broad and Wall streets "can only be regarded as amazing." It concluded there was need for informing the public more accurately on the stock exchange's work.

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO REPORTS SIX MILLION GAIN IN 1939 INCOME

A gain of more than $6,000,000 was disclosed yesterday in 1939 net income of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. The total was $26,211,568, after all charges, compared with $20,192,650 in 1938. After dividends on the preferred stock there was a balance equal to $3.34 a common share, against $2.56 a share in 1938. December net income was $2,319,348, compared with $1,568,009 in December, 1938.

Net operating income, before fixed charges, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for 1939 was $25,525,000, compared with $14,852,000 for 1938. Daniel Willard, president, said gross revenues were $161,030,000, an increase of 19.5 per cent over 1938.

England Plans to Redeem 4½ Pct. Conversion Loan

LONDON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the house of commons today that 4½ per cent conversion loan issued in 1924, about £350,000,000 [nearly $1,400,000,000] of which is outstanding, will be repaid at the earliest opportunity. The conversion loan was due to be paid 1940-44. Simon said holders will be given cash or a new short term conversion loan at 2 per cent.

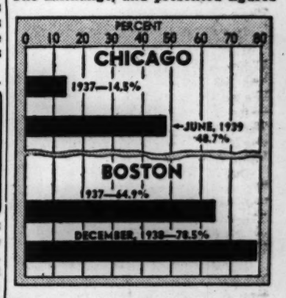
CHICAGO, OTHER STOCK MARKETS TAKE N. Y. TRADE

Trend Laid to State Transfer Tax.

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—The New York Stock exchange reported today there was "a definite shift of securities business away from New York" to Chicago, Boston, and other cities.

Blaming the New York state transfer taxes on share transactions in part for Wall street's loss of business, the exchange said it would push efforts in this session of the state legislature for lowering of the transfer taxes to meet the competition.

The exchange criticized the tax at length in its monthly publication, The Exchange, and presented figures purporting to show relative growth of dealings on other exchanges.



This chart shows how trading in stocks listed on the New York Stock exchange has increased on the Chicago and Boston markets. The percentages are the proportion of transactions in such stocks to the total volume in certain periods.

Particularly affected, it explained, have been transactions in "odd lots"—less than the standard 100 shares.

Odd lot trade, it said, was influenced by "double taxation" in New York state.

The legislature, it was recalled, voted in 1938 to eliminate the double transfer tax on odd lot transactions, but Gov. Lehman failed to sign the bill.

Other Markets Show Gains.

The Exchange said the trend to other cities "portends a permanent decline" for the New York market if the situation is allowed to continue.

It noted 75 per cent of the orders executed for the public on the exchange come from investors outside the state.

Altho the Chicago Stock exchange had only 14.5 per cent of its total trading volume in New York listed stocks in 1937, the publication said, the figure had risen to 48.7 per cent by June, 1939. The Boston Stock exchange increased its trade in New

New York Stocks.

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—A few leaders posted gains in the stock market today as the rest of the list held to a narrow path near yesterday's closing figures. Indicating the lack of interest was the fact transfers totaled only 473,970 shares compared with 536,280 yesterday. It was the smallest volume since Dec. 4.

Most of the buying was of a selective order and characterized by investment, rather than professional, demand.

The course of the war in Europe and the many different interpretations of what was happening in Washington legislative halls were said by brokers to have caused traders to delay in taking a position. The old excuse of "technical stalemate" was heard from time to time, indicating the followers of the chart theory had not made up their minds what the next few days would bring in the course of market moves.

At one time motors seemed to be a little runup when estimates showed the first 10 days of January had boosted dealer sales more than 25 per cent above 1939. The excitement fizzled quickly.

At the finish markups were registered for American Telephone, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, American Can, Philip Morris, Phelps Dodge, American Tobacco "B," United States Gypsum, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, and Consolidated Edison.

Cluett Peabody reached a 1939-'40 high, up more than a point. Many of the rails, such as Santa Fe, Southern Railway, and Chesapeake and Ohio, were sought at fractional advances. Losers included du Pont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Sears Roebuck, and Great Northern.

New York Bonds.

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—A smart rally in railroad issues bolstered the bond market in the final hour of trading today. Gains of fractions to more than a point were frequent in the domestic group at the finish. The foreign dollar division failed to join the movement.

Brokers said it was the ICC approval of a reorganization plan for the long bankrupt Missouri Pacific railroad that finally got buyers into the market for rail liens. A half dozen "MOP" loans emerged with gains up to 1¼ points.

Norway 4s and 4½s dropped 3¾ and 4 points, respectively, in the foreign group, and Finland 6s yielded 2%.

United States government loans stayed in the background with gains up to 6-32 of a point, balanced by like declines in some of the longer treasury maturities.

Chicago Stocks.

Advances predominated in trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Rath Packing spurted 4¾ to a new high at 25¾ on buying presumably stimulated by announcement of a stock dividend. Northwest Bancorporation advanced ½ to reach a new high at 11¾.

Commonwealth Edison was the volume leader on sales of 2,050 shares. The stock closed unchanged at 31¾. Marshall Field lost ⅛ to close at 13¾, and Middle West corporation dropped an equal fraction to 8¾.

Bank Stocks.

The bid price of Northern Trust stock declined three points yesterday to 562. Continental Illinois rose half a point to 92½. Other issues were steady.

SHOE COMPANY REPORTS LARGE GAIN IN PROFIT

Endicott-Johnson Earns $3.07 a Share.

The Endicott Johnson corporation, shoe manufacturer, yesterday reported a net profit of $1,611,368, or $3.07 a common share, for the year ended Nov. 30, 1939. In the preceding year profit was $857,191, or $1.21 a share.

Sales of the company increased 13.12 per cent, George W. Johnson, president, announced. The total was $58,525,022, against $51,734,973 in 1938.

Detroit Edison company and subsidiaries reported 1939 net income of $9,640,295, or $7.57 a share, against $7,833,305, or $6.16 a share, in the year ended Dec. 31, 1938. The company's electricity output last year was 16.3 per cent larger than in 1938, but was 2.8 per cent smaller than in 1937.

Reports Profit Upturn.

Public Service corporation of New Jersey placed its 1939 net income at $25,727,763, or $2.88 per common share, in a preliminary report. In 1938 the holding company, whose subsidiaries supply most major urban areas in New Jersey with gas, light, and transportation services, had net income of $22,733,245, or $2.34 a share.

The corporation's December net income was reported at $2,143,079, against $3,039,546 in December, 1938. The smaller income last month was explained by increases in deductions due to a reserve to be set up against possible losses that may be incurred in certain inter-company adjustments, and by a decrease in the income received other than that from subsidiaries' operations.

Cösden Petroleum corporation reported December net profit of $23,765 after fixed charges, against a net loss of $36,781 in December, 1938.

Hotel Firm Earns Less.

Bowman-Biltmore Hotels corporation, operator of the Hotel Commodore in New York City, reported 1939 net profit of $60,137 before amortization and federal income taxes. Net profit was $68,594 in 1938. December profit was $8,006, against $15,778 in December, 1938.

POWER TO FORCE RAIL ECONOMIES SOUGHT BY ICC

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—The Interstate Commerce commission called today for a new legislation to assist in its efforts toward railroad economies. The suggestion was made in a report by Commissioner Claude E. Porter on an investigation of duplicate produce terminals at Denver, Colo.

One of the terminals is operated by the Union Pacific and the other jointly by the Burlington, Colorado and Southern, Denver and Rio Grande Western, Santa Fe, and Rock Island railroads.

Porter said: "When officers persist in feeling that their obligation to their railroad requires the building of two produce terminals where only one is needed, and the consequent needless expenditures of hundreds of thousands of dollars, it would seem that the public interest in a healthy transportation system demands that the future be made more secure against such practices. This we are now forced to believe can be accomplished only by additional legislation."

Court Refuses to Dismiss Corporation Securities Suit

Defendants in the suit to recover approximately $55,000,000 brought by Sam Howard, receiver of the defunct Insull controled Corporation Securities company of Chicago, yesterday were denied by Superior Judge John J. Lupe their motion to strike out the complaint. The defendants are former directors of the Securities Holding company. The complaint charges them with liability for losses to investors suffered in the company's bankruptcy.

COTTON

Foreign selling of futures in American cotton markets had a depressing effect in early trading yesterday. Mills bought on the decline and there was also support from speculative interests. Closing trades were 13 cent higher to 08 cent a pound lower.

Houses with Bombay connections were the largest sellers of cotton futures in New York. India was also a seller in Liverpool. The latter market declined early but rallied late in the session. Foreign markets have lost ground on New York in the last few days.

Scarcity of ocean freight room is resulting in supplies of American cotton piling up at Atlantic and gulf ports, it is reported.

Spot cotton closed 05 cent higher to 02 cent lower with New York 11.30 cents, Galveston 10.80, and Houston at 10.78 cents a pound. Prices follow:

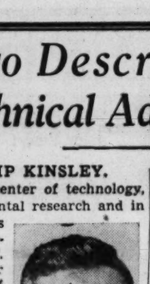
Chicago Described as Center of Technical Advance by Heald

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Chicago as a center of technology, both in fundamental research and in application, was described yesterday by Henry T. Heald, 37 year old president of Armour institute. He gave the address of welcome to the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers at the opening of their 35th annual meeting at the Blackstone hotel.



Henry T. Heald.

Engineers have been in the forefront of Chicago's growth in packing, steel, transportation, printing and 200 other industries, Heald said. He recalled that the first steel frame building, the skyscraper, was developed here, as well as the first wireless telephone experiments, the teletype, addressograph, comptometer, the modern bascule bridge, and modern sewage disposal.

Technological Frontier Remains.

"The geographical frontier may be gone," he said, "but technological pioneering is still going on. Rapid and significant developments are in sight for the next few years. The engineers' responsibility is now with the social significance of the civilization they have created. We do not have blighted areas because we do not know how to build houses, but because there is a lack of appreciation of what the engineers have developed. They must help society to use things wisely."

In the last year, Heald said, plans had increased for the effectiveness of technological education in Chicago. He mentioned the Northwestern Institute of Technology, now building, and the Armour and Lewis institutes' combination now in process of formation. The Armour Research Foundation, he said, had served 400 industries in the last three years. He mentioned the Antarctic snow cruiser as showing that technological pioneering is still going on. This huge vehicle is now being unloaded on the ice for use in the United States navy antarctic expedition.

Throng to Conventions.

More than a thousand refrigeration and air conditioning engineers and service men are attending conventions at the Blackstone and the Stevens hotels. The huge exhibit hall of the Stevens is filled with the latest developments in these lines, including air conditioned automobiles. Gardner Poole of Boston is president of the society.

Conferences on corrosion problems and on the importance of refrigeration in agricultural research will be held today. The refrigeration of foods, including the tenderizing of beef by means of ultra-violet light, will be discussed tomorrow. Ultra-violet light has also been developed to sterilize food in the merchants' refrigerator. The instrument tunes in on wave bands most deadly to germ life and irradiates the food with this process.

CHICAGO, OTHER MARKETS TAKE NEW YORK TRADE

Loss of Business Laid to Transfer Tax.

York listed stocks from 64.9 per cent of total volume in 1937 to 78.5 per cent by the end of 1938.

It cited similar trends in Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and San Francisco.

Total business of outside exchanges in New York listed stocks formed 22.5 per cent of the total odd lot volume on the New York exchange in the first half of 1939, against 18.4 per cent the last half of 1938, 13.4 per cent the first half of 1938, and 11.6 per cent during 1937, the publication added. Figures for last half of 1939, it said, will show continuance of this trend.

Grants Unlisted Privileges.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission authorized the Cincinnati Stock exchange today to conduct unlisted trading in American Rolling Mill, City Ice and Fuel, Columbia Gas and Electric, General Motors, and Timken Roller Bearing common stocks.

It refused to grant similar privileges for common stock of Standard Brands, Inc., because the exchange had not presented sufficient evidence of ownership of that stock in its vicinity.

All of these issues are now fully listed on the New York Stock exchange.

Bill Sets Up State SEC.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 17 (Special).—Creation of a state securities and exchange commission with much wider powers than those now exercised under the New York antistock fraud law is proposed in a bill introduced in the legislature today by Assemblyman Robert F. Wagner Jr. (D., N. Y.).

Altho the present law gives the attorney general power to punish those who sell fraudulent securities, the proposed new state SEC would have supervisory powers over those who issue stock. Administration would be by a three man commission.

Brokers would be required to post $10,000 bonds to guarantee compliance with the law and also would be required to submit semiannual reports on their financial condition.

AID TO SEC. HULL URGES EXTENSION OF TREATIES ACT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—Taking sharp issue with a Republican contention that reciprocal trade agreements constituted a "share-our-wealth" program, Henry F. Grady, assistant secretary of state, urged congress today to extend the executive power to negotiate the treaties. Grady appeared before the house ways and means committee.

When Representative Knutson (R., Minn.), a committee member argued that the program was a wealth-sharing idea, Grady replied that industry in the United States, with higher pay for labor and shorter hours, "still can produce and compete in world markets." He said that half of America's exports were manufactured goods.

Only three reciprocity treaties have ever won congressional approval, he said, and 22 failed of ratification. In contrast, he said, 22 treaties had been reached under Secretary's Hull's program.

Grady said farmers had received millions of dollars of added income since the advent of the trade program.

Federal Surplus Agency Asks for Bids on Lard

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation asked today for bids on pork lard for distribution among families on relief. Officials said the quantity bought would depend largely on the bids submitted. In December, the corporation bought 50,000 pounds of lard in inaugurating distribution of this product to relieve a surplus situation.

Business Bits

Walter F. Mullady.

Walter F. Mullady, president of the Decatur Cartage company, yesterday was appointed to the transportation committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, C. J. Whipple, vice president in charge of transportation for the association, announced. The appointment of Mullady marks the association's first recognition of the trucking industry with respect to membership on this committee, which previously was composed almost entirely of railroad representatives.

Norman B. Schreiber, professional lecturer in industrial management at the Armour Institute of Technology, will address members of the Clearing manufacturing district at the Clearing club tonight on "Diagnosis of Business."

William R. Mee of Laing, Mee & Co., Peoria, Ill., has been named field secretary for district No. 8 of the National Association of Securities Dealers. Mee will undertake the preliminary handling of cases in the field for the business conduct committee and various local business conduct committees of the district.

S. B. Berg and J. L. McIntyre were elected directors of the Cherry-Burrell corporation at the annual meeting, replacing A. H. Barber and C. S. Bassett, both retired. No changes were made in the officers of the company.

The election of G. J. Keady as executive vice president of the Sharples corporation, Philadelphia, was announced by P. T. Sharples, president of the corporation. Keady formerly was general sales manager of the centrifugal and process engineering firm.

Leo A. Long of Lampson Brothers & Co., was elected president of the La Salle Street Cashiers. Lester Ackerson of S. B. Chapin & Co., was elected vice president; Edward H. Zell, E. H. Rollins & Sons, treasurer, and Whitney M. Sewart, the Chicago Stock exchange, secretary.

Officials of the Copperweld Steel company, Glassport, Pa., announceed the election of Sidney D. Williams as vice president. He is director of sales of the company's new steel division at Warren, O.

Clarence Francis, president of the General Foods corporation, will be principal speaker at the 33d annual dinner of the Traffic Club of Chicago today at the Palmer House.

PENSION PLANS LIBERALIZED BY BELL COMPANIES

The Illinois Bell Telephone company and other Bell system companies yesterday announced that the operation of sickness disability and old age pension plans was altered as of Jan. 1 to liberalize the benefits paid employés.

Formerly employés with 10 years' service or more were entitled to a maximum of 13 weeks' full pay and 39 weeks half pay in the event of sickness. Now workers with 15 years' service are entitled to 26 weeks full pay and 26 weeks half pay; 20 year employés may receive 39 weeks full pay and 13 weeks half pay, and employés with 25 years or more of service are entitled to a full year's pay. Benefits for workers with 2 to 14 years' service are unchanged.

Findlay S. Douglas Gets Post with Universal Cement

New York, Jan. 17 (AP).—Findlay S. Douglas, widely known in golfing circles, has been appointed assistant to the president of Universal Atlas Cement company, a subsidiary of United States Steel corporation. He was formerly a special representative at New York. Douglas won the United States amateur golf championship in 1898, a year after coming to America from his native Scotland, and served as president of the United State Golf association in 1929-'30. He is now president of the United States Seniors' Golf association.

MANY MILLIONS OF PWA'S LOANS ARE DEFAULTED

Lend to Water Works that Have No Water.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—More than 51 million dollars, par value, in bonds purchased by the Public Works administration are in default, it was disclosed today. Information on the defaults was demanded from PWA officials and placed in the record of secret hearings on the 1941 independent offices appropriation bill before a house appropriations subcommittee, a study of the record showed.

The information was requested by Representatives Richard B. Wigglesworth [R., Mass.] and Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.], members of the subcommittee. Most of the bonds are now held by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, which received them from the PWA.

Mainly for Utilities.

They are principally municipal obligations, the proceeds of which were to have been used for local utilities. The record of explanations for delinquency shows, among other things, that waters works were often abandoned because of inability to obtain water, or because reservoirs failed, or the water proved of poor quality.

In commenting on the defaults while appearing before the subcommittee, Col. E. W. Clark, acting commissioner of the PWA, said:

"If you will pardon me, you will understand some of these are curable. They are liable to be cured. They are not gone goslings."

Three defaults on railroad loans are on notes held by the RFC. They include: Erie railroad collateral notes of $4,180,000, with defaults of $1,138,000 in principal and $91,040 in interest; secured notes of New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, amounting to $4,070,265, on which there is a default on principal of $449,265; and collateral notes of the New York, Ontario and Western railroad, totaling $7,454, all in default.

Delinquency Is $1,898,280.

The actual principal and interest delinquencies on the issues held by the PWA, amounted to $1,898,280, as of Dec. 15, 1939, according to supplementary information furnished to the subcommittee. The biggest holdings in default were on Nebraska power projects.

These were $9,268,000 in Loup river, public power district, 4 per cent serial revenue debentures, on which the interest default amounted to $595,960, and $8,776,000 in Platte Valley public power and irrigation district, 4 per cent serial revenue debentures, on which delinquent interest totaled $969,720. In each case "project in development stage" was given as the reason for delinquency.

The RFC held 41 Illinois municipal issues which were delinquent as to principal or interest on Dec. 15. With two exceptions holdings were under $100,000. These were $107,000 in Georgetown 4 per cent water works revenue bonds, on which defaults amounted to $16,625 in principal and interest, and $137,000 in Virden 4 per cent water revenue bonds, on which defaults amounted to $23,877. In both cases insufficient earnings were given as the reason for default. RFC's Illinois holdings in default totaled $1,906,921, par value.

The PWA holdings in default included only two Illinois issues on Dec. 15.

STEEL OUTPUT HIGH, BUT CUTS ORDER BACKLOG

The nation's steel industry is maintaining a relatively high rate of production largely at the expense of order backlogs, the magazine Iron Age said yesterday in its weekly review.

Steel ingot production, the magazine reported, declined only one point this week to 85 per cent of theoretical capacity. Altho orders on hand are sustaining the rate at present, the publication said, backlogs are continuing to decrease because new business has not returned to the pre-Christmas holiday levels. New orders are currently averaging about 50 per cent of shipments, according to the review.

"Many consumers," the publication asserted, "are living off their inventories, which, tho still not dangerously high, are sufficient in many instances to carry thru the next month or two and longer if consumption should decline. Considering this situation steel companies do not expect much change in the rate of new buying until mid-February at the earliest. Meanwhile there will probably be a gradual reduction in steel operations."

POWER OUTPUT RISES FOR 2D STRAIGHT WEEK

Production by the nation's light and power industry moved higher last week for the second consecutive period since the holiday lull.

Output totaled 2,592,767,000 kilowatt hours, a gain of 4.8 per cent over 2,473,397,000 in the preceding week and 14.2 per cent over 2,269,846,000 a year ago. The increase, however, was less than seasonally expected, the Edison Electric institute reported.

Output of the Commonwealth Edison company group [Chicago] for the week gained 11.5 per cent over a year ago to 163,084,000 kilowatt hours. A year ago production totaled 146,218,000.

Weather Cuts Shipments; Butter and Eggs Higher

With shipments curtailed because of the cold weather, butter and egg futures sold higher on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. January butter futures advanced 0.25 cent a pound to 29.25 cents. January refrigerator eggs were up 0.4 cent a dozen at 15.80 cents, while fresh graded firsts gained half a cent to 18.75 cents. In the wholesale egg market prices jumped ¾ to 1 cent a dozen.

CARTER LOSES PLEA FOR DELAY IN COAL SCHEDULE PROTEST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—The Carter Coal company, which once fought minimum prices for soft coal in the Supreme court and won, lost today in an attempt to obtain more time for filing objections to new proposed prices.

Howard A. Gray, director of the bituminous coal division, denied a motion of Carter and 26 other producers and consumers which he said "would have extended the date for promulgating prices a minimum of six months from the close of the hearing."

The Carter company contended additional time was required for study of the voluminous record of hearings carried on since last spring on proposed prices for the sale of all bituminous coal at the mine.

Gray said, the way had been cleared for an early court decision on constitutionality of the bituminous coal act. This had been made possible, he said, by a federal District court ruling dismissing a claim by the Sunshine Anthracite Coal company of Clarksville, Ark., that its coal was not bituminous. His division, Gray said, previously had designated the company's product bituminous coal and therefore subject to minimum price and marketing regulations.

The Sunshine company is an affiliate of the Binkley Coal company of Chicago.

FACTORY OUTPUT SETS NEW PEAK FOR PEACE TIME

December Total Is Far Above Average.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 17 (AP).—The federal reserve board said today that American factories turned out more goods last month than in any December in American peacetime history.

The board rated December's industrial production on a seasonally adjusted basis at 128 per cent of the 1923-'25 average. This was the highest index figure ever estimated by the board, exceeding the 125 previous record of June, 1929. However, officials said that this was a statistical illusion. Actual production of goods was higher in the spring and early summer of 1929, but it did not show up in the index so much because of seasonal factors. Also, officials said, present index figures should not be compared with 1929 unless allowance is made for the growth of the nation's population, factory capacity, and factory efficiency.

A decline in the index was predicted for January. Altho production increased somewhat this month, the gain was not as much as is expected seasonally.

In December, the board said, production actually declined from November's high levels, but the index rose from 124 to 128 because the decline was less than was expected seasonally between those two months.

INVENTOR WINS $100,000 AWARD ON STOCK RIGHTS

Wladimir J. Polydoroff, Russian born inventor, was awarded a judgment for $100,000 against Victor S. Johnson and the Johnson Laboratories, Inc., in a verdict returned by a jury before Judge Daniel P. Trude yesterday.

Polydoroff lives at 301 Lawndale avenue, Wilmette. He is a consulting engineer. He testified he was an officer in the Russian navy under the last czar.

In his suit, brought by Attorney Edward R. Adams, he charged Johnson failed to deliver 5 per cent of the stock of the laboratories promised to Polydoroff in return for assigning patent rights to his inventions to the company.

Witnesses testified one of his devices, called the Polydoroff core, made possible the manufacture of smaller and more compact radios. The jury verdict fixed $100,000 as the value of the stock Polydoroff said he was to have received.

Braniff Places Four New Douglas Planes in Service

EXTENT OF TRADE RECOVERY PUT UP TO GOVERNMENT

Business Encouragement Needed, Says Banker.

New York, Jan. 17 [Special].—The extent of business improvement in 1940 will depend on how far the government is willing to go in encouraging business to take the risks necessary to broaden the recovery movement, Percy H. Johnston, chairman of the Chemical Bank and Trust company, told stockholders at the annual meeting today.

Percy H. Johnston.

"The wealth of our country," he said, "is not increased by taking it from one and giving it to another."

Johnston declared that the United States is suffering from "an overdose of reform and a dearth of the good old fashioned principles—backbone and common sense."

War and Election Factors.

The European war and the presidential campaign will also influence business this year, he predicted.

William C. Potter, chairman of the Guaranty Trust company, said at the annual meeting that the "somewhat exaggerated" ideas which prevailed at the beginning of the European war regarding possibilities of an American business boom have been considerably modified.

Potter added, however, that it is still generally believed that the war will stimulate domestic and foreign business.

"It would be unreasonable to expect an early change in the easy money conditions that have prevailed in recent years," he said, citing the large excess funds at the disposal of banks.

40 Per Cent of Assets in Cash.

"An examination of leading New York City banks at the close of 1939 showed that nearly 40 per cent of their total assets were in cash, and nearly 71 per cent in cash and government securities."

The Irving Trust company made every effort to increase its loans during 1939, Harry E. Ward, president, informed stockholders. Total loans and discounts of the bank increased from $150,716,597 at the end of 1938 to $189,750,533 on Dec. 31, 1939, he said.
